EFFICIENCY. INCH WIDE. MILE DEEP.

What was a challenging 2015-16 for the ferro alloys industry was a profitable growth year at Maithan Alloys.

Revenues grew 4% (consolidated); profit after tax strengthened 50% (consolidated).

This sectoral outperformance was the result of an intensive focus on a singular attribute.

Efficiency.

MAITHAN ALLOYS IS NOT JUST ANOTHER INDIAN
MANGANESE ALLOYS
COMPANY.

IT IS ONE OF THE MOST COMPETITIVE IN THE WORLD.

Working at the specialised end of its business.

Addressing the needs of large quality-obsessed steel manufacturers.

Transforming one-off transactions into enduring relationships.

Working with predictable revenue visibility, good markets or bad.

Emerging as an annuity-like business in a volatile sector.

COMPANY IDENTITY

Maithan Alloys commenced commercial production in 1997 with an installed capacity of 10 MVA and grew steadily thereafter. The Company possesses an installed capacity of 136 MVA as on 31 March 2016 and is today India's largest manganese alloy producer and exporter. The Company is managed by the Asansol-based Agarwalla family that has been engaged in the business for over two decades.

OPERATIONS

Maithan Alloys has specialised in the manufacture of the following alloys:

● Ferro manganese

An alloy of iron and manganese. Used in steel products where the silicon content needs to be minimised. Generally used in flat steel and stainless steel manufacture.

● Silico manganese

Cost-effective blend of silicon and manganese. Primarily used by steel manufacturers. Found in all steel products. Used in higher quantities in 200 series stainless steel, alloy steel and manganese steel.

● Ferro silicon

An iron and silicon composite. Silicon acts as a steel oxidant. Used primarily in special steels and in small quantities in mild steel.

LOCATION

Maithan Alloys manufacturing operations across three geographic locations.

Kalyaneshwari unit

Near Asansol, West Bengal. Services clients within India.

Vishakhapatnam unit

Enjoys SEZ status and tax incentives until 2022. Caters to international clients owing to its proximity to two major sea port.

Ri-Bhoi unit in Meghalaya

Dedicated to servicing domestic ferro silicon demand.

Maithan Alloys also operates three wind turbine generators WTGs (one in Maharashtra and two in Rajasthan) with a cumulative capacity of 3.75 MW backed by power purchase agreements with state governments.

CLIENTS

Maithan Alloys has established a downstream client base across the length and breadth of the country. The Company established long-term relationships with prominent steel manufacturing clients like SAIL, JSW, JSPL and JSL. Almost 100% of its domestic sales were to clients associated with the Company for over seven years. The Company also catered to international clients across five continents.

A number of international clients are recent as the Company shifted focus from 'stable' Europe to 'growing' Asia following the global meltdown in 2008.

TECHNOLOGY

The Company has ISO 9001:2000 certification for quality processes, ISO 18001:2007 for health and safety and is moving towards ISO 14001 for environment management.

LISTING

The Company is listed on National Stock Exchange and got trading permission on Bombay Stock Exchange. The promoter's holding in the Company was 72.46% as on 31st March 2016.

WHEN YOU FABRICATE PLANTS THAT ARE USED TO MANUFACTURE PRODUCTS, YOU DON'T JUST CREATE BETTER PLANTS; YOU CREATE A STRONGER BUSINESS.

At Maithan Alloys, we have always prided that we possess a deep understanding of our business.

This understanding is not just product-centric; it is plant-driven as well.

At Maithan Alloys, we do not just manufacture products, we also build the plants that manufacture them.

The result is that we possess a deep insight into the interplay of equipment and resources; we are able to understand debottlenecking opportunities; we are able to estimate just what efficiencies a plant would be able to report before we invest afresh.

The result is the ability to generate a larger throughput from our manufacturing facilities than most players; the result is also the ability to maximise asset utilisation that translates into – higher volumes at one end and enhanced competitiveness on the other.

We believe that this competence will be increasingly leveraged should the Company select to buy manufacturing facilities or select to commission greenfield capacities.

OUR 'INCH WIDE, MILE DEEP' POSITIONING IS FOCUSED AROUND MAXIMISING EFFICIENCY.

This efficiency is not only about running plants at a high capacity utilisation or maximising output from a given input.

AT MAITHAN ALLOYS, 'EFFICIENCY' IS MORE THAN A SLOGAN. IT IS AN ATTITUDE INSTEAD.

At our Company, 'efficiency' is an unceasing quest for perfection.

The Maithan mindset is about asking, 'What will the customer need tomorrow?' when everybody is engaged in addressing the needs of the today.

The Maithan restlessness is about 'How can we help the customer manufacture a better product?' when everybody is concerned about their own product.

The Maithan obsession is about 'How can we research deeper?' When most people are worried about managing current cash flows.

The Maithan magic is about provoking our people with 'Are you sure this is the best you can do?' when everybody merely assumes that their people are doing just that.

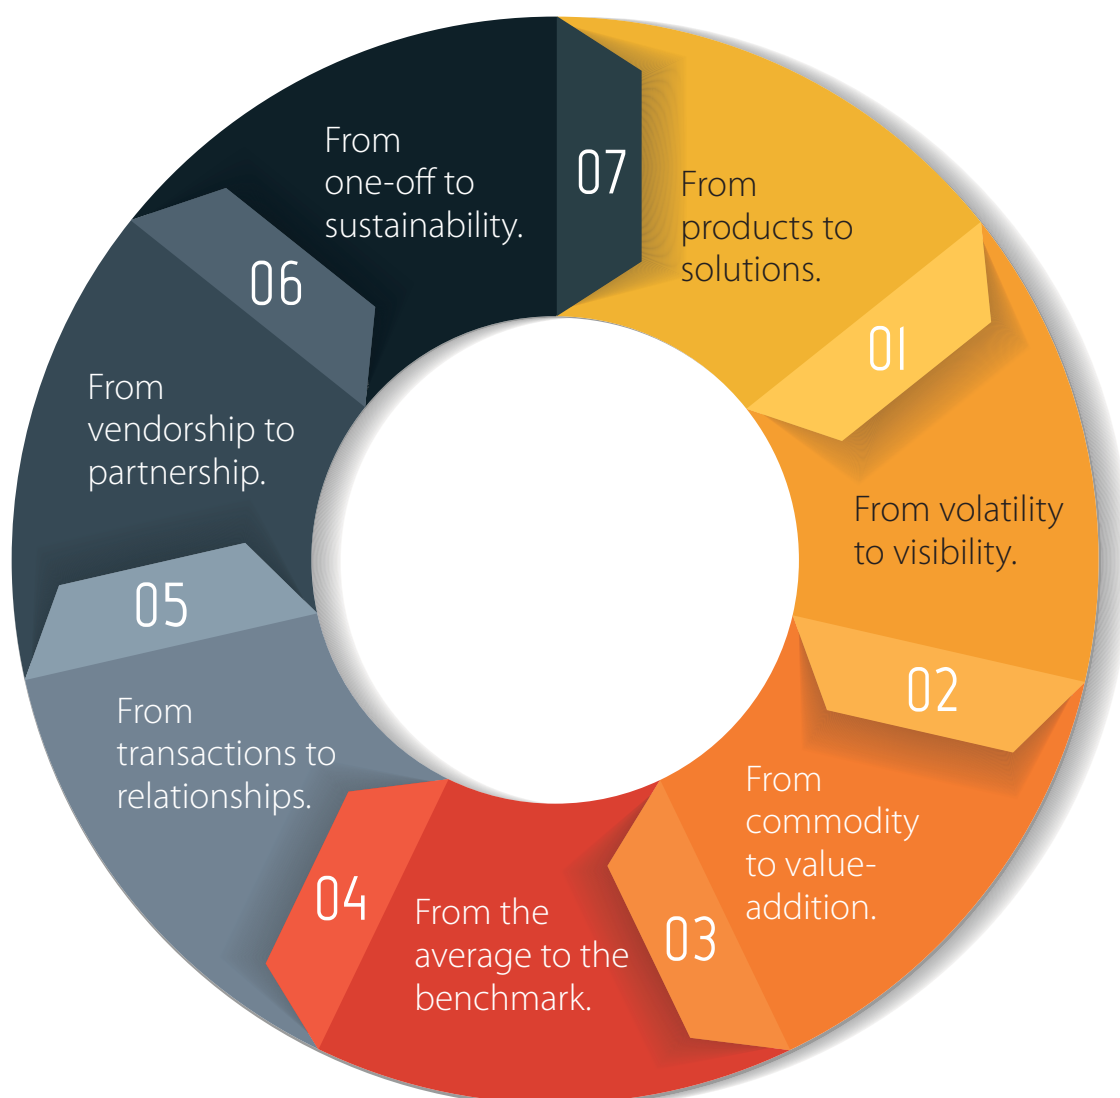

The Maithan passion is about 'Does this represent the very best standard in the world?' when most are aspiring to be the best in their region or country.

The result of our differentiated attitude is that Maithan Alloys has reported consistently stable profits even as the broad sector has reported volatile margins and huge losses. The Company is respected as one of the most efficient in its space in the world. The Company reported aggregate cash profits of ₹ 438 crore in the seven years ending 2015-16, one of the most challenging period in the global manganese alloys, steel and alloys industries. At Maithan, we feel that the rules of the game changed in 2008 and what transpired in the last seven years is a stable operating environment, not an aberration.

THE COMPANY'S CONSOLIDATED REVENUES GREW AT A COMPOUNDED 15% PER YEAR ACROSS THE LAST SIX YEARS, PROFIT BEFORE TAX BY 14% WITH STABLE MARGINS DURING THIS PERIOD.

AND ALL BECAUSE OF ONE REALITY. WE CHOSE TO BE DIFFERENT.
DIFFERENT IN THAT WE KEPT REINVENTING OUR ROLE, IDENTITY AND PERSONALITY.

BEFORE WE EXPLAIN WHAT MAITHAN ALLOYS IS, LET US START WITH SOME OF THE THINGS THE COMPANY IS NOT.

We are not a revenue-focused manganese alloys company.
We are a margins-driven company instead.

We are not in business to capture market share.
We are driven by the prospect of finding new applications for our products (expanding the market instead).

We are not in business to mass-market.

We are excited by the prospect of manufacturing products fetching the highest margins.

Most companies tend to focus on the entire eco-system.

We have selected to focus on the highest global conversion efficiencies.

Most companies first secure their resource needs through direct mine ownership.

We have remained asset-light, widened our flexibility to mobilise the best resource mix at the best trade terms.

Most alloy companies would have invested in captive power generation capacity and reduced production costs.

We minimised investment in captive power generation (except in one unit located in power-starved north-eastern India) and buy uninterrupted grid power at competitive rates (through long-term PPA).

Most manganese alloy companies find it tempting to play the ore markets.

We neither take positions on manganese ore prices nor do we keep our sales positions open.

Most manganese alloy companies are ridden with long-term debt.

Maithan Alloys is lowly geared at 0.35.

THIS IS HOW OUR INCH-WIDE, MILE-DEEP POSITIONING TRANSLATED INTO OUR BEST-EVER YEAR IN 2015-16.

Most alloy companies reported losses the world over.

We reported record profits instead.

Most alloy companies profits mirrored dropping alloy realisations.

We reported steady quarter-on-quarter growth in revenues and profits instead.

Most alloy companies selected to trade on raw material price movements.

We focused on manufacturing and marketing efficiencies instead.

Most alloy companies reported profits or losses from trading raw material.

We reported profits from core operations instead.

Most alloy companies enjoyed moderate revenue visibility.

We enjoyed a consistent order book for a quarter through the year.

MAITHAN ALLOYS IS ONE OF THE MOST RESPECTED FAST-GROWING MANGANESE ALLOY COMPANIES IN THE WORLD.

Q Were you pleased with the Company's performance in 2015-16?

A I am delighted. Most sectoral peers reported extensive losses and most mining companies saw realisations decline below operational costs. On the other hand, Maithan Alloys reported a cash profit of ₹119.06 crore and a PAT of ₹79.03 crore, reaffirming its distinctive long-term positioning.

Q What is this distinctive long-term positioning?

A We are a value-added manganese alloys manufacturer that conducts its business in a manner that is refreshingly distinct. This differentiation is reflected in the kind of products that we have selected to manufacture, the high throughput that we have consistently reported, the nature of long-term customers we cater to and our keen emphasis on process excellence. When prices in the industry declined to their lowest in a long time, our profits increased to their highest.

Q What was the principal reason behind this sharp sectoral decline?

A The principal reason was the decline in steel output in China, which produces and consumes 50% of global steel. This led to a glut in steel demand, spilling over to manganese alloys and to manganese ore. The result was that prices of each dropped sharply.

Q How did Maithan Alloys manage to remain profitable?

A I have two words to explain this phenomenon - 'discipline' and 'efficiency'. Let me start with the word 'discipline'. The manganese alloys sector is marked by resource volatility where there is always a temptation to play the raw material oscillation game. This is especially tempting because of the extensive profits that can be generated with even a reasonably open position. This is usually larger than the quantum of profits that can be generated from core manufacturing activities during a short period. However, there is a drawback as well; if prices begin to decline, there is a possibility that one can be virtually driven out of business in no time.

Consequently, at Maithan Alloys we consciously deliberated and evolved our identity a number of years ago. We decided to become a focused manufacturer and enhance our conversion efficiency. We resolved to keep our purchase and sale positions closed. We aspired for a level of competence that would be the best in the world. We chose to focus so extensively on our niche competence that it left us with virtually negligible bandwidth for peripheral competencies. Over time, a persistent implementation of this strategy translated into a distinctive discipline. We established a reputation of being a manufacturer that does not yield to shortsighted temptation. The result: what you see in our bottomline is a reflection of the profits derived from core manufacturing capabilities and not trading opportunism.

Q How did these attributes translate into the Company's Vizag unit performance?

A The Company commenced Vizag plant operations in December 2011 (through a subsidiary company). The capacity doubled overnight. 2012 was spent in stabilising operations of the four furnaces as they were gradually commissioned across in about 15 months. Entering into new relationships to market the enhanced quantity was a huge challenge which was addressed by mid-2013. The lower interest payment on dollar loans misled the management into believing that the performance of the unit was not bad. Comparing the EBITDA margins of Vizag unit with Kalyaneshwari for 2013-14 was an eye-opener. We realised that our Vizag unit proved to be performing like any other average alloy producer, a far cry from our prevailing standard. In 2014-15, the management replicated the Kalyaneshwari methodology at the Vizag plant. We reduced energy consumption, fine-tuned furnace operations and made daily operational reporting compulsory. This helped us reduce costs and increase capacity utilisation.

Besides, the Government had a 4% export benefit in place for all domestic tariff area and EOU (export oriented units) but not for SEZ units like ours. This resulted in a 4% drop in EBITDA margin. The situation was rectified and parity achieved from 1st April 2015 wherein a flat 2% export benefit was announced for DTA, EOU and SEZ units.

Q What is your message to the shareholders?

A One, I would advocate that shareholders appraise the quality of our bottomline, which does not contain any impact of trading profits or losses. Two, we ran our plants at close to 100% capacity utilisation, which is a reflection of the manner in which we managed our supply chain, improved our furnace uptime, created a fast-moving sales mix and forged ties with large global steel mills.

Q What is the outlook for 2016-17?

A Manganese alloys realisations increased sharply in the last quarter. Companies with large open positions reported a turnaround. It is quite likely that these handsome quarterly profits will translate into robust numbers during the first quarter of 2016-17. Since we do not play the commodity game, our bottomline in the first quarter of 2016-17 is likely to reflect the impact of core manufacturing profits around a consistent delta (difference between ore costs and end product realisations) and would be stable when compared to our retrospective profits. We expect similar numbers across the near future as well.

Most sectoral peers reported extensive losses and most mining companies saw realisations decline below operational costs. On the other hand, Maithan Alloys reported a cash profit of ₹119.06 crore and a PAT of ₹79.03 crore, reaffirming its distinctive long-term positioning.

Q What factors will drive Maithan's growth from this point onwards?

A This is possibly the biggest challenge that we are facing. We have two options: expand our capacities or acquire distressed assets. As far as the latter approach is concerned, we will continue to selectively appraise assets based on the realisation that a greenfield plant can take around four years to commission and stabilise whereas we have demonstrated the competence to transform sub-efficient operations within a year.

The five factors that contributed to our 2015-16 outperformance

- We produced more (2,06,178 tonnes compared to 1,57,920 tonnes in 2014-15)
- We turned our Vizag operations around – from a PBT of ₹2.15 crore in 2014-15 to a PBT of ₹48.31 crore
- We marketed more by acquiring a larger share of the customer's wallet
- We did not lose a single customer
- We did not trade raw materials; we focused on product manufacture

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Global economic overview

Global economic growth was pegged at 3.1% in 2015, marginally lower than in 2014. It is expected to grow to 3.8% in 2016. The slowdown in emerging economies has been attributed to freefalling commodity prices, rebalancing in China, plummeting oil prices and challenging macroeconomic factors. (Source: National Bureau of Statistics)

Oil prices saw a marked decline in September 2015, reflecting expectations of increase in production by OPEC members amid a steadily widening skew between global oil production and consumption. Future markets are currently suggesting only modest increases in prices in 2016 and 2017. Prices of other commodities, especially metals, have fallen as well. The United States remains resilient, supported by improving financial conditions and strengthening housing and labour markets, but with dollar strength weighing all too heavily on manufacturing activity, investment in mining structure and equipment segments has curtailed. The World Bank estimates that China grew at an estimated 6.9% in 2015. It is also estimated that China will grow at 6.7% in 2016 and 6.5% each in 2017 and 2018. Meanwhile, Russia and Brazil are projected to remain in recession in 2016. Although economies that are dependent on commodity exports may suffer, lower input prices for industry as well as lower fuel prices for households will provide a boost to aggregate demand and global growth.

Indian economic overview

India's economy expanded at a faster pace in 2015-16 despite a slowdown in GDP expansion in the third quarter of the fiscal under review. India's GDP growth stood at 7.6% in 2015-16 against 7.2% in 2014-15 – this jump was primarily catalysed by a sharp rise in manufacturing sector (9.5% growth in 2015-16 against 5.5% in 2014-15). The country reported a growth of 7.9% in the fourth quarter of 2015-16 to make it the fastest growing economy in the world.

The superior performance of the manufacturing sector was due to a significant fall in inputs costs following the collapse of global commodity prices. India's economy recovery was also facilitated by other factors namely a large terms of trade gain (about 2.5% of the GDP), positive policy actions, and reduced external vulnerabilities.

RBI policies helped contain demand pressures created a buffer against external shocks and kept a check on the volatility of the rupee and inflation. According to the Economic Survey 2015-16, inflation measured by the CPI, which averaged 6.5% in 2014-15 could decline to 5.0-5.5% in 2015-16. The slide in global oil prices since late 2014 boosted economic activity in India and underpinned a further improvement in the current account and fiscal positions.

Looking ahead, the Economic Survey 2015-16 has projected GDP growth of 7-7.75% in 2016-17. According to the IMF, India continues to be the bright spot in an otherwise slowing global economy. It forecasts India's GDP growth at 7.5% in FY17 supported by stronger domestic demand.

Industry analysis

The global steel industry

According to the World Steel Association, global steel production in 2015 was estimated at 1,623 million tonnes, indicating a decrease of 2.8% over 2014. World steel production (barring China) declined by 3.4% in 2015. Chinese steel production too dropped for the first time in decades by 2.3% to 804 million tonnes. Regions across the world registered a year-on-year de-growth, case in point: North America (8.6%), South America (2.5%), the European Union (1.8%), Middle East (0.5%) and Asia (2.3%). While almost all major steel producing countries registered a decline in steel production, India was the only country in the top-10 to register a positive growth of 2.6%.

International data from different sources indicate that there is an excess capacity estimated at ~500 million tonnes, equivalent to almost 25% of the global capacity. The rapid growth in Chinese export of steel is impacting production in rest of the steel-producing countries and putting tremendous pressure on steel companies. Case in point: Chinese steel exports touched a record 112.4 million metric tonnes in 2015 vis-à-vis 94 million metric tonnes in CY2014, disrupting global steel prices. The prices of commodities like crude oil, iron ore, natural gas and steel scrap decline by 41-49% in 2015 vis-à-vis 2014. The devaluation of the yuan led to an acceleration in steel exports from the country amid waning demand at home.

Outlook

Beleaguered by challenges like falling prices, economic slowdown, dumping of excess Chinese stock and acute levels of debt, the global steel industry is stuck in a rut. Consequently, the World Steel Association forecast a nominal demand growth of 0.7% during 2016. China announced the shutdown of 100-150 million tonnes of steel manufacturing capacities by 2020.

The Indian steel industry

India continues to hold onto its position as the third largest steelmaking nation in the world. During the fiscal gone by, India's steel imports rose 20.2% to 11.21 million tonnes, while steel consumption grew by 4.3%. As most of the incremental demand was met through cheaper imports, India's production for sale fell by 1.1% to 91.1 million tonnes. Production of crude steel stood at 89.3 million tonnes, clocking a growth of 0.4%.

Unsupportive pricing policies and excessive imports put at risk billions worth of loans raised by the domestic steel companies for capacity expansion. This in turn will impact the financial health of some of the largest banks in India. The steel sector is a major contributor to the bad loan woes of the public sector banks who are already burdened with gross NPAs of around ₹3 Lakh crore.

According to the World Steel Association, global steel production in 2015 was estimated at 1,623 million tonnes, indicating a decrease of 2.8% over 2014.

World steel production (barring China) declined by 3.4% in 2015. Chinese steel production too dropped for the first time in decades by 2.3% to 804 million tonnes.

In a bid to arrest rising imports, India imposed a provisional safeguard duty of 20% on certain imported steel products in September 2015 for 200 days. In March 2016, the safeguard duty was further extended up to March 2018. The Central Government also imposed the MIP condition on imports of 173 steel items. This notification covers all major flat and long steel products. It is believed that the cumulative impact of these two recent and other upcoming policy measures could lead to a reduction of imports in the coming days.

Outlook

India is expected to be one of the few countries where steel demand is set to rise in 2016 and 2017. Low oil prices, reform momentum and policies to increase infrastructure and manufacturing output will see India's steel demand to rise by an estimated 5.4% in 2016 as well as 2017, with the country consuming approximately 87.6 million tonnes in 2016 and 88.3 million tonnes of steel in 2017. Demand from the automobile, consumer durables and construction sectors will be the one of the few defining factors in the upswing in India's steel demands. The government of India is also aiming to scale steel production in the country to 300 million tonnes by 2025. It has certain initiatives and measures planned to achieve this. The government's efforts for its 'Make in India' campaign will likely produce sustained demand for steel as key projects take off in the coming years. The government has also increased duty on export of iron ore, to boost domestic value addition and improve ore availability. SAIL plans to invest $23.8 billion to increase capacity to 50 million tonnes per annum by 2025. With such large scale capacity addition, India is expected to become the largest crude steel producer within the next 10 years. (Sources: IBEF, DNA, Economic Times and TOI)

Manganese alloys industry

Manganese production increased marginally in 2015-16, standing at 18 million tonnes, up from 17.8 million tonnes in 2014-15. This division had a tough time in 2015, with China's economic slowdown intensifying the risk of oversupply. South Africa, which has been the world's largest producer of manganese, increased production in 2015-16 to 6.2 million tonnes, up by 1,000 tonnes. China, the second-largest producer had the same output as the previous year at 3 million tonnes. Australia remained the third-largest producer despite its production falling to 2.9 million tonnes in 2015-16 as compared to 3.05 million tonnes in the previous year. Production in Gabon and Brazil fell marginally too. India produced 950,000 tonnes of manganese, 5,000 tonnes higher than 2014-15 and also saw an increase in consumption especially in the steel sector. While short-term projections seem bullish, there is a risk of oversupply as the market may not be able to absorb the current levels of production. (Source: CRU)

Ferro alloys

The ferro alloy industry can be broadly classified into bulk ferroalloys and noble ferroalloys, with silico-manganese and high-carbon ferromanganese dominating the former category. In 2015, the combined capacity for silico-manganese and high-carbon ferro manganese was estimated at 4.85 million tonnes, equivalent to more than 90% of capacity of all manganese alloys. The vast majority of Indian manganese alloy production has been in the form of silico-manganese. Slowing crude steel production poses a risk of overcapacity in the market, although some plants have been able to withstand the pressure on margins much better than others. The industry currently exports more than it sells domestically, as India's demand for ferroalloys isn't that high. But with the prospect of rising steel production and weakening demand from China and other markets, domestic demand might rise. (Sources: CRU, Livemint)

De-risking the business

Every business is marked by a variety of risks. Maithan identifies and assesses risks associated with its business and correspondingly undertakes strategic measures to minimise losses and maximise realisations.

Industry risk: Sectoral volatility could affect revenues.

Manganese production increased marginally in 2015-16, standing at 18 million tonnes, up from 17.8 million tonnes in 2014-15. This division had a tough time in 2015, with China's economic slowdown intensifying the risk of oversupply.

Mitigation: The Company has built a strong product portfolio, maintained long-term relationships with clients and focused on EBITDA maximisation. At a time when most alloy companies reported losses, Maithan Alloys reported an EBITDA margin of 12.36% and PAT margin of 7.41% (excluding trading activity).

Quality risk: Poor quality control could affect brand value.

Mitigation: The Company's efforts to achieve qualitative consistency have ensured that its clients have remained associated with it for more than five years.

Competition risk: An influx of players could hamper the Company's prospects.

Mitigation: The Company chose very early on to focus on enduring relationships directly with large miners and steel mills. With the ability to tailor products for its customers, the Company has successfully positioned itself as the go-to supplier for quality-conscious clients. The industry is already fragmented and due to the oversupply situation in India in the short-medium term, some players are expected to exit.

Currency risk: Fluctuations in forex rates could affect performance.

Mitigation: The Company's exports were ₹556 crore against imports of ₹398 crore. Hence, a natural hedge exists.

Geographic risk: A poor locational presence can escalate costs.

Mitigation: The Company has been selective in the strategic planning for its manufacturing locations. It produces manganese alloys in two plants, Kalyaneshwari and Vishakhapatnam. The Kalyaneshwari plant is strategically located in the steel belt of India with three integrated steel plants located within 100-km radius of the Company. The location also helps in availing uninterrupted power from DVC, while also maintaining proximity to the Asansol railway station and the Haldia port. The Visakhapatnam plant is built in an SEZ which allows tax incentives till 2022. It is located close to two deep-draft ports (Visakhapatnam port and Gangavaram Port) and used to cater to exports. The plant in Ri-Bhoi produces ferro silicon and allows the Company to reap tax incentives for units set up in the North-East.

Liquidity risk: Unavailability of funds could stall operations.

Mitigation: With the alloys and steel sector facing difficulties, maintaining liquidity is usually the first challenge faced by manufacturers. With a low term loan, which is expected to be wiped out within 2016-17, and virtually zero fund-based working capital utilisation, the Company is in an enviable position.

Internal control systems and their adequacy

The Company has an adequate internal control system, commensurate with the size and nature of business, with regard to purchases of inventory and fixed assets and for sale of goods and services. The system is being upgraded continuously in order to meet and adapt to statutory requirements and changing business conditions. The internal auditors of the Company regularly carry out reviews of the internal control system to detect deviations. The report of the internal auditors is submitted to the management regularly and is helpful in the prevention and detection of fraud and to report any discrepancies in the day-to-day activities of the Company. Further, internal control systems are periodically review by the Audit Committee and are kept updated and consistent with the requirements of the organisation.

Human resources and industrial relations

The Company believes that the quality of the employees is the key to its success in the long run and is committed to provide necessary human resource development and training opportunities to equip them with skills, enabling them to seamlessly evolve with ongoing technological advancements. Industrial relations remained amicable during the fiscal gone by.

The Visakhapatnam plant is built in an SEZ which allows tax incentives till 2022.

OUTLOOK

The global growth slowdown continued for yet another year driven by weaker capital inflows, lower commodity prices and subdued global trade. Global industrial production remained under pressure throughout the year 2015. In

At domestic level, stability in central government, domestic macro-economic conditions, drop in commodity costs led by crude oil, kept inflation under control during the year. The Metal prices (including steel) dropped sharply due to global slowdown and massive overcapacity especially in China.

The Ferro Alloys Industry is a power intensive industry, with key raw materials and power adding up to about 80% of cost of sales. Annexure 'B' to Independent Auditors' Report

Annexure "B" to the Independent Auditor's Report of even date on the Standalone Financial Statements of MAITHAN ALLOYS LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Maithan Alloys Limited ("the Company") as at 31 March 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Annexure 'A' to Independent Auditors' Report

Annexure "A" to the Independent Auditor's Report of even date on the Consolidated Financial Statements of MAITHAN ALLOYS LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Maithan Alloys Limited ("the Company") as of 31 March 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Groups internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Group's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

The Group's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Group's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the group; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the group are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the group; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
