Chairman & Managing Director's Message

Empowering
Connectivity,
Enabling Growth

“At Suyog, we are not just building telecom towers — we are building the backbone of a digitally inclusive India.”

Dear Stakeholders,

It gives me immense pride to present to you the Annual Report of Suyog Telematics Limited for FY 2024-25. This year has been one of consolidation, growth, and forward-looking innovation, as we continue to shape India's digital backbone. The telecommunications industry is undergoing rapid transformation, driven by unprecedented data consumption, the rollout of 5G networks, and the convergence of fibre, towers, and emerging satellite technologies. Against this backdrop, Suyog Telematics has reinforced its position as a trusted infrastructure partner, while laying the foundation for future growth.

Chairman & Managing Director's Message

Industry Landscape and Our Role

India is one of the world's largest data markets, with over half a billion internet users and among the highest per capita data consumption globally. This surge is driven by affordable mobile services, digital inclusion, and the transition from 4G to 5G — a structural shift enabling digitalisation, IoT, and direct-to-device connectivity.

Telecom towers, supported by fibre backhaul, remain the cornerstone of India's connectivity. While satellite communication is gaining global interest, its role in India is likely to stay limited to niche cases due to high costs and user density. For a price-sensitive market like ours, terrestrial infrastructure remains the most scalable and reliable solution.

Suyog Telematics stands at the intersection of these trends. Our assets — spanning macro towers, small cell infrastructure, fibre optic networks, rooftop towers, government sites, and innovative deployments in challenging urban and semi-urban areas — position us as one of the few infrastructure providers capable of enabling the next stage of India's digital revolution.

Highlights of FY 2024-25

This year, we have achieved significant milestones that underline our growth trajectory:

→ Strategic Expansion into Delhi Circle

The acquisition of Lotus Tele Infra added 120 sites in one of India's most competitive markets, strengthening our Pan-India footprint with tenancies from Bharti Airtel and Reliance Jio and significant scope for growth.

→ Strengthening Small Cell and Government Site Portfolio

With 4,000+ small cell tenancies supporting 5G rollouts and partnerships across metro projects, highways, bus depots, and CCTV poles, we have built a portfolio of high-demand, low-risk sites that enhance resilience and revenues.

→ Innovation through R&D

We have initiated trials for zinc-based batteries as a cost-efficient alternative to lithium, and developed vertical wiring solutions for FTTH to improve efficiency. In parallel, we are evaluating low-cost SMPS systems. These initiatives underscore our commitment to cost reduction, sustainability, and future readiness.

→ Operational Efficiency and Reliability

Our in-house maintenance, power management upgrades, and automation initiatives have strengthened service reliability. By streamlining O&M, billing, vendor management, and warehouse systems, we are ensuring higher uptime and cost-efficient operations.

Strategic Direction – Building for Tomorrow

Looking ahead, we have set ambitious yet achievable near-term goals:

- ➔ Macro Tower Addition: More than 3,000 cumulative macro towers targeted for Vodafone and BSNL by FY26.
- ➔ MTNL Expansion: Over 500 new towers scheduled for the Mumbai Circle in FY26.
- ➔ Small Cell Growth: At least 1,000 new small cell sites to enhance urban 5G coverage in FY26.

Our way forward is shaped by the following pillars:

- ➔ 5G-Ready Urban Infrastructure: Expanding our high-power small cell network to power urban connectivity.
- ➔ Rural 5G Rollout: Extending digital access to villages through Rural Lean Sites (RLS).
- ➔ Revolutionary FTTH Solutions: Delivering ultra-high-speed broadband to homes and enterprises.
- ➔ Fiber Boost: Fiberizing towers to accelerate 5G deployment.
- ➔ Inorganic Growth: Pursuing strategic acquisitions to broaden our portfolio and scale.

Together, these initiatives will not only meet the immediate requirements of our telecom partners but also create long-term shareholder value.

Commitment to Stakeholders

Our progress has always been rooted in the strength of our relationships. We recognise that our employees, partners, and customers are central to everything we achieve. By empowering our people with the right opportunities and resources, we nurture a culture of innovation and accountability. Through strong collaborations with our partners, we are able to enhance operational efficiency and deliver reliable solutions. Above all, we remain focused on creating long-term value for our customers by ensuring connectivity that is seamless, resilient, and future-ready. Together, these relationships form the foundation of our continued growth and our ability to contribute meaningfully to India's digital journey.

Closing Note

Suyog Telematics has come a long way from being a single-circle operator to becoming a Pan-India infrastructure provider with a robust and diversified portfolio. As we step into FY26, we do so with confidence — built on our strong foundation, guided by innovation, and inspired by the possibilities of India's digital future.

I am confident that with your unwavering support, we will continue to create value for all stakeholders and play a pivotal role in shaping India's telecom ecosystem.

Warm regards,

Shivshankar Lature

India's telecom operators are accelerating investments in tower infrastructure to meet the surging demand for data and connectivity. BSNL has already deployed nearly 93,500 4G towers and is on track to achieve its target of 100,000 sites by mid-2025. This expansion is strengthening its presence across rural and semi-urban regions while laying the foundation for a nationwide 5G upgrade.

Vodafone Idea is also enhancing its network footprint, with planned capital expenditure of around ₹50,000–₹55,000 crore over the next three years. The operator is expanding 4G capacity, adding new sites across priority circles, and scaling up infrastructure for 5G services.

These large-scale investments underscore the critical role of robust tower infrastructure in supporting India's fast-growing digital ecosystem. They also highlight the importance of infrastructure providers like Suyog, whose shared network model enables operators to expand coverage quickly and cost-effectively.

For Suyog, such developments present clear opportunities for tenancy growth, small cell deployments, and fiber connectivity. With an extensive presence across metro cities, government sites, and semi-urban areas, we are strongly positioned to support operators in meeting rising demand while maintaining speed, efficiency, and cost competitiveness.

Current and Future Outlook

Tower Infrastructure vs. Satellite Connectivity

The global telecom landscape is evolving rapidly with the introduction of satellite-based communication systems, particularly Low Earth Orbit (LEO) constellations, which are being promoted as potential game changers for global connectivity. In India, however, the dynamics are significantly different, driven by large-scale data consumption, cost sensitivity, spectrum availability, and the existing strength of terrestrial networks.

Tower Infrastructure – India's Backbone for Connectivity

Telecom towers, supported by optical fibre backhaul, continue to form the core of India's digital infrastructure. The scale of demand with India witnessing the highest data consumption per user globally makes terrestrial networks indispensable.

Cost Efficiency & Scalability: Shared infrastructure lowers the capital expenditure of telecom operators while enabling rapid scaling of networks. For operators, leasing passive infrastructure remains far more cost-effective than investing in standalone satellite connectivity.

High Capacity & Reliability: Fibre-connected towers support massive data volumes with significantly lower latency, making them ideal for 4G, widespread 5G rollouts, and emerging applications like IoT and direct-to-device connectivity.

Extensive Reach: Towers can be deployed in both dense urban centres and semi-rural areas, making them flexible enough to expand into high-demand or underserved geographies.

Support for Next-Gen Applications: Tower sites are adaptable for small cell deployments, smart poles, IoT enablement, and backhaul for fibre-to-the-home (FTTH), all of which are critical to India's digital ecosystem.

In addition, tower and fibre-based networks operate within a well-established regulatory framework, ensuring predictable rollouts and scalability. Their cost per GB remains among the lowest in the world, a decisive advantage in India's price-sensitive market.

Satellite Connectivity – Emerging but Selective Use Cases

While satellite technology, especially LEO-based systems, offers the promise of universal coverage, its scope in India will remain selective and supplementary:

Remote & Disaster-Prone Regions: Satellites provide resilience in regions where terrain or natural disasters make tower deployment unfeasible.

High Cost of Service: The cost per MB of satellite data remains significantly higher compared to tower-based networks. The economics of satellite networks covering satellite design, launch, operation, and spectrum management make them unaffordable for India's price-sensitive mass market, eventually this makes large-scale adoption challenging.

Bandwidth & Latency Constraints: Despite LEO advancements, latency is higher than fibre-backed terrestrial networks, limiting suitability for high-bandwidth, real-time applications such as video streaming, online gaming, financial transactions or telemedicine.

Power & Device Limitations: Direct-to-device satellite services demand higher power, impacting handset battery life, and struggle with indoor penetration in dense urban environments.

Enterprise, Defence & Niche Use: Satellites can play a role in defence, disaster recovery, aviation, shipping, and remote industrial sites, but mainstream consumer adoption faces economic and technical barriers.

Technological Complexity & Scale: Effective D2D satellite systems require advanced antenna arrays, high-frequency reuse, and thousands of satellites with frequent replacements (life span ~5 years). This translates into enormous capital requirements, feasible for only a handful of global players.

Regulatory Uncertainty: Spectrum scarcity and potential interference with terrestrial services are key hurdles. Effective sharing models, spectrum coordination, and regulatory oversight will be critical to avoid disruption of terrestrial services.

Limited Market Competition: Given the cost and scale, only a small number of satellite constellations are sustainable, raising risks of oligopolistic control and geopolitical dependencies.

Direct-to-Device (D2D) Connectivity – A Converging Future

A key emerging trend is direct-to-device (D2D) communication, where satellites can connect directly with mobile devices.

Two models are shaping the space:

1. Satellite-to-satellite phone (using satellite spectrum such as L, C, Ku, Ka bands).
2. Satellite-to-ordinary smartphones (using terrestrial spectrum through partnerships with mobile operators).

While feasible, both models face hurdles such as cost, bandwidth, latency, spectrum-sharing, power draw, and indoor coverage limitations. Thus, making large-scale adoption challenging in urban India.

Towers, small cells, and fibre will remain the primary access backbone, enabling 5G, 6G, IoT, and immersive applications. Satellites, meanwhile, will serve as supplementary enablers for emergency response, remote terrains, and critical verticals.

Notably, Suyog's R&D trials already demonstrate how tower infrastructure can integrate D2D features cost-effectively, underscoring synergy between terrestrial and satellite systems.

The Balanced Approach

The future is not towers versus satellites, but towers and satellites working in tandem.

- ➔ Terrestrial networks will anchor India's connectivity with scalability, affordability, and nationwide coverage.
- ➔ Satellites will complement this by enabling resilience in rural outreach, maritime and aviation, defence, disaster recovery, and backup connectivity.

However, this hybrid model requires:

- ➔ Regulatory clarity on spectrum sharing.
- ➔ Policy support for interference management.
- ➔ Sustainable investment economics to balance satellite capex and service affordability.

Given satellites' short operational life of approx. 5 years and enormous replacement costs, only a few global players will sustain operations, raising dependency risks. By contrast, India's locally managed, cost-efficient tower and fibre ecosystem ensures long-term resilience and sovereignty over its digital infrastructure.

Suyog's Strategic Perspective

For the foreseeable future, tower and fibre-based networks remain India's most efficient, scalable, and cost-effective solutions. With half a billion internet users and the world's highest mobile data consumption, the demand for reliable terrestrial infrastructure will only accelerate.

That said, Suyog Telematics recognises satellites' complementary role. The company is actively:

- ➔ Evaluating hybrid models such as satellite backhaul for rural expansion.

- ➔ Exploring D2D trials to integrate satellite channels into its access ecosystem.
- ➔ Monitoring policy, spectrum-sharing, and economic models that will shape the future of satellite adoption in India.

By strengthening its tower and fibre leadership while strategically preparing for synergies with satellites and D2D, Suyog is positioned to remain at the forefront of India's telecom evolution and digital transformation.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

Economic Overview

The global economy demonstrated resilience and steady recovery from the pandemic disruptions of prior years. Despite persistent macroeconomic challenges and geopolitical tensions — including the Russia-Ukraine war, the prolonged Israel-Gaza conflict, global tariff uncertainties, and inflationary pressures — the world economy-maintained momentum with an estimated GDP growth of around 2.6%. Both developed and emerging markets are showing signs of stabilization, supported by structural reforms, supply chain diversification, and increased adoption of digital technologies.

India's macro economics environment remains strong, driven by robust domestic demand, higher public and private sector investments, and continued momentum in manufacturing supported by global supply chain realignments. The country has also witnessed one of the fastest growths in manufacturing PMI, supported by infrastructure development and rising consumer disposable income fuelling the retail market. With these factors, India is expected to remain the fastest-growing major economy, with real GDP growth projected at 6.4% in FY25, significantly outpacing global averages.

Industry Overview

The passive telecommunications infrastructure industry in India forms the backbone of the country's digital connectivity. Tower and fiber assets enable seamless delivery of mobile and broadband services, supporting the rapid growth of data consumption and digital applications. With the rollout of 5G networks, demand for tower sites, fiberization, and small-cell infrastructure has accelerated, particularly in urban and semi-urban areas. Passive infrastructure providers operate on a neutral-host model, offering long-term tenancies to multiple telecom operators, ensuring scalability and cost efficiency. Government initiatives such as Digital India and Bharat-Net are driving deeper network penetration into rural and remote areas. Rising investments in fiber-to-the-home (FTTH), smart cities, and lot further strengthen sector prospects. Despite challenges of high capital intensity, regulatory complexities, and pressure on operator profitability, the sector offers stable cash flows and predictable revenues due to long-term service agreements. With data demand projected to rise exponentially, passive telecom infrastructure providers remain central to India's digital growth journey.

The Indian telecom sector is entering a transformative growth phase, driven by surging data demand, accelerated 5G rollouts, and government-led initiatives aimed at bridging the digital divide. With digital consumption expected to multiply significantly over the next decade, demand for tower sites, fiber networks, and small-cell infrastructure will continue to expand. Passive infrastructure providers are set to benefit as telecom operators increasingly rely on shared infrastructure models to optimize costs, enhance coverage, and improve capital efficiency.

Company Overview:

Suyog Telematics Limited is a leading passive telecommunications infrastructure provider with over 30 years of experience, operating across 26 states and union territories. The Company manages a growing portfolio of approximately 5,800 towers and over 7,100 tenancies, supported by a strong pipeline of high-power small cells and fiber deployments. Operating under a neutral-host model, Suyog provides critical infrastructure to all major telecom operators, including Bharti Airtel, Reliance Jio, Vodafone Idea, and BSNL. Its business model is anchored by long-term Master Service Agreements (15–20 years) with in-built escalations and lock-in period of 7-10 years, ensuring stable and recurring revenue streams.

The Company has built a niche by strategically deploying towers and fiber networks on both private and government assets such as flyovers, skywalks, and monorail poles, enhancing coverage and utilization rates. With the recent acquisition of Lotus Tele Infra Private Limited, Suyog has also strengthened its presence in the Delhi-NCR region, further consolidating its pan-India footprint. Backed by operational efficiency, innovative infrastructure solutions, and a scalable asset base, Suyog Telematics is well-positioned to capitalize on the growing demand for next-generation connectivity solutions in India.

Suyog Telematics Limited is strategically positioned to capitalize on these opportunities. The Company's diversified portfolio of towers, small cells, and fiber assets, supported by long-term service agreements, provides a resilient revenue base with predictable cash flows. Its focus on government-owned locations and low-risk high-utilization sites further enhances growth visibility. With the integration of Lotus Tele Infra, Suyog has expanded its presence into the critical Delhi-NCR market, strengthening its pan-India footprint.

Looking ahead, Suyog will continue to prioritize fiberization, high-power small cell deployment, and efficient asset utilization to support the needs of telecom operators in both urban and rural markets. Its customer base of leading telecom companies, coupled with robust project execution capabilities, positions the company to be a key enabler of India's digital transformation. Backed by scalable operations and a strong pipeline of opportunities, Suyog Telematics is well-placed to deliver sustainable value to stakeholders in the years ahead.

Risks and Concerns

The passive telecommunications infrastructure sector, while offering long-term growth opportunities, is subject to certain risks and challenges:

- ➔ Regulatory Environment: The industry is highly regulated and any adverse changes in government policies, spectrum pricing, or telecom sector regulations could impact operator investments and, consequently, infrastructure demand.
- ➔ Capital Intensity: Tower and fiber deployment require substantial upfront investments. Rising input costs and interest rate fluctuations may impact cash flows and project returns.
- ➔ Cybersecurity & Data Privacy: With growing integration of digital platforms, risks related to cybersecurity threats and data security compliance are increasing.

Suyog actively mitigates these risks through a diversified client base, long-term Master Service Agreements with built-in escalations, strategic focus on government-owned sites, and prudent financial management. Continuous investment in innovation, small-cell deployment, and fiberization further strengthens the company's resilience to industry shifts.

Opportunities

→ Revival of Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL) & Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL)

The revival initiatives of BSNL and VIL, supported by substantial government reforms and capital infusion, present a significant growth opportunity for the passive telecom infrastructure industry. The Government of India has extended multiple revival packages to BSNL, including a ₹69,000 crore package in 2019, a ₹1.64 lakh crore package in 2022, and a further ₹89,047 crore package in 2023, covering spectrum allocation, debt restructuring, and capital expenditure support. In addition, ₹6,982 crore of CapEx has been approved in 2025 to accelerate BSNL's nationwide 4G rollout. Similarly, VIL has been supported through the conversion of ₹36,950 crore of spectrum dues into equity, enabling financial stability and network investment. With both operators accelerating network expansion, modernization, and 4G/5G rollouts, demand for tower and fiberized infrastructure is expected to rise meaningfully. Suyog, with its proven expertise in tower solutions and fiberization, is well positioned to capitalize on this opportunity. These revival measures are expected to enhance tenancy levels, improve utilization of existing assets, and unlock sustainable long-term revenue growth for the Company.

→ Massive 4G Macro Site Rollout planned by BSNL

The large-scale 4G Macro Site rollout planned by BSNL is expected to be a key growth driver for the industry. Aimed at strengthening coverage and service quality across India, this initiative will significantly increase demand for towers and allied infrastructure. Importantly, the rollout will also serve as the groundwork for BSNL's future 5G deployments. With its strong capabilities in building and managing passive infrastructure, Suyog is strategically placed to capture this opportunity. The project is anticipated to boost tenancy ratios, improve asset productivity, and provide long-term visibility of revenues.

→ BSNL's 5G Rollout Opportunity

BSNL's expected launch of 5G services within the next two years is likely to accelerate both Macro and Small Cell rollouts at an unprecedented scale. Beyond the creation of new sites, this expansion will open opportunities to increase tenancy on existing Small Cell infrastructure. Suyog, leveraging its robust expertise in tower assets and fiber connectivity, is well equipped to support this transition. The anticipated surge in demand from BSNL's 5G rollout is expected to strengthen tenancy ratios, enhance asset utilization, and unlock sustainable long-term growth opportunities for the Company.

→ High-Power Small Cell Infrastructure for the Advent of 5G Technology

As 5G technology continues to roll out globally, the demand for high-performance, reliable, and efficient network infrastructure is increasing. High-power small cell infrastructure plays a crucial role in this evolution, addressing the need for enhanced connectivity and network performance in the face of 5G's advanced requirements.

High-power small cells enhance network coverage and capacity, especially in dense urban areas and high-traffic locations. They deliver faster data rates and low latency, crucial for 5G performance and applications like VR and IoT. By efficiently reusing spectrum and operating in higher frequency bands, they improve overall network efficiency. Their rapid deployment and scalability make them a cost-effective solution for expanding network infrastructure and meeting growing connectivity demands.

→ Revolutionary FTTH Empowering Homes with Unprecedented 5G Speed

Our Fiber-to-the-Home (FTTH) solution revolutionizes residential connectivity by delivering unparalleled 5G speeds directly to homes. This technology provides high-speed, reliable internet access, enhancing digital experiences and supporting advanced applications. With FTTH, users enjoy seamless streaming, gaming, and smart home capabilities, transforming everyday living with cutting-edge, future-proof connectivity.

→ Fiberizing Mobile Towers for Accelerated 5G Deployment

Fiberizing mobile towers accelerates 5G deployment by providing high-speed, low-latency connections essential for 5G performance. This integration ensures that towers can handle increased data traffic and support advanced 5G services efficiently. By connecting towers with fiber optics, operators can enhance network capacity, reduce latency, and improve overall service quality, paving the way for faster and more reliable 5G rollouts.

→ 5G Connectivity to Rural Villages through RLS Sites

5G connectivity to rural villages through Remote Location Sites (RLS) extends high-speed, reliable internet access to underserved areas. RLS sites enable the deployment of 5G infrastructure in remote locations, bridging the digital divide and empowering rural communities with advanced connectivity. This expansion supports critical services, enhances digital inclusion, and fosters economic growth in rural regions.

Threats:

→ Liquidity pressures

Telecom infrastructure providers often face liquidity pressures due to high capital expenditures for network expansion and maintenance. The substantial upfront investments required for deploying new technology and infrastructure can strain financial resources. Effective liquidity management and strategic financial planning are essential to navigate these challenges and ensure sustainable growth and operational stability.

While the technology upgrade to 5G brings with itself a favorable demand outlook for the tower companies, their CapEx intensity is likely to increase.

→ Electromagnetic Field (EMF) emissions

Telecom infrastructure providers face increasing scrutiny and regulatory pressure regarding Electromagnetic Field (EMF) emissions. Compliance with EMF regulations has become a significant concern, as stringent guidelines are enforced to ensure public health and safety. Providers must invest in technology and practices that meet these standards, which can lead to higher operational costs and project delays. Non-compliance risks fines, legal challenges, and damage to reputation, making it essential for providers to stay updated on regulations and implement effective EMF management strategies.

R&D and Innovation

Suyog Telematics Limited continues to focus on innovation and cost optimization through its R&D and pilot initiatives aimed at strengthening operational efficiency and expanding its service portfolio. Key developments include:

- Renewable Energy Solutions: Installation of wind turbines at selected telecom towers on a trial basis to reduce electricity costs. This initiative is expected to lower operational expenses for telecom operators and improve Suyog's cash flows through energy savings.
- FTTH Innovations: Development of vertical wiring solutions for FTTH installations within ducts, enabling optimized space utilization, faster installation efficiency, and enhanced service delivery.

Advanced Power Backup Systems:

- ➔ Zinc Battery Trials: Pilot testing of zinc-based batteries as a cost-efficient and sustainable alternative to lithium batteries. Trials are scheduled at Suyog sites around Diwali, following supplier readiness in Q4 FY25.
- Next-Gen SMPS Development: Designing a low-cost, highly efficient Switch Mode Power Supply (SMPS) system tailored for multi-operator tower sites to improve energy efficiency and reduce maintenance costs.

Through these initiatives, Suyog demonstrates its commitment to sustainable practices, cost optimization, and technological adaptability, thereby strengthening its role as a forward-looking passive telecom infrastructure provider.

Business outlook

Suyog Telematics witnessed robust top-line growth, with annual sales increasing 23.1% to ₹192.57 crore in FY 2025, up from ₹166.61 crore in FY 2024.

Positively, Suyog generated significantly higher cash flows, ₹211 million in FY 2025 compared to ₹14.8 million in FY 2024—and added approximately 1,800 new tenancies during the year. The acquisition of Lotus Tele Infra boosted its Delhi-NCR presence, adding ₹15–16 crore is expected revenue, with over 120 sites and 140 tenancies, and more expansion planned. The operator mix remained balanced, with Airtel, Jio, VI, and BSNL contributing to a diversified revenue base.

The Company has also benefited from regulatory tailwinds, with uniform Right of Way (ROW) guidelines easing site permissions and accelerating tower rollouts. Going forward, Suyog plans to add approximately 8,000 new tenancies across India, with substantial demand expected from all major telecom operators mainly BSNL & VIL.

On the financial front, while operating revenues grew strongly, profitability was impacted by extraordinary expenses, including ESOP-related notional costs. However, the Company generated significantly higher operating cash flows compared to the previous year, demonstrating its ability to fund a part of its expansion through internal accruals.

Management remains focused on expanding its infrastructure footprint, optimizing costs through renewable energy and R&D initiatives, and securing funding to support future growth. With increasing data demand, 5G rollout momentum, and strengthening partnerships with leading operators, Suyog is well-positioned to capture the next phase of telecom infrastructure expansion in India.

Key developments:

i.) Listing of Shares on National Stock Exchange of India Limited

During the year under review, the equity shares of the Company were successfully listed and admitted for trading on the Main Board of the National Stock Exchange of India Limited (NSE) with effect from August 20, 2024, under the symbol “SUYOG”. This development marks a significant milestone in the Company’s growth journey, as the listing on NSE, in addition to the existing BSE listing, is expected to enhance visibility in the capital markets, provide wider access to investors, improve liquidity of the Company’s shares, and create long-term value for all stakeholders.

ii.) Strategic Acquisition of Lotus Tele Infra Private Limited

During the financial year under review, the Company successfully executed the acquisition of 95% equity stake in Lotus Tele Infra Private Limited (“Lotus” or “Subsidiary”), a Delhi-NCR-based passive telecom infrastructure firm, for a cash consideration of approximately Rs. 13.5 crore. The agreement, initially contemplated through a binding Memorandum of Understanding on December 26, 2024, led to the formal completion of the acquisition on March 31, 2025, resulting in Lotus becoming a subsidiary of the Company. As of March 31, 2024, Lotus had reported a turnover of around Rs. 13 crore. This strategic move expands Suyog Telematics’ footprint in the critical Delhi and NCR regions by adding 120 telecom sites and enhancing service delivery capabilities across its infrastructure portfolio.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF SUYOG TELEMATICS LIMITED

Report on the Audit of Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

- A. We have audited the accompanying financial statements of SUYOG TELEMATICS LIMITED (CIN- L32109MH1995PLC091107) ("the Company"), which Comprise the balance sheet as at March 31, 2025, the statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Changes in Equity and the statement of cash flows for the year ended on that date and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as the "financial statements").
- B. In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 33 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2025 and its profit and other Comprehensive income/(loss).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the financial statements.

Emphasis of Matter

Material uncertainty arising out of certain developments on one of the largest customer and its consequential impact on business operations of the Company.

We draw attention to note 56 (a) of the financial statements, which describes the impact on business operations, receivables and financial position of the Company on account of one of the largest customer's financial condition and its ability to continue as a going concern.

The customer's assumption of going concern is essentially dependent on its ability to raise additional funds as required and successful negotiations with lenders for continued support and generation of cash flow from its operations that it needs to settle its liabilities as they fall due.

We draw attention to Note 56 (b) to the accompanying financial statements, which describe that Statutory Compliance with respect to GST and TDS is subject to reconciliation and subsequent adjustment.

We draw attention to Note 56 (c) to the accompanying financial statements, which describe that balances in the accounts of Trade Receivables are subject to confirmation / reconciliation.

We draw attention to Note 56 (d) to the accompanying financial statements, which describe weakness in the Internal control design commensurate with the growing size of its business, to mitigate the risk; enhancement to internal controls is in the process of implementation to address the deficiencies identified in the Internal Control System.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements of the current year. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS	AUDITOR'S RESPONSE
Capitalization of assets
There are a number of areas where management judgment impacts the carrying value of property, plant and equipment, and their respective depreciation profiles. These include: – the decision to capitalize or expense costs; – the annual asset life review including the impact of changes in the strategy; and – the timeliness of the transfer from assets in the course of construction. Refer Note 3.11 – of the financial statements “Property, plant and equipment”	We tested controls in place over the property, plant and equipment cycle, evaluated the appropriateness of capitalization policies, performed tests of details on costs capitalized and assessed the timeliness of the transfer of assets in the course of construction and the application of the asset life. In performing these substantive procedures, we assessed the judgments made by management including: – the nature of underlying costs capitalized; – the appropriateness of asset lives applied in the calculation of depreciation. Assessed the appropriateness of work in progress on balance sheet date by evaluating the underlying documentation to identify possible delays
Trade receivables comprise a significant portion of the liquid assets of the Company. As indicated in Note No 9 & 40 to the financial statements, The most significant portion of the trade receivables over 90 days comprises large customers who are within their historic payment patterns. The Company has recognised loss allowance as the Company expects that there is credit loss on trade receivables. Accordingly, the estimation of the allowance for trade receivables is a significant judgement area and is therefore considered a key audit matter.	We assessed the validity of material long outstanding receivables by obtaining third-party confirmations of amounts owing. We also considered payments received subsequent to year-end, past payment history and unusual patterns to identify potentially impaired balances. The assessment of the appropriateness of the allowance for trade receivables comprised a variety of audit procedures including: Challenging the appropriateness and reasonableness of the assumptions applied in the directors' assessment of the receivables allowance; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➔ Consideration of the creditworthiness of significant trade receivables over 90 days utilizing external ratings agencies wherever possible; ➔ Consideration and concurrence of the agreed payment terms; ➔ Verification of receipts from trade receivables subsequent to year—end. ➔ Inspection of credit insurance policies; and ➔ Considered the completeness and accuracy of the disclosures. To address the risk of management bias, we evaluated the statements of our procedures against audit procedures on other key balances to assess whether or not there was an indication of bias. We were satisfied that the trade receivables are fairly valued and disclosures related to trade receivable in the financial statements are appropriate.

- A. A. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Standalone Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

- B. In connection with our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Standalone Financial Statements, or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibility of Management for the Standalone Financial Statements

- A. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these Standalone Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate implementation and maintenance of accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Standalone Financial Statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.
- B. In preparing the Standalone Financial Statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Standalone Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Standalone Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- i. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- ii. Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- iii. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- iv. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- v. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- vi. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company to express an opinion on the Financial Statements

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the statements of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE 'B' TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 2(g) under the heading 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to standalone financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of SUYOG TELEMATICS LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2025, in conjunction with our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of Standalone Financial Statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of Standalone Financial Statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the Standalone Financial Statements.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to explanation given to us, except as given in the Note 56 (d) to the accompanying financial statements, which describe weakness in the Internal control design commensurate with the growing size of its business, to mitigate the risk; enhancement to internal controls is implemented by the management to address the deficiencies identified in the Internal Control System. Company has maintained, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2024, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

A summary of the significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of the financial statements is as given below. These accounting policies have been applied consistently to all the periods presented in the financial statements.

3.01 Basis of preparation of financial statements

The separate financial statements of the company are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS), under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis as per the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act"), except for:-

- ➔ Financial instruments – measured at fair value;
- ➔ Assets held for sale – measured at fair value less cost of sale;
- ➔ Plan assets under defined benefit plans – measured at fair value
- ➔ In addition, the carrying values of recognised assets and liabilities, designated as hedged items in fair value hedges that would otherwise be carried at cost, are adjusted to record changes in the fair values attributable to the risks that are being hedged in effective hedge relationship."

3.02 Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates ("the functional currency"). Indian rupee is the functional currency of the Company.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.03 Historical Cost Convention

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

3.04 Current and non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- ➔ Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- ➔ Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- ➔ Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period or
- ➔ Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

Current assets include the current portion of non-current assets. All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- ➔ It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
 - ➔ It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
 - ➔ It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
 - ➔ There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period
- Current liabilities include the current portion of long-term liabilities. The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as noncurrent assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current only

The Ind AS are prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter. Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy previously applied.

The Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupees ('₹') and all values are rounded to the nearest Lakhs, except otherwise indicated.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.05 Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity of Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and contingent liabilities at the date of financial statements, income and expenses during the period. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in future periods which are affected.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgments are:

Valuation of financial instruments

Useful life of property, plant and equipment

Defined benefit obligation

Provisions

Recoverability of trade receivables

Recognition of revenue and allocation of transaction price

Current tax expense and current tax payable

Estimates and judgments are regularly revisited. Estimates are based on historical experience and other factors, including futuristic reasonable information that may have a financial impact on the company.

3.06 Fair value measurement

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The Company's Management determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurement, such as derivative instruments and unquoted financial assets measured at fair value, and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for distribution in discontinued operations.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

At each reporting date, the Management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Company's accounting policies. For this analysis, the Management verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation computation to contracts and other relevant documents.

The Management also compares the change in the fair value of each asset and liability with relevant external sources to determine whether the change is reasonable.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

This note summarises accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

Disclosures for valuation methods, significant estimates and assumptions

Financial instruments (including those carried at amortised cost)

3.07 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government.

Revenue from Service

Revenue from the installation services is recognized on transfer of the title as per the Contact Terms with the Customer which start from RFI (Ready for Installation) Date. Revenue from fixed-price, fixed-time frame contracts, where there is no uncertainty as to the measurement or collectability of consideration that will be derived on completion of the contract, is recognized as per the percentage of completion method. Interest on deposits, Rent and Maintenance is accounted for on the time proportion basis.

Interest and dividend income

The interest and dividends are recognised only when no uncertainty as to measurability or collectability exists. Interest on fixed deposits is recognised on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.

3.08 Inventories:

- i) Inventories are measured at lower of the cost and net realizable value. Cost of inventories comprises all costs of purchase (net of input credit) and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Costs of consumable and materials are determined by using the First-In First-Out Method (FIFO).

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.09 Foreign currency transactions and translation

- i) Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated in functional currency at closing rates of exchange at the reporting date.
- ii) Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items recognised in statement of profit and loss.

3.10 Taxes

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The Company determines the tax as per the provisions of the Tax Act 1961 and other rules specified thereunder.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Significant management judgment is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits.

The amount of total deferred tax assets could change if management estimates of projected future taxable income or if tax regulations undergo a change.

Deferred tax is provided in full using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except when the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has been probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

3.11 a) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and where applicable accumulated impairment losses. Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress cost include expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of self-constructed assets includes the cost of materials, direct labour and any other costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to a working condition for its intended use, and the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located. Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalized as part of that equipment.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Subsequent Cost

The cost of replacing part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Company and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is de-recognised and charged to the statement of Profit and Loss. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

b) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment loss if any. The system software which is expected to provide future enduring benefits is capitalised. The capitalised cost includes license fees and cost of implementation/system integration.

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment ('PPE') and intangible assets

Management reviews the estimated useful lives and residual value of PPE and Intangibles at the end of each reporting period. Factors such as changes in the expected level of usage, technological developments and product life-cycle, could significantly impact the economic useful lives and the residual values of these assets. Consequently, the future depreciation charge could be revised and may have an impact on the profit of the future years.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

Depreciation and amortisation

The depreciation on tangible assets is calculated on WDV method over the estimated useful life of assets prescribed by the Schedule II to the Companies Act 2013 as follows:

Asset class	Useful life as per management
Plant and machinery:	15 years
Office equipment	5 years
Computers	3 years
Vehicles	8 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Electrical installation	10 years
Office premises	60 years
Residential premises	60 years
Factory Building	30 years

The depreciation on Tel Towers is calculated on straight line method over its useful life of 18 years as prescribed by schedule II of the Companies Act 2013. Computer software is amortised over a period of 5 years.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Derecognition of assets

An item of property plant & equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

3.12 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

3.13 Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably. The contingent liability is not recognised in books of account but its existence is disclosed in financial statements. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the notes forming part of the financial statements. Contingent assets are not disclosed in the financial statements unless an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.14 Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses, at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or Company's assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

3.15 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the Company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

From time to time, the Company is subject to legal proceedings, the ultimate outcome of each being subject to uncertainties inherent in litigation. A provision for litigation is made when it is considered probable that a payment will be made and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Significant judgement is required when evaluating the provision including, the probability of an unfavourable outcome and the ability to make a reasonable estimate of the amount of potential loss. Litigation provisions are reviewed at each accounting period and revisions made for the changes in facts and circumstances.

3.16 Financial instruments

Initial recognition

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk and commodity risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits and derivative financial instruments.

Credit risk on financial assets

Financial assets that are potentially subject to concentrations of credit risk and failures by counterparties to discharge their obligations in full or in a timely manner consist principally of cash balances with banks, cash equivalents and receivables, and other financial assets. The maximum exposure to credit risk is: the total of the fair value of the financial instruments and the full amount of any loan payable commitment at the end of the reporting year. Credit risk on cash balances with banks is limited because the counterparties are entities with acceptable credit ratings. Credit risk on other financial assets is limited because the other parties are entities with acceptable credit ratings.

As disclosed in Note 11 (a), cash and cash equivalents balances generally represent short term deposits with a less than 90-day maturity.

As part of the process of setting customer credit limits, different credit terms are used. The average credit period generally granted to trade receivable customers is about 90-360 days. But some customers take a longer period to settle the amounts."

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the financial statements section of our report. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the financial statements.

Emphasis of Matter

Material uncertainty arising out of certain developments on one of the largest customer and its consequential impact on business operations of the Company.

We draw attention to note 60 (a) of the financial statements, which describes the impact on business operations, receivables and financial position of the Company on account of one of the largest customer's financial condition and its ability to continue as a going concern.

The customer's assumption of going concern is essentially dependent on its ability to raise additional funds as required and successful negotiations with lenders for continued support and generation of cash flow from its operations that it needs to settle its liabilities as they fall due.

We draw attention to Note 60 (b) to the accompanying financial statements, which describe that Statutory Compliance with respect to GST and TDS is subject to reconciliation and subsequent adjustment.

We draw attention to Note 60 (d) to the accompanying financial statements, which describe weakness in the Internal control design commensurate with the growing size of its business, to mitigate the risk; enhancement to internal controls is in the process of implementation to address the deficiencies identified in the Internal Control System.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Capitalization of assets
There are a number of areas where management judgment impacts the carrying value of property, plant and equipment, and their respective depreciation profiles. These include: – the decision to capitalize or expense costs; – the annual asset life review including the impact of changes in the strategy; and – the timeliness of the transfer from assets in the course of construction. - A. The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprise the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

- B. In connection with our audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Consolidated Financial Statements, or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibility of Management for the Consolidated Financial Statements

- A. The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Group in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate implementation and maintenance of accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statement by the management and Board of Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.
- B. In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Consolidated Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Consolidated Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- i. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- ii. Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- iii. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- iv. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- v. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- vi. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company to express an opinion on the Financial Statements

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the statements of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have applied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters Communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of Such Communication.

ANNEXURE ‘B’ TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 2(g) under the heading ‘Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements’ of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

Opinion

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the SUYOG TELEMATICS LIMITED (hereinafter referred to as “the Holding Company”) as of and for the year ended 31 March 2025, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of the Holding Company, as of that date.

In our opinion, the Holding Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential Components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the “Guidance Note”).

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company’s management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential Components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“ICAI”). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and Completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we apply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgments, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the Consolidated Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future years are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may be inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of Compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

- ➔ Financial instruments – measured at fair value;

- ➔ Plan assets under defined benefit plans – measured at fair value
- ➔ In addition, the carrying values of recognised assets and liabilities, designated as hedged items in fair value hedges that would otherwise be carried at cost, are adjusted to record changes in the fair values attributable to the risks that are being hedged in effective hedge relationship.”

3.02 Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates (“the functional currency”). Indian rupee is the functional currency of the Company.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.03 Historical Cost Convention

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

3.04 Current and non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- ➔ Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- ➔ Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- ➔ Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period or
- ➔ Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

Current assets include the current portion of non-current assets. All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- ➔ It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
 - ➔ It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
 - ➔ It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
 - ➔ There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period
- Current liabilities include the current portion of long-term liabilities. The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as noncurrent assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle."

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current only"

The Ind AS are prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter. Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupees ('₹') and all values are rounded to the nearest Lakhs, except otherwise indicated.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.05 Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity of Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and contingent liabilities at the date of financial statements, ie and expenses during the period. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in future periods which are affected.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgments are:

Valuation of financial instruments

Useful life of property, plant and equipment

Defined benefit obligation

Provisions

Recoverability of trade receivables

Recognition of revenue and allocation of transaction price

Current tax expense and current tax payable

Estimates and judgments are regularly revisited. Estimates are based on historical experience and other factors, including futuristic reasonable information that may have a financial impact on the company.

3.06 Fair value measurement

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The Company's Management determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurement, such as derivative instruments and unquoted financial assets measured at fair value, and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for distribution in discontinued operations.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

At each reporting date, the Management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Company's accounting policies. For this analysis, the Management verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation Computation to contracts and other relevant documents.

The Management also Compares the change in the fair value of each asset and liability with relevant external sources to determine whether the change is reasonable.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

This note summarises accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

Disclosures for valuation methods, significant estimates and assumptions

Financial instruments (including those carried at amortised cost)

3.07 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government.

Revenue from Service

Revenue from the installation services is recognized on transfer of the title as per the Contact Terms with the Customer which start from RFI (Ready for Installation) Date. Revenue from fixed-price, fixed-time frame contracts, where there is no uncertainty as to the measurement or collectability of consideration that will be derived and Completion of the contract, is recognized as per the percentage of Completion method. Interest on deposits, Rent and Maintenance is accounted for on the time proportion basis.

Interest and dividend income

The interest and dividends are recognised only when no uncertainty as to measurability or collectability exists. Interest on fixed deposits is recognised on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.

3.08 Inventories:

- i) Inventories are measured at lower of the cost and net realizable value. Cost of inventories Compare all costs of purchase (net of input credit) and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Costs of consumable and materials are determined by using the First-In First-Out Method (FIFO).

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.09 Foreign currency transactions and translation

- i) Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated in functional currency at closing rates of exchange at the reporting date.
- ii) Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items recognised in statement of profit and loss.

3.10 Taxes

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The Company determines the tax as per the provisions of income Tax Act 1961 and other rules specified thereunder.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate

Significant management judgment is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits.

The amount of total deferred tax assets could change if management estimates of projected future taxable income or if tax regulations undergo a change.

Deferred tax is provided in full using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business Combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except when the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business Combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has been probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

3.11 a) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and where applicable accumulated impairment losses. Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress cost include expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of self-constructed assets includes the cost of materials, direct labour and any other costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to a working condition for its intended use, and the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located. Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalized as part of that equipment.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Subsequent Cost

The cost of replacing part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Company and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is de-recognised and charged to the statement of Profit and Loss. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

b) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment loss if any. The system software which is expected to provide future enduring benefits is capitalised. The capitalised cost includes license fees and cost of implementation/system integration.

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment ('PPE') and intangible assets

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

Management reviews the estimated useful lives and residual value of PPE and Intangibles at the end of each reporting period. Factors such as changes in the expected level of usage, technological developments and product life-cycle, could significantly impact the economic useful lives and the residual values of these assets. Consequently, the future depreciation charge could be revised and may have an impact on the profit of the future years.

Depreciation and amortisation

The depreciation on tangible assets is calculated on WDV method over the estimated useful life of assets prescribed by the Schedule II to the Companies Act 2013 as follows:

Asset class	Useful life as per management
Plant and machinery:	15 years
Office equipment	5 years
Computers	3 years
Vehicles	8 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Electrical installation	10 years
Office premises	60 years
Residential premises	60 years
Factory Building	30 years

The depreciation on Tel Towers is calculated on straight line method over its useful life of 18 years as prescribed by schedule II of the Companies Act 2013. Computer software is amortised over a period of 5 years.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Derecognition of assets

An item of property plant & equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset is included in the ie statement when the asset is derecognised.

3.12 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

3.13 Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably. The contingent liability is not recognised in books of account but its existence is disclosed in financial statements. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the notes forming part of the financial statements. Contingent assets are not disclosed in the financial statements unless an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information

3.14 Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses, at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or Company's assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

3.15 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the Company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

From time to time, the Company is subject to legal proceedings, the ultimate outcome of each being subject to uncertainties inherent in litigation. A provision for litigation is made when it is considered probable that a payment will be made and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Significant judgement is required when evaluating the provision including, the probability of an unfavourable outcome and the ability to make a reasonable estimate of the amount of potential loss. Litigation provisions are reviewed at each accounting period and revisions made for the changes in facts and circumstances.

3.16 Financial instruments

Initial recognition

The company recognises the financial asset and financial liabilities when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. All the financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised at fair value on initial recognition, except for trade receivable which are initially recognised at transaction price. Transaction cost that are directly attributable to the acquisition of financial asset and financial liabilities, that are not at fair value through profit and loss, are added to the fair value on the initial recognition.

(iii) Financial liabilities

(a) Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk and commodity risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits and derivative financial instruments.

Credit risk on financial assets

Financial assets that are potentially subject to concentrations of credit risk and failures by counterparties to discharge their obligations in full or in a timely manner consist principally of cash balances with banks, cash equivalents and receivables, and other financial assets. The maximum exposure to credit risk is: the total of the fair value of the financial instruments and the full amount of any loan payable commitment at the end of the reporting year. Credit risk on cash balances with banks is limited because the counterparties are entities with acceptable credit ratings. Credit risk on other financial assets is limited because the other parties are entities with acceptable credit ratings.

As disclosed in Note 11 (a), cash and cash equivalents balances generally represent short term deposits with a less than 90-day maturity.

As part of the process of setting customer credit limits, different credit terms are used. The average credit period generally granted to trade receivable customers is about 90-360 days. But some customers take a longer period to settle the amounts.

Exposure to credit risk

Financial asset for which loss allowance is measured using expected credit loss model
