AND miles TO GO...

RESTING ON PAST LAURELS DOESN'T LEAD TO A PROMISING FUTURE. INSTEAD IT BREEDS A FALSE SENSE OF COMPLACENCY, WHICH IN TURN ACTS AS A KEY IMPEDIMENT TO TEST ONE'S POTENTIAL OR THE ABILITY TO ACHIEVE MORE.

At Sangam (India), we have always believed in the power of persistence and moving on. Dynamism defines what we do at Sangam (India) - be it setting up an integrated business model - from yarn to fabric; be it leading the market in terms of leadership in PV yarns or be it establishing our brand in suitings and denim segments.

In 2014, we continued to remain dynamic and relevant with the changing times. We focused on strengthening our core business and exited the toll business completely. This led to a temporary loss in revenues but has led to an overall sharper focus on where we want to be in the times to come. With the economic sentiments improving both globally and in Indian context, our foundations built on the tenets of quality, design and affordability are all set to shape our growth story.

Being a quality textiles player catering to an entire spectrum of customers globally - from quality-conscious to price-conscious, we still believe that the best is yet to come. And that's why we continue to challenge our own selves to perform better. Each day. Every way.

Shri RP Soni reviews the performance of the past year and shares his insights on Sangam
India's future plans

FUTURE IS EVER-CHANGING AND ALWAYS EVOLVING. THEREFORE THE BEST WAY TO STAY RELEVANT IN AN INCREASINGLY COMPETITIVE SPACE LIKE TEXTILES IS TO CONTINUOUSLY CHALLENGE ONESELF TO STRIVE HARDER. AT SANGAM (INDIA) WE HAVE NOT BUILT A CULTURE TO SUCCEED BUT TO EXCEL. IN THE PAST 30 YEARS SINCE OUR INCEPTION, WE HAVE NOT ONLY ESTABLISHED OUR CREDENTIALS AS A LEADER IN THE PV YARN AND FABRICS; BUT MORE IMPORTANTLY, HAVE ALSO ESTABLISHED A CULTURE OF DELIVERING PERFECT QUALITY AND CUSTOMISED QUANTITY, WHILE BEING AGNOSTIC TO THE CHALLENGES.

2013-14 was therefore a year of further strengthening our foundations. We continued to explore possibilities to improve quality, control costs and fortify scale in each of our businesses. We focused on improving the access to key markets through strengthening our dealer network in key cities and towns. We focused on improving the brand recall around “Sangam Suitings” through a concerted advertising campaign featuring renowned actor and our brand ambassador Mr. Ajay Devgn. We also continued to focus on improving efficiency across processes by modernising several of them through incremental investments. Being a leader is all about rediscovering one’s strengths and setting newer standards. Our efforts sustained in this direction also gave us valuable edge during the year under review with the appreciation of dollar. Our exports improved by 14% from ₹301 crore to ₹342 crore, thereby enabling us to fill the temporary vacuum created by our exit from the toll-collection business.

2013-14 was also a year of honing our focus. In the past few years, we encountered a tumultuous period in the textiles industry, thereby diversified to infrastructure sector to improve our top line and margins. While the investments were largely limited to fiduciary commitment, the rewards were better than expected. However, sometimes one has to give up the smaller things to achieve greater feats. At Sangam, we have always believed textiles to be our mainstay and core business. With the economic environment improving globally and in India, it was time for us to focus exclusively on our strength. And that’s where we decided to exit toll-collection project. This has led to small erosion visible in our revenues and margins for the year. But looking at the bigger picture, we are confident that such erosion will be a small blip in an otherwise sustained growth story envisioned by the company in the coming years.

2014-15 is expected to be even crucial year. The year has unfolded amidst mass-euphoria of being a stepping-stone to a promising future. The signs are visible, though early days. Indian textiles industry is shaping well in light of increasing consumption, demographic advantage, improving purchasing power and improved aspirations. To tap the trends, our focus on denims, PV fabrics and suitings are gradually paying off. The need now however is to expand the scale in respective businesses. The blueprint of the expansion to be undertaken is already prepared and in the coming months we will embark on expansion for our capacities and also improve our product portfolio to focus on value-added products.

We would like to thank our stakeholders, investors, employees and customers for their unstinted support. We remain confident in the effectiveness of our present efforts to translate into better results going forward.

RP Soni, Chairman

IT DOESN'T MATTER
HOW slowly you go
AS LONG AS
you don't stop

Value creation is a long-term strategy. One has to persist through ups and downs and yet remain focused on the bigger picture. At Sangam, we have strived each day to create value through small steps. Having started three decades ago, we have continuously invested into creating an ecosystem through products and processes. Our efforts in PV Yarn and fabrics have been rewarded us with leadership positions in the segments and we have also fortified our capacities since 2005.

This enabled us to capitalise upon the evolving fashion trends and rising consumption among Indians in the past decade. We further ventured into branded suitings and denim – which have fleshed out to be the key drivers of our growth in the past two years. Today, Sangam has expanded its presence from the homes to board-rooms to clubs – in the lives of our customers. We are not celebrating yet. Instead, gearing up for the next wave of growth.

In the coming years, our focus will be on expanding our existing capacities in yarns, fabrics and denim and also expand our product profile to include value-added products. We believe that value creating is like running a marathon – its not a competition with everyone else but one's own self. And to this end, we continue to take longer strides.

PERSISTENCE
WHEN ALL ELSE fails

Beyond every large obstacle awaits a larger prize. However, the challenges can look daunting sometimes, but the key is not to lose focus or be overwhelmed. Competing in a segment having over-capacity has remained a challenge. However, we at Sangam viewed it as a bigger opportunity. For us to excel in such segment, it was important to reposition the customer's needs as per our strengths.

So we focused not only on improving economies of scale, but building flexible capacities that could cater to varied demand – both in terms of quality and quantity. We invested into state-of-the-art quality control systems so that the cost of rework or wastage can be eliminated and therefore superior quality leads to higher premiums. We invested into our design teams and enabled them to track global trends and fashion; thereby fusing it with Indian preferences and price points to offer holistic products.

Having established our credentials as a yarn and fabric player, the focus now is to further improve our denim and suitings products. In 2013-14 we introduced a host of processes for denims, which would further enable us to widen our share in the mid-range denim market in India in the coming years. In addition, improving retail penetration in suitings will also enable us to overcome the challenges to craft the next level of growth for the company.

IF OPPORTUNITY
DOESN'T knock,
BUILD A door

Waiting is painful. Waiting demands patience. Waiting is subject to the mercy of uncontrollable factors. At Sangam, we believe in creating opportunities rather than waiting for them. In an otherwise leaner economic phase of 2009-14, we focused on strengthening each and every aspect of our business. The focus in 2013-14 was to reclaim the fiduciary strength, which we did by paying-off our loans and consolidating our business presence.

In doing so, we also created key growth drivers – one of which was scale. Having built large scale enabled us to translate the opportunity into numbers in terms of exports. During 2013-14, our exports earnings improved by 14% and we continued to seed market presence in countries like Turkey, Portugal, Egypt, China, Poland, Brazil, Germany, Belgium, Chile, Italy, Australia, Japan, UK, USA UAE, South Africa, etc.

We are now gearing for the next stage of expansion – with foray into seamless garment segment. Seamless Garment technology is advancement in apparel industry, which eliminates the fabric laying, cutting and sewing process. By eliminating the cutting and sewing process, complete garment knitting provides a variety of advantages in knitting production such as saving in cost and time, higher productivity, quick response production, homogeneity, etc. This project would further add greater value to our brand and would be a strategic fit to our existing portfolio.

SEE beyond WHAT IS visible

Trends, fashion, and preferences – all change with time. The mantra of being successful is to not only keep in-sync with the times but to plan ahead. India is evolving faster as we speak. The immense opportunity in terms of world's largest working population is visible yet is expected to age faster than other developed countries. The opportunity is therefore to keep the traits of affordability and wide choice intact, when it comes to reaching out to customers.

At Sangam, we have laid a strong, exhaustive and credible network of dealers and clients. This network enabled us to tap the changing trends in terms of demand, product preferences and customer insights for all the relevant markets. This mechanism has enabled us not only to market our products (old and new) seamlessly; but more importantly have enabled us to remain competitive and not get complacent. As a result, we have continuously ensured that both our costs and margins remain intact in wake of rising input costs.

Our ability to invest into long term value creation – be it our denim business or our PV Yarn business has also led to sustained build-up of demand and brand recognition. Our ability to spot, employ and nurture the right talent across our locations has resulted in creation of an intellectual melting pot of sorts – thereby empowering us to think beyond what meets the eye. And to wade through deeper waters by creating the right ripples.

Aspire, NEVER TO HAVE MORE, BUT to be more

At Sangam India, we believe that we are more than what we do. A business or corporate being a microcosm of the society can also play an active and efficient role in creating a better world. At Sangam, we have always invested the time and resources to create an ecosystem comprising of education, healthcare, environment and employment creation for the communities we work with.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Economic Overview

2013 was a year of recovery for the global economy. With the struggle persisting in developed markets (the Eurozone in recession for much of the year) and living standards in most of the developed world still below their 2007 peak. 2013-14 witnessed two great stories in the world economy: the structural shift from the developed world towards the emerging world; and the cyclical climb out of a recession. The first continued in first half of the financial year, but at a slightly slower pace than before. Growth in China, at 7.5 per cent, was its slowest for 23 years. Things also slowed in India, to a little below 5 per cent, far slow when compared to the past eight years. Africa, encouragingly, grew by more than 5 per cent.

As for the second story, in the developed world what had started as an uneven and patchy recovery began to strengthen. The US, despite having to cope with feuding over its budget, seems to have sped up. It has been creating jobs and its housing market improved sharply. In Europe there was a better story too, though an uneven one. The north, led by Germany, had a solid year, reducing unemployment and boosting living standards. Across the Mediterranean the pattern was more disappointing, with Italy, Spain, Portugal and Greece all enduring a year of rising unemployment. However, the numbers have started to improve. Europe and the euro are not out of trouble, but the acute phase of their difficulties may be past. 2014-15 expects to deliver which much better and more balanced growth than any year since 2007.

Indian Textile Industry contributes about 11 percent to industrial production, 14 per cent to the manufacturing sector, 4 percent to the GDP and 12 per cent to the country's total export earnings.

Indian Economy

Just when the Indian economy couldn't get any lower in terms of performances, 2013-14 is expected to breach the 5.5 per cent mark to reach near 5 per cent; its lowest in the past decade. The uneven political climate led to stagnant economical scenario – thereby leading to lower infusion of investments in to infrastructure and core industries – also leading to lower capex and less job creation. The inflation remained on the higher side, thereby reducing the disposable income and leading to lower consumer spends. The banking system in India continued to grapple with rising delinquencies and higher scrutiny from the regulators. The process for new licenses was set into the motion, with the onset of the new Governor. The rates were increased a couple of times to counter the rising inflation, thereby leading to turning off the tap to bare minimum when it came to funding at competitive rates by the banks. The core industries and the infrastructure sectors witnessed lower traction in terms of activity, thereby leading to lukewarm economic activity across key states.

TEXTILE INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Sectoral snippets

-  Largest employment generating industry in India, contributing over 11% to total industrial production and 12% to India's export earnings.
-  Industry is expected to double to USD141b in the next seven years.
-  Currency advantage, cotton availability, skilled and cheap labor, subsidized capital from government and growing capacities provide huge potential.
-  Impediments such as capital availability and labor reforms are likely to be addressed soon by the government

Indian

Indian Textile Industry contributes about 11 percent to industrial production, 14 per cent to the manufacturing sector, 4 percent to the GDP and 12 per cent to the country's total export earnings. It provides direct employment to over 35 million people, the second largest provider of employment after agriculture. Besides, another 54.85 million people are engaged in its allied activities.

The fundamental strength of this industry flows from its strong production base of wide range of fibres / yarns from natural fibres like cotton, jute, silk and wool to synthetic /man-made fibres like polyester, viscose, nylon and acrylic. We can just track the strong multi-fibre strong base by highlighting the following important positions reckon by this industry across globe are:

-  Cotton – Second largest cotton and cellulosic fibres producing country in the world.
-  Silk – India is the second largest producer of silk and contributes about 18% to the total world raw silk production.
-  Wool – India has 3rd largest sheep population in the world, having 6.15 crores sheep, producing 45 million kg of raw wool, and accounting for 3.1% of total world wool production. India ranks 6th amongst clean wool producer countries and 9th amongst greasy wool producers.
-  Man-Made Fibres – the fourth largest in synthetic fibres/ yarns globally.
-  Jute – India is the largest producer and second largest exporter of the jute goods.

The report of the Working Group constituted by the Planning Commission on boosting India's manufacturing exports during 12th Five Year Plan (2012-17), envisages India's exports of Textiles and Clothing at USD 64.41 billion by the end of March, 2017.

Performance in 2013-14

Textiles did remarkably well in an otherwise dull exports scenario in 2013-14. A weaker rupee and firm overseas demand helped the sector add $4 billion to overall exports of $312 billion, second only to engineering goods, which accounted for a $4.83-billion increase. Textile exports were worth $30.37 billion in 2013-14, up from $26.36 billion in the previous year - a growth of 15.24 per cent, compared to a decline of 3.11 per cent in 2012-13. All major segments in the sector grew at a healthy rate. Readymade garments, which accounts for nearly half of all textile exports at $14.93 billion, grew 15.53 per cent. Cotton yarn and fabrics grew 18 per cent to $8.88 billion, while manmade textiles grew nearly 13 per cent to $5.69 billion.

According to commerce ministry data, the share of textiles in export earnings increased from 8.78 per cent in 2012-13 to 9.72 per cent in 2013-14. Overall exports grew four per cent to $312.6 billion in the year ended March 2014. Had textile exports remained unchanged, overall export growth would have been less than three per cent.

FDI on the rise

Signalling a positive shift in investor sentiment in India's textile industry, the country attracted $198.86 million foreign capital in the sector during April-March 2013-14, up 91.41 percent. The country had attracted foreign direct investment (FDI) of $103.89 million during April-March, 2012-13. According to the Textiles Ministry, the FDI inflow in the sector so far stood at $11.70 million during April-May, 2014-15. The government's implementation of various schemes like technology upgradation fund scheme (TUFS), scheme for integrated textile parks (SITP), integrated skill development scheme (ISDS) have continued to attract maximum utilisation of FDI in textile sector during the year under review.

Key demand drivers

Favourable demographics: The Indian demographic age is ripe for consumption where style dominates utility. The median age of the Indian consumer is 26 years with maximum population lying in the age bracket of 15- 59 years; it is expected that India will add another 140 mn people in the consuming age group by 2020. This population has more aspirations, is more aware, has higher spending power and is expected to consume across a greater number of categories than the previous generation.

Higher disposable income: According to the Indian census report, the number of households with an annual income of $7,000 or more is going to treble from about 30 mn today to 100 mn by 2020. There will be c.400 mn individuals in the middle to high income bracket by 2020.

APPARELS – A NEW GROWTH STORY

India's total textile and apparel industry size (Domestic + Exports) was estimated to be USD 89 billion in 2011 and is projected to grow at a CAGR of 9.5% to reach USD 223 billion by 2021.

Denim segment – a key growth driver

India is the second-largest producers of denims after China. Of the total denims manufactured in India, 700 million metres are used in the domestic market and the rest is exported. The denim market in India is growing at a very fast pace, with the market for branded jeans constituting over ₹ 2,000 crore in the country. India is growing at the rate of 10-15% per year. While an American owns an average of eight pairs of jeans, an Indian has just a fraction, at 0.35, with even a Chinese national ahead with one pair of jeans bought every year.

The denim market is witnessing both value and volume growth. While the mid-value segment is driving volume growth, the value growth is due to increased demand in enhanced product attributes-fashion quotient, stretch and lightweight fabric, styling and detailing. Today, it is the fastest growing apparel segment in India, with the growth estimates expected to clock between 15-18% range for 2011-21.

The current denim market is largely skewed towards men's segment, which can be taken as about 80% of the total market. The women's wear market is projected to grow faster here onwards and will potentially account for about more than 25% of the total market by 2015. Currently the larger cities and the metros together contribute nearly 57% of the total market.

The current market size of denim wear in India is largely skewed towards the Metros and mini metros. Metros and mini metros with about 7% of population contribute to about 50% of the market share in denim wear. The tier 2 and tier 3 cities - which again, constitute about 8% of the population, contribute only a 16% of the market share in denim wear.

MMF Industry

India is fifth largest producer of synthetic fiber and yarn in the world. Polyester, nylon, acrylic and polypropylene are the major synthetic fibers. Viscose, which is cellulosic fiber, is also included in the man-made fibres basket. MMF has beaten cotton in global textile trade, constituting 68% of it. But India accounts for only 3% of the global manmade textile exports as cotton dominates the Indian textile industry.

A recent industry research report says that factors like rise in disposable income, growing consumer class, rising urbanization, increasing retail penetration and limited supply of cotton is set to increase the consumption of man-made fibres (MMFs) like polyester and viscose in India at a compounded annual growth rate of 5.2 per cent till 2015-16.
