Operational Highlights – A Year of Strategic Consolidation and Forward Momentum

Asset-Light Model: In FY 2024–25, the company reinforced its operational and strategic foundation, with a key emphasis on transitioning further into an asset-light business model. This approach has strengthened capital efficiency, scalability, and responsiveness—enabling the company to pursue growth with greater discipline and speed.

Cost Rationalisation: A focused cost rationalisation drive was implemented, delivering significant improvements in operational efficiency. Through systematic expense control and restructuring of overheads, the company bolstered its bottom line. Project selection was recalibrated with a strategic lens—favoring only those engagements that offered financial viability and long-term value creation.

Legacy Claims Resolution: Significant strides were made towards resolution of legacy arbitration claims, which, when fully resolved, will not only unlock considerable value but also enhance the company's liquidity position.

Strategic Partnerships: The company deepened its strategic alliance with Braithwaite Burn and Jessop and expanded its footprint to enter the ropeway construction segment through joint venture relationship with KEC. This will result in stronger execution capabilities and access to advanced technical know-how.

Optimised Execution Model: Execution excellence was further reinforced by rebalancing the project delivery model, to arrive at a calibrated mix of self-executed and sub-contracted projects. This shift provided better control over timelines, quality, and costs—leading to more predictable and efficient outcomes.

These outcomes reflect Twamev's steadfast focus on building a leaner, more resilient, and future-ready organisation, well-positioned to capitalise on emerging opportunities in the infrastructure sector.
