MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

COMPANY'S OVERVIEW

Bhagyanagar India Ltd (BIL) was incorporated in the year 1985, a flagship Company of Surana Group. BIL is one of the oldest industrial houses in India which has diverse business streams such as manufacturing of various Copper products, Real Estate & Infrastructure, Non conventional energy (Wind and Solar). Empowered by a professional team of visionaries, with an experience of over four decades BIL has steadily grown over the years with a continued focus on customer satisfaction, evolving itself into country's one of the most promising mid cap Companies.

PERFORMANCE OF KEY INDUSTRY SEGMENTS

1. Copper products

Introduction

Copper was one of the first metals ever extracted and used by humans, and it has made vital contributions to sustaining and improving society since the dawn of civilization. Copper was first used in coins and ornaments starting about 8000 B.C., and at about 5500 B.C., copper tools helped civilization emerge from the Stone Age. Copper is easily stretched, molded, and shaped; is resistant to corrosion; and good conductor of electricity and transfers heat exceptionally well. Today, copper's uses have expanded to include in building construction, power generation and transmission, electronic components such as semiconductor chips, and the production of industrial machinery and transportation vehicles. Copper wiring and plumbing are integral to the appliances, heating and cooling systems, and telecommunications links used every day in homes and businesses. Copper is vital for the environment and it provides reliable, efficient and cost-effective service for decades, and at the end of life, is 100 percent recyclable without loss of its properties. 9 millions tonnes of copper is recycled each year and 35% of the global copper demand is met by recycled metal. Today, renewable sources provide nearly one-quarter of the world's power and copper plays an important role in making it as efficient as possible, with minimal impact on the environment. Copper is essential for use in sustainable energy systems that harness wind, hydro, thermal and solar power. Energy efficiency improvements to these systems have reduced global energy demand by over 25%.

Industry Analysis:

Copper prices are likely to remain subdued this year on rising production and falling demand from consumer industries, due to economic uncertainty across the world. China's uncertain economic situation is likely to hang heavy over the non-ferrous metals sector in 2015. The country is one of the largest consumers and producers of non-ferrous metals and its decision to re-balance economic growth from an investment focused one to a consumption oriented one has upset demand-supply balances. China's crackdown on financing transactions using metal as collateral was also said to be a reason for copper's fall from grace. The metal has fallen by around 14% since the start of the 2014. Copper currently rests in the middle of a bearish channel below the year's average. The year 2014 concluded with refined copper demand exceeding production, while 2015 will find a supply surplus as demand lags production growth. With few suitable substitutes, the supply-side may face considerable obstacles as demand continues to expand. China drives the global copper metal market, accounting for more than two-fifths of world demand. The country's massive building construction and electrical and electronic sectors consume huge volumes of copper. Strong domestic output of motor vehicles, industrial machinery, and household appliances further boosts copper demand in China. As per ICSG, Copper usage increased 12% in 2014 while mine production increased just 3%, Production capacity to increase by 7% through 2017 while demand in China slows to 5% next year. The global copper markets to move in to a surplus of 394,000 tons during next year from a projected deficit of 307,000 tons during 2014. Supply during 2014 is projected to grow by 9.7%, while demand is estimated to grow by 7.1%. For 2015, refined production and demand is forecasted to expand by 4.3% and 1.1% respectively.

Indian Copper Industry:

Unparallel combination of properties offered by copper and its large family of alloys have made them indispensable for several industrial usages - power sector, transport industry, process industry, building construction or consumer durable sector, the domestic copper demand has registered substantial growth in the recent past. This growth rate is sustainable mainly due to increased domestic market potential. It is, however, obvious that the real growth in usage will depend upon the performance of the ultimate end use sectors, which in turn depends on economic climate guided mostly by investment in key infrastructure segment and development in socio-economic scenario. The primary refined copper producers increased their capacity substantially over a period of 10 years starting from mid 1990s. In fact during the past 15 years, the refined copper production capacity in India increased by 20 times and the production grew by 18 times during this period. As a whole the Indian copper industry has geared up to meet the domestic demand growth.

Demand Outlook India:

The annual domestic demand growth percentage for copper is much higher than the world average which is likely to be the future trend as well. The main reason for higher annual copper demand growth percentage in India is low per capita copper consumption. The present estimated per capita consumption is only about 0.5 kg - may be 0.65 kg if both refined copper and recycled copper is taken into account. The world average per capita copper consumption is around 2.7 kg. The Indian figure will definitely go up despite certain constraints and challenges. The key drivers for the growth prospect include: growing domestic market extending to rural areas; government's priority for infrastructure development; indispensability of copper in many end-use sectors - some of which are on fast growth track; increased quality consciousness; improved life style; newer opportunities, etc. The 12th Five-Year Plan which proposes development of several sectors where substantial quantity of copper base components are in use.

Business Outlook:

With the prospect of economy moving forward and the possibility of exchange rate remaining stable the performance of the division looks stable during the current Financial Year.

2. Real Estate/ Infrastructure Business:

A key driver of the economy, Infrastructure is highly responsible for propelling India's overall development. The Indian Government is taking every possible initiative to boost the infrastructure sector and initiating policies that would ensure time-bound creation of world class infrastructure in the country. The Government's focus on "fast tracking" infrastructure development is expected to drive the demand for the construction industry in coming years. This sector includes power, bridges, dams, roads and urban infrastructure development. According to the Economic Survey 2014-15, the real estate sector constituted 7.8 per cent of India's GDP in 2013-14. Both domestic and global slowdown affected the sector, with growth decelerating from 7.6 per cent in 2012-13 to 6 per cent in 2013-14. The government announced in union budget 2015 'Housing for All by 2022' by targeting construction of six crore housing units, four crore in rural areas and two crore in urban areas, increased allocation to Infrastructure by INR70,000 crore, setting up of National Investment and Infrastructure Fund (NIIF) to be funded by INR20,000 crore annually, PPP mode of infrastructure development to be revisited and revitalised. The Indian power sector has an investment potential of US$ 250 billion in the next 4-5 years, providing immense opportunities in power generation, distribution, transmission and equipment.

Foreign direct Investment (FDI) received in construction development sector from April 2000 to January 2015 stood at US$ 24,028.19 million, according to the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP). The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has notified 100 per cent foreign direct investment (FDI) under automatic route in the construction development sector. Recently, the Government has relaxed rules for FDI in the construction sector by reducing minimum built-up area as well as capital requirement and liberalised the exit norms. USD 1,000 Billion investments for infrastructure sector projected in 12th five year plan (2012-17). USD 650 Billion investments in urban infrastructure estimated over next 20 years. 10% of India's GDP is based on construction activity. India's infrastructure sector is poised to grow at 7-8 percent this year following the forward looking plans and policies of the new government. The strong mandate will stimulate economic growth, positive surge by implementing desired policies, removal of barriers to foreign investment and other initiatives being taken that will boost infrastructure development and the outlook for the sector appears positive.

Business Outlook:

The government tends to put its primary focus on infrastructure development and may continue with the estimated $1 trillion spent on infrastructure till 2017 as per 12th Five year plan. India's rate of urbanization is high and the ambitious 100 smart cities project is about to take off that will require a number of infrastructure planning and development efforts. The future of sector is bright.

Non-Conventional Energy Division:

a) Wind Power:

In 2014, the Indian wind sector experienced moderate annual growth, with 2.21 GW of new installations. India ranks fifth in terms of global installed capacity and third in annual capacity growth. However, the Challenges for India mainly are 79 million households yet to be electrified, Per capita consumption is ¼ of world average, Estimated demand of India 900 GW by 2032 i.e., 4X that of now. To address the above challenges, the Indian power system is expected to grow 8-10% p.a for next several decades. Developing countries like India need to invest in both strengthening the electrical network as well as adding communications, IT and automation systems to build a strong and smart grid. Wind energy is the fastest growing renewable energy sector in India. With the capacity of 23,444 MW as on April 30, 2015, it accounts for nearly 65% of the installed capacity in the renewable energy sector in the Country. Wind energy market of India is expected to attract about Rs 20,000 crore (US$ 3.16 billion) of investments next year, as companies across sectors plan to add 3,000 MW of capacity powered by wind energy. Tamil Nadu is at leading position in terms of installed wind capacity but attention is quickly shifting to states such as Maharashtra, Gujarat, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka and Rajasthan where the gap between the available potential and installed capacities are much higher than those for Tamil Nadu.

Installed Wind Power Capacity

Wind power accounts nearly 8.5% of India's total installed power generation capacity and generated 28,214 million Kwh (MU) in the fiscal year 2014-15 which is nearly 2.6% of total electricity generation. (Source NLDC Report).

With an ambitious target of 60 GW by 2022 set by Government of India, the wind energy sector is poised to achieve 6 GW per annum installation in the next 5 years. The wind power industry is confident of achieving this ambitious target on the back of Hon'ble Prime Minister's "Make in India" campaign. The confidence was evident throughout the first renewable energy global investors meet and Expo organised by the MNRE – "RE INVEST 2015". The Government has also given assurance in helping to sorting out the issues and challenges the sector is grappling with. The Government has put in place fiscal and promotional incentives like GBI, concessional import duty, AD, Excise duty relief, cheaper loans through IREDA, etc. Incentives could make India an attractive location for manufacturers both for the Indian markets as well as for exports. India and the United States of America signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on Cooperation to Establish the PACE Setter Fund – A fund to support the Promoting Energy Access Through Clean Energy (PEACE) track of the U.S.-India Partnership to Advance Clean Energy (PACE) to accelerate the commercialization of off-grid clean energy through early-stage grant funding grants to develop and test innovative products, systems, and business models.

A robust grid infrastructure is one of the key important factors in ensuring off-take of wind energy generated. Most of the wind farms in India are located in remote areas that are located far away from load centres. Due to inadequate or weak grid infrastructure, it is difficult to transmit the power from wind farms to the load centres. Grid constraint has emerged as the biggest impediment for scaling-up RE capacity in India. Wind projects are forced to back down for want of evacuation infrastructure. Inadequate management of variable generation, ambiguity surrounding responsibility of sharing for forecasting of RE generation remains a concern. Addressing these issues assumes immense significance in the present scenario wherein the grid penetration level is expected to grow exponentially. Further, the targeted capacity of 60 GW by 2022 translates to annual wind power capacity addition target of 6GW to 8 GW every year from now on.

Opportunities:

The renewable energy sector in India is full of opportunities and merits careful consideration by market participants. The Indian renewable energy market is highly attractive as it has the potential to reduce India's rising demand supply gap, hence becoming a key cog in the wheel for India's energy security strategy. The government in India has placed an encouraging policy & regulatory framework with a combination of feed-in tariffs, renewable procurement obligations, and Renewable Energy Certificates. The most dominant asset classes, wind and solar, have attracted considerable supplier interest and hence equipment and EPC is available at increasing competitive rates thus boosting margins. The Jawahar Lal Nehru National Solar Mission (JNNSM) and several state-level solar policies are helping develop solar energy market. Recent budgetary allocation for generation based incentives and reintroduction for accelerated depreciation for wind power will spur investments in wind energy. The size of the renewable energy market will see further growth as the application of Renewable Purchase Obligation expands to cover open access and captive consumers.

Solar Power:

The Government has set a mammoth new goal to build a solar power capacity of 100 GW in an energy-starved-but-hungry country, permitting 100% foreign investment and offering a series of tax breaks for the fledgling sector. Government is considering to bring long term policies and scheme for installing solar power plants with 1 lakh MW capacity in the country. It has announced revision of the target of renewable energy capacity of the MNRE to 1,75,000 MW by 2022. The revised target of 1,75,000 MW comprises of capacity addition of 1,00,000 MW Solar, 60,000 MW Wind, 10,000 MW Biomass and 5,000 MW Small Hydro Power. The Government has rolled out a scheme for setting up and development of at least 25 Solar Parks and Ultra Mega Solar Power Projects targeting over 20,000 MW of solar power installed capacity within a span of 5 years starting from 2014-15 at various locations in the country with a view to create required infrastructure for setting up of Solar Power Projects besides CFA and grants concessional customs duty/ excise duty exemption for setting up of solar power plants, Accelerated Depreciation and Tax Holidays.

A Green Energy Corridor project is under implementation for evacuation of renewable energy from generation points to the load centers by creating intra-state and inter-state transmission infrastructure. RE-INVEST 2015 Concludes with 2,66,000 MW Commitments of Green Energy. The Government has launched various schemes to set up grid-connected solar power plants. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) added renewable energy under priority lending but with a cap of INR150 million (US$2.5 million) for renewable energy generators and INR1 million (US$16,393) per borrower for residential customers.

India is endowed with vast solar energy potential. About 5,000 trillion kWh per year energy is incident over India's land area with most parts receiving 4-7 kWh per sq. m per day. Hence both technology routes for conversion of solar radiation into heat and electricity, namely, solar thermal and solar photovoltaics, can effectively be harnessed providing huge scalability for solar in India. Solar also provides the ability to generate power on a distributed basis and enables rapid capacity addition with short lead times. Off-grid decentralized and low-temperature applications will be advantageous from a rural electrification perspective and meeting other energy needs for power and heating and cooling in both rural and urban areas. From an energy security perspective, solar is the most secure of all sources, since it is abundantly available. Theoretically, a small fraction of the total incident solar energy (if captured effectively) can meet the entire country's power requirements. It is also clear that given the large proportion of poor and energy un-served population in the country, every effort needs to be made to exploit the relatively abundant sources of energy available to the country. While, today, domestic coal based power generation is the cheapest electricity source, future scenarios suggest that this could well change.

Business Outlook:

The Government's vision of providing power 24x7 to each household has ignited new optimism in the power industry, especially with the exploration of renewable energy sources which offer excellent opportunities amid challenges for the industry. The RE-INVEST 2015 concluded that the green energy commitments worth 2,66,000 MW. Gol has announced a massive renewable power production target of 175,000 MW by 2022, comprising 100,000 MW from solar power, 60,000 MW from wind energy, 10,000 MW from biomass and 5,000 MW from small hydro power projects. Further due to reduction in floor price of solar REC and recent judgments by various courts and strict compliance of REC obligation, the off take of REC has also shown improvement which will help in improving the financial viability of the project.

RISKS AND CONCERNS

Inadequate risk management is a primary cause of concern indicated by most organizations in India. To be in a position to have fully identified all risks associated with a project and have a response plan for each; that is clearly a benchmark most organizations acknowledge, nevertheless, do little about it. Risk Management by its very nature is flawed because it only identifies the things project managers know; it fails to appreciate the "unknown", "unknowns", the "un-controllable". That said, the more risks identified and planned for, the better position the project team is in to deliver a successful project. Risk Management has been identified as a best practice by most respondents. Moreover, there is a growing concern among Organizations about inaccurate risk identification. The project will yield continuous flow of revenue for the Company.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEM AND ITS ADEQUACY

The Company has adequate Internal Control Systems and Procedures with regard to purchase of Stores, Raw Materials including Components, Plant and Machinery, equipment, sale of goods and other assets. - 1 The Company's employee benefits primarily cover provident fund, gratuity and leave encashment.
- 2 Provident fund is a defined contribution scheme and the company has no further obligation beyond the contribution made to the fund. Contributions are charged to the Profit & Loss Account in the year in which they accrue.
- 3 Gratuity liability is a defined benefit obligation and is based on the actuarial valuation done by the Life Insurance Corporation. The gratuity liability and the net periodic gratuity cost is actually determined after considering discount rates, expected long-term return on plan assets and increase in compensation level.
