Management Discussion and Analysis Report

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Over the last four years, the Infrastructure Sector in India has been sluggish with several players facing a sharp downturn in their businesses. While the government has made an effort to boost the economy with a push coming to infrastructure, the effects of the same are yet to be seen. Projects are fraught with land issues. Financing of infrastructure projects has become extremely tight as several infrastructure players being unable to service and repay their debt obligations.

Companies have had to abruptly realign their business models with a focus shifting from top line growth to operational efficiencies and cash generation for short-term obligations. Such effects has a spiraling effects down from larger companies to smaller ones who have in turn not been able to realize cash flows as projected and have entered into turbulent unforeseen waters.

INDIA'S INFRASTRUCTURE SECTOR

India, to continue to grow, needs to invest heavily in creating physical infrastructure of the kind that can support its growth aspirations. Infrastructure growth is a precursor for industrial growth and the demand for the provision of power, transportation and logistics go hand in hand with growth of the economy. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) estimates that overall infrastructure investment in the country would need to be increased to around 8% of the GDP from the current 5% - 6% levels by the 2020 and beyond to sustain the needs of the Indian economy.

Keeping in line with their focus on infrastructure growth, the Government of India has significantly increased allocation of funds by ₹ 70,000 crore for investments in infrastructure in the Union Budget 2015-16. However, infrastructure projects have a longer gestation and newly announced projects would take time to materialize as they may face land acquisition, environmental hurdles and other problems similar to several stalled projects in the country. A concerted effort needs to also be placed on long pending disputes and their resolutions. According to the Government of India's Economic Survey 2014-15, the rate of stalled projects has increased alarmingly in the last five years. By December 2014, the total value of stalled projects across sectors was about US$139 billion with the top 100 projects accounting for 83% of the total value of stalled works.

To further delve into the major factors influencing stalled projects, while electricity and power projects have been stalled largely due to non-availability of fuel/coal, the road sector has faced land acquisition delays along. Environmental clearances have brought several real estate, infrastructure and road sector projects to a grinding halt.

The significant increase in stalled projects and their continued hindrances have created an environment of uncertainty. Several projects have been stalled mid-way causing the investment in them in turn becoming difficult to recuperate and loans taken turning bad. The Government needs to place larger stress on resolving older disputes and hindrances to bring the stalled projects out of litigation and restart progress on the same to create an environment conducive for infrastructure growth. Negotiation committees have been put in place in organizations like NHAI and more efforts of the sort needs to be in place with other government bodies to bring disputes to a closure as early as possible.

BUSINESS STRATEGY

Like several other companies in the infrastructure space, your Company has also been a victim of very challenging unforeseen circumstances. In order to execute the projects at hand in the prior years, your company had to borrow from banks similar to others in the industry. However with cash flows and payments becoming hard to come by the debt burden had become very difficult to service. With profits declining and converting to losses resulting from payment delays and several large projects being stuck in litigation and disputes with clients, in order to bridge the cash flow mismatch your company had opted from restructuring its debt obligations with its bankers in 2013 to obtain interest servicing moratorium and deferment of debt obligations.

However, the downturn has continued for longer than anticipated and realization of debts becoming harder to come by with several debts turning unrecoverable and hence written off. To tide with these difficult times, your Company has approached its bankers for a second debt restructuring which is in consideration by the bankers.

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

Simultaneously your company has heavily increasingly focused on cash flows and growing order book to revive the business and have a parallel income stream while the old debtors realization and their related litigations take time. Your company is focusing increasingly on operational efficiencies and pressing its legitimate claims on the clients while keeping a balance between recoverable amounts, ability of clients to pay along with the cost of such litigation and arbitrations. Efforts are also being given to monetize non core assets and exploring alternative businesses that can generate sustainable cash flows meanwhile.

Your Company has taken several steps on all these fronts during 2014-15 and continues to do so. However, the efforts and opportunities for their success, as those by others in this business, have been largely determined by the prevailing business environment and market conditions which, remains both problematic and uncertain.

OPPORTUNITY & THREATS

Government initiatives for development of infrastructure projects to boost Indian economy offers further prospects of increase in Company's order book. Business in partnership with international collaborators seeking to enter the country remains a large opportunity. Infrastructure Technology innovation, particularly in the affordable housing sector which is expected to see a large boom has the potential of increasing the speed of execution while simultaneously reducing the cost of construction and thus increasing margins.

Having said that, "Realty & Infrastructure" on the ground is not moving with the same pace as the talks. The sector has been demanding a single window clearance to improve ease of doing business, which still remains to be implemented by the Government. Everyone is awaiting the full policy announcement on small cities concept so that this wonderful initiative can be put in place in full. It will not be out of place to mention that until and unless industry status is granted to the real estate sector, this sector will face severe difficulties in raising cheaper funds.

RISK AND INTERNAL ADEQUACY

Your Company has an elaborate Risk Management procedure addressing management of business related risks, operation risks and efficiencies as well as policy and statutory compliances. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantially enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets are recognized for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realized. ### 2.16 Joint Venture Operations

In respect of contracts executed in Integrated Joint Ventures under profit sharing arrangement (assessed as AOP under Income tax laws), the services rendered to the Joint Ventures are accounted as income on accrual basis. If any indication of impairment exists, the recoverable amount of such assets is estimated and impairment is recognised, if the carrying amount of these assets exceeds their recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except in case of revalued assets.

2.18 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

2.19 Service Tax Input Credits

Note 2: SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Principles of Consolidation

The Consolidated Financial Statements relate to Kaushalya Infrastructure Development Corporation Limited ("the company") and its subsidiary companies, associates & joint ventures. The consolidated financial statements have been accounted for in accordance with Accounting Standard 21- Consolidated Financial Statements, Accounting Standard 23-Accounting for Investments in Associates in Consolidated Financial Statements and Accounting Standard 27- Financial Reporting of Interests in Joint Ventures respectively of the Companies Accounting Standards (Rules), 2014. The Consolidated Financial Statements are prepared on the following basis :-

- i. Subsidiary companies are consolidated on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of the like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses after fully eliminating intra-group balances and intra group transactions and also unrealized profit or loss, except where cost cannot be recovered. The results of operations of a subsidiary are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which the parent subsidiary relationship came into existence.
- ii. Interests in the assets, liabilities, income and expenses of the Joint Ventures are consolidated using proportionate consolidation method. Intra group balances, transactions and unrealized profit/loss are eliminated to the extent of the Company's proportionate share, except where cost cannot be recovered.
- iii. The difference between the cost to the investment in Subsidiaries and Joint Ventures and the proportionate share in the equity of the investee company as at the date of acquisition of stake is recognized in the consolidated financial statements as Goodwill or Capital Reserve, as the case may be. Goodwill arising on consolidation is tested for impairment annually.
- iv. Minorities' interest in net Profits/Loss of consolidated subsidiaries for the year is identified and adjusted against the income in order to arrive at the net income attributable to the shareholders of the Company. Their share of net assets is identified and presented in the Consolidated Balance Sheet separately. Where accumulated losses attributable to the minorities are in excess of their equity, in the absence of the contractual obligation on the minorities, the same is accounted for by the holding company.
- v. Investments in Associates are accounted for using the equity method, under which the investment is initially recorded at cost, identifying any goodwill/ capital reserve arising at the time of acquisition. The carrying amount of the investment is adjusted thereafter for the post acquisition change in the share of net assets of the Associate, after eliminating unrealised profit or losses resulting from transactions between the company and its associates to the extent of its share, through its Consolidated Profit and Loss Statement, to the extent such change is attributable to the associates' Profit and Loss Statement and through its reserves for the balance based on available information. Where the associate prepares and presents consolidated financial statements, such consolidated financial statements of the associate are used for the purpose of equity accounting. In other cases, standalone financial statements of associates are used for the purpose of consolidation.
- vi. As far as possible, the consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances and are presented, to the extent possible, in the same manner as the Company's standalone financial statements. Differences in accounting policies are disclosed separately.

2.15 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

2.16 Taxes on income

"Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

Deferred tax is recognized on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantially enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets are recognized for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realized. However, if there are unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses, deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise the assets.

2.17 Impairment of assets

The carrying values of assets / cash generating units at each Balance Sheet date are reviewed for impairment. If any indication of impairment exists, the recoverable amount of such assets is estimated and impairment is recognised, if the carrying amount of these assets exceeds their recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor. When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except in case of revalued assets.

2.18 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

2.19 Service Tax Input Credits

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received.
