

ACCELERATING THE PACE OF CHANGE ANNUAL REPORT 2014-15

Accelerating the pace of change

"Change will not come if we wait for some other person or some other time. We are the ones we've been waiting for. We are the change that we seek."

- Barack Obama, U. S. President

Creating change by challenging the status quo has always been the bedrock of human civilization and its advancement. It is in creating, adopting, and propagating change that individuals and societies have crossed one milestone after another. The evolution of market as an institution, for instance, has witnessed epoch-making changes from the time of the barter system to modern algorithm-based trading. Each wave of change has brought with it irreversible shifts that have had a deep impact on the economic and social lives of individuals.

Multi Commodity Exchange of India (MCX) is the result of such a change. When the Union government in 2002 allowed the setting up of national multi commodity derivative exchanges, MCX was one of the first to be created. Leveraging on innovative product design, sound knowledge, and cutting-edge technology, MCX grew at a pace unprecedented in any other industry. The exchange soon became an undisputed leader in India and ranked among top 10 commodity exchanges in the world. In being so, MCX has been able to bring about perceptible change in India's commodity economy as also helped in creating and building an efficient and modern commodity ecosystem.

With the evolution of the market, MCX too evolved and yet continued to be the agent of change for its stakeholders. Whether in meeting the price risks of hedgers, or in raising its own corporate governance standards, the exchange has been at the forefront of change in the industry. Some external factors did stymie its persistent growth in recent years, but the institution's resilience weathered the storm, and it continues to be the exemplar of change that it has always been.

Today, new opportunities beckon MCX. The opportunities would arise primarily from the recent legislative changes that would lead to the merger of the Forward Markets Commission (FMC) and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), and the exchange is well poised to make the most of these opportunities. In the new dispensation, MCX can meet the risk management needs of a much larger section of stakeholders by being able to offer different types of derivative products under a strong regulatory structure, and thereby remain entrenched in its unassailable leadership position. Given the enabling environment that the forthcoming legal reorganization is sure to create, the trajectory of change in India's commodity market can be distinctly fast-paced.

MCX shall be a competent enabler in accelerating the pace of such change. By bringing many more stakeholders under its ambit, providing appropriate risk management solutions, and expanding and strengthening the ecosystem which supports the commodity derivatives market, the exchange shall continue to be an influential agent in effecting this change. In doing so, it shall be able to not just traverse a higher and faster growth path, but also emerge as a powerful catalyst in bringing about socio-economic changes in India's commodity economy, and thereby facilitate further rise of India in the global commodity market.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholders,

The year 2014-15 was a year of rejuvenation and regeneration for your Company, Multi Commodity Exchange of India (MCX). The Company spent much of the year in resolving many regulatory issues, which were the fallouts of some not-so-happy developments of the previous year, streamlining some important agreements and strengthening its governance structure. It proactively strove to retain its pre-eminence not only in volumetric and financial terms, but also in maintaining the mindshare and trust of all its stakeholders.

First, a few words about the educational efforts. 411 awareness programmes were conducted to educate current and potential hedgers on the need and benefits of using the commodity futures market for price risk management. In doing so, emphasis was placed on educating the smaller stakeholders, such as the Small and Medium Enterprises (SME) sector, exposed to risks in bullion, metal, and energy prices. Your Company also tied up with various universities and educational institutions, besides undertaking capacity building programmes, for promoting financial literacy and spreading awareness about the commodity ecosystem as well as about futures trades on regulated exchanges. Seminars on compliance requirements in the commodity derivatives markets were also conducted by your Company, which were attended by representatives of the Exchange's members. To make its efforts at knowledge dissemination more effective, your Company launched its flagship 'Multi Commodity Exchange Certified Commodity Professional' (MCCP) certification exam in Hindi, and thus attempted to remove the language barrier in awareness creation.

It is a testimony to such efforts that your Company was honoured with the 'Exchange of the Year for Investors Education and Awareness Award' by the Commodity Participants Association of India (CPAI) on May 30, 2015.

During the year, your Company also commenced futures trading in Crude Oil Mini contract, thus meeting the growing demand from the industry, especially the SME segment, and enabling them to hedge their energy price risk.

The year gone by: MCX's performance

The continued trust bestowed upon the Company by all stakeholders helped your Company to successfully tide over the rough seas of 2013-14 and emerge on a stronger footing. The end results were quite tangible and encouraging. MCX's average daily turnover that stood at ₹ 18,616 crore (₹ 186.16 billion) in March 2014 jumped to ₹ 21,123 crore (₹ 211.23 billion) in March 2015. For 2014-15, your Company's average daily turnover was ₹ 20,328 crore (₹ 203.28 billion). The ever-growing trust of the market participants saw an increasing market share of MCX—it stood at 77.1 per cent in March 2014 and jumped to 88.8 per cent in March 2015.For the full year 2014-15, your Company's market share was 84.04 per cent. MCX also remained India's leading bullion, base metal, and energy futures player during 2014-15 with almost 100% market share in each of these segments.

All this shows that your Company has weathered the 2013-14 storm, marked by waning trading interests, dwindling trading volumes, and adverse market sentiments. This was caused by the dual effects of the Commodity Transaction Tax (CTT) and the payment crisis at a spot exchange.

During the fiscal 2014-15, your Company's total income from operations was ₹ 2,224.86 million and other income ₹ 1,097.85 million on a stand-alone basis, while the net profit after tax was ₹ 1,250.53 million. Your Company's balance sheet with zero debt and a healthy net worth (including SGF) of ₹ 13,892.93 million continues to point to its strong fundamentals.

A promising future

The times ahead appear to hold a lot of promise for your Company. The promise arises primarily from the soon-to-be-effected structural changes in the regulation of India's commodity futures market, which your Company has been advocating for a long time. Following the enactment of the Finance Act, 2015, the Forward Markets Commission (FMC) would merge with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). Similarly, the Securities Contract (Regulation) Act, 1956, would stand amended to include commodity derivatives too under this Act while the Forward Contract (Regulation) Act, 1952, stands repealed. Placing the commodity derivatives market under the powerful regulatory oversight of the SEBI is a very positive step, which could prove to be a game-changer for the commodity derivatives market. The SEBI has penal powers to raid, search, and impose punitive action against wrong-doers, which would increase integrity of this market and the trust of current and potential participants. Besides, faster market development could be anticipated when unregulated or dabba market gets effectively curbed with the exercise of stronger regulatory powers of the SEBI. The size of the illegal dabba commodity market currently is multiple times that of the regulated commodity derivatives market, and once such illegal markets are curbed, some of the volumes of these markets could surely flow to regulated platforms, such as MCX.

Besides, when the commodity derivatives market comes under the purview of a strong regulator, many institutional entities in Indian financial markets, such as banks, mutual funds, and insurers, would hopefully be allowed to participate in this market by their respective sectoral regulators. Recently, the Reserve Bank of India has advised all scheduled commercial banks to encourage their agri-borrowers to hedge their commodity price risks. This advisory will surely popularize the use of exchange-traded derivatives. For the same rationale and to make the commodity derivatives market more inclusive, your Company believes that banks in India need to be permitted to directly participate in this market.

Wider institutional participation would not only enhance the depth and liquidity of the market, but also support the inclusion of several hitherto-excluded-sections in this market.

Another significant outcome of the legislative changes is the possibility of introduction of new derivative products. Derivative products like options and indices in commodities, which have long been in demand in India but were not permitted under the existing statutes, could now be introduced subject to regulatory approval. Your Company has long been advocating for legislative changes which would allow it to offer several types of derivative products to meet the specific risk-management needs of its stakeholders. This appears possible now and your Company is committed to expanding its product basket at the opportune time, subject to regulatory approval.

Thus, the merger of the FMC with the SEBI and removal of legal hurdles on offering different types of derivative products could open new vistas for your Company and take it on a higher growth trajectory in the times to come. At the same time, there are some threats that might arise from these legislative changes. For instance, once all exchange platforms in India are brought under a uniform statute, it could be possible that other exchange platforms, which were not able to offer commodity derivatives till now, would start offering commodity derivatives too, subject to regulatory approval. Other roadblocks that could arise in the future, include the imposition or increase in Central or State Government taxes on commodity derivative transactions. Your Company is fully committed to meet such challenges to its growth, if and when they occur.

Accelerating the pace of change

As the theme of this Annual Report suggests, 2014-15 and thereafter would be one in which a slew of opportunities could open up. These opportunities would enable your Company to leverage on its past achievements and current favourable circumstances to experience sustainable and inclusive growth, thereby accelerating the pace of its change. Your Company believes that a liberalized market created by the emerging regulatory framework could not only fulfil the requirements of price discovery and risk management effectively, but also help develop a robust ecosystem supporting this market. As the benefits percolate to a wider base of stakeholders, the institution of commodity derivatives market would help all economic entities, particularly the small and medium enterprises, become competitive in a globalizing economy. In being an enabler in bringing about this change, your Company could not only promote market inclusion of small stakeholders, but also be an effective channel in fulfilling the government's 'Make in India' initiative.

Your Company believes that risk management is only another name for insurance, an economic activity the Government of India is placing considerable importance upon. Just as insurance schemes, such as the Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana and Pradhan Mantri Suraksha Bima Yojana, enable citizens to manage their life risks, exchange-traded commodity derivatives too serve a similar function by helping various entities manage their commodity price risks. By facilitating to do so, your Company is complementing the efforts of the government in propagating and educating citizens on the benefits of economic insurance through hedging. Similarly, by enabling market inclusion of small stakeholders, your Company would be complementing financial inclusion initiatives, such as the Government of India's Jan Dhan Yojana and similar efforts of the Reserve Bank of India.

The way forward

India is one of the largest consumers and producers in several commodities and therefore has the potential of emerging as the regional, if not global, centre for commodity derivatives trade. As the largest exchange with an undisputed leadership position, your Company would be uniquely placed to reap the aforementioned opportunities of growth and expansion as and when the environment permitted. Further, as the Indian economy accelerates its growth cycle, it would place a lot of demand on commodities, and by extension, for risk management solutions, another source of opportunity for your Company. With the strengthening of the regulatory framework and availability of a wide array of products, the Indian commodity derivatives market could become much more accessible and inclusive than it presently is. As the commodity derivatives market becomes more accessible, availability of market information would increase and awareness on the benefits of hedging become more widespread. Besides, a stronger regulatory structure would encourage India's corporate sector to hedge their risks on domestic commodity exchanges instead of using the foreign ones. This, together with the participation of financial institutions, such as banks (when allowed) and small enterprises, would increase liquidity and depth in the market, and thereby improve the price discovery and hedging effectiveness of this market. In such a scenario, your Company could play a critical role in the inclusion of all stakeholders and strengthening of the commodity value chain itself.

I take this opportunity to record your Company's gratitude to the FMC for guiding it throughout to tide over its many problems. But for the FMC's steadfast supervision, it might not have been possible to overcome the problems your Company confronted. The officers and employees of your Company have worked hard and with a lot of optimism, and I thank them on this occasion and call upon them to work harder in future in the interest of everyone.

The members, participants, brokers, authorised persons and all those who trade on your Exchange are our valuable partners and we owe them a lot of gratitude. In the year gone by, they remained with the Exchange and helped it to occupy the leading position throughout.

Last, but not the least, you, the shareholders have stood like a rock with your Company, and I express the gratitude of the Board of Directors and the management to you for this support and hope that you will continue to support the Company in the times to come.

Thank you all for your patience.

Satyananda Mishra, IAS (Retd.)

Chairman

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND STATE OF COMPANY AFFAIRS

Your Company, India's leading commodity futures exchange, offers a neutral, secure and transparent online trading, clearing & settlement of commodity futures transactions, thereby providing price discovery mechanism and enabling price risk management through scalable technology platform framework. There was no change in the nature of business of your Company during the year under review. Your Company enjoys a competitive edge due to its domain expertise, experienced leadership team, step ahead in innovation & product mix, multiple domestic and international alliances and robust business model with extensive reach of 1,792 members having 48,999 Authorised Persons, operating through 486,770 terminals including Computer to Computer Link (CTCL) across 1,879 cities/towns across India as at March 31, 2015.

Your Company, during the year under review, continued to retain a market share of over 80 percent in terms of the value of commodities futures traded. The total turnover of commodity futures traded on your Exchange stood at ₹ 51,837.07 billion in FY 2014-15 as against ₹ 86,114.49 billion in the previous fiscal. The number of contracts traded on your Exchange in FY 2014-15 stood at 148.58 million as compared with 214.20 million in FY 2013-14. The average daily turnover stood at ₹ 203.28 billion in FY 2014-15 as compared with ₹ 277.79 billion in FY 2013-14.

MCX crude oil futures, MCX silver micro futures, MCX natural gas futures and MCX silver mini futures were among the top 20 commodity futures & options contracts in the global ranking of commodity futures contracts in CY 2014 (Source: FIA Annual Volume Survey March 2015). During April 2014, for regulatory reasons, six futures contracts in gold and variants of silver expiring in 2015 were discontinued. Additionally, Members were required to square off their open positions in three contracts - Gold February 2015, kapas March 2015 and kapas April 2015. All these contracts were subsequently reintroduced for trading with effect from October 2014 after receipt of regulatory approval from Forward Markets Commission (FMC).

Your Company, with an unflinching focus, withstood its test of time and proved its resilience successfully encountering the uncertainty that prevailed with regard to its contracts launch calendar for 2015 entailing compliance of FMC's order dated December 17, 2013 and negotiating / revising the terms of the Technology agreement with Financial Technologies (India) Limited (FTIL).

Your Company re-negotiated its Technology agreement with FTIL by entering into Master Amendment to Principal Agreements (hereinafter referred to as 'Supplementary Agreement') on more equitable terms effective July 01, 2014 thereby, inter alia, reducing its technology costs i.e. lowering fixed & variable charges viz. lesser revenue share, more favourable payment terms, reduced tenure and a balanced exit clause. Further, FTIL, in compliance of the FMC's order dated December 17, 2013 of it being held as not a 'fit and proper person' to continue to be a shareholder of 2% or more of the paid-up equity capital of your Company, sold its entire stake (26%) held in your Company between July-September 2014. In addition to other entities, Kotak Mahindra Bank Limited (KMBL) acquired 15% equity stake in the Company from FTIL. Consequent to renegotiation and execution of the Supplementary Agreement and divestment of stake by FTIL, FMC accorded its approval for continuous contracts launch calendar for the futures contracts expiring in the year 2015 and onwards.

For the year ended March 31, 2015, your Company's total income (standalone) stood at ₹ 3,322.71 million as compared to ₹ 4,399.36 million during the last fiscal mainly attributable to continuation of Commodities Transaction Tax (CTT), fall in prices of key commodities traded on your Exchange and rising interest in other asset classes. The operating income during the year under review was ₹ 2,224.86 million as against ₹ 3,406.67 million in FY 2013-14. Other income during FY 2014-15 was ₹ 1,097.85 million as against ₹ 992.69 million in the previous fiscal. The net profit after tax for the year ended March 31, 2015 stood at ₹ 1,250.53 million as against ₹ 1,527.57 million in FY 2013-14. The net worth (including Settlement Gurantee Fund) as at March 31, 2015 stood at ₹ 13,892.93 million.

In continuation to the detailed analysis taken up by your Company pursuant to the Special Audit conducted of your Company, appropriate actions were initiated including legal and filing of recovery suits as it deemed fit. As a part of these actions, ₹ 112.07 million was recovered during the year ended March 31, 2015. The details of the same are more particularly covered in the Notes forming part of the financial statements. Further, during the year under review, your Company received summons under Section 131 of the Income Tax Act in relation to donation of ₹ 10 million given by it to a Trust during FY 2013-14, which has been responded to.

Pursuant to Companies Act, 2013 being effective from April 1, 2014, your Company revised depreciation rates on certain fixed assets as per the useful life specified in 'Part C' of Schedule II of the Act. The details of the same are more particularly covered in the Notes forming part of the financial statements.

During the year under review, your Company filed nine compounding applications seeking compounding of offence under Section 621A of the Companies Act, 1956, with Registrar of Companies, Mumbai, Maharashtra against the Show Cause Notices received. Your Company subsequently received Notices for hearing from the office of the Regional Director, Western Region for four applications and represented itself at the hearing on July 2, 2015. Your Company has received an Order in respect of one such application made under Section 193 of the Companies Act, 1956. The status as at March 31, 2015 is included in the Extract of the Annual Return.

PROPOSED REGULATORY CHANGES (SEBI - FMC MERGER)

Presently, commodity futures exchanges are regulated by FMC under the Ministry of Finance, Government of India. As proposed in the Union Budget 2015, FMC will be merged with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). SEBI at its Board meeting held on August 24, 2015 approved the draft amendment to the regulations to be notified on September 28, 2015 pursuant to the proposed repealing of the Forward Contracts Regulation Act, 1952 (FCRA) making way for the said merger. These regulations will enable functioning of the commodities derivatives market and its brokers under SEBI norms and integration of commodities derivatives and securities trading in an orderly manner. This merger would involve several regulatory and structural changes and is likely to bring convergence in the regulation of various financial markets such as securities, currency derivatives and commodities. In the future, the merger could facilitate exchanges and intermediaries to penetrate into each other's liquid market segments and thus could allow commodity exchanges to launch complementary products such as currency derivatives, etc. Going forward, institutions like FIIs, Banks, Mutual Funds may also be allowed to enter commodity futures market. This merger could further boost the regulatory oversight as SEBI has power to raid, search, impose penal fines and take criminal action and thus, can effectively curb the illegal 'Dabba' trading.

Another important policy change proposed is the repeal of the FCRA and the placing and definition accorded to 'commodity derivatives' under the Securities (Contracts) Regulation Act, 1956 (SCRA). This legal change could facilitate introduction of new products such as options and indices, and products on weather and freight, etc. A detailed analysis with respect to the same is covered under the sections 'Initiative and Outlook' and 'Management's Discussion and Analysis'.

PARTICULARS UNDER SECTION 9(2) OF THE FORWARD CONTRACTS (REGULATION) ACT, 1952 READ WITH RULE 12 OF THE FORWARD CONTRACTS (REGULATION) RULES, 1954

In terms of the provisions of Section 9(2) of the FCRA read with Rule 12 of the Forward Contracts (Regulation) Rules, 1954, commodity exchanges are required to include certain particulars in their Annual Reports. These particulars for your Company are presented as Annexure I to Annexure VIII to the Directors' Report.

COMPLIANCE WITH THE REVISED NORMS REGARDING SHAREHOLDING, OWNERSHIP, NETWORTH, FIT AND PROPER CRITERIA ETC. OF THE NATIONWIDE MULTI COMMODITY EXCHANGES

- 1. Your Company is governed by the 'Revised Norms Regarding Shareholding, Ownership, Net Worth, Fit and Proper Criteria etc. of the Nationwide Multi Commodity Exchanges (NMCEs) dated May 06, 2014 (hereinafter referred to as Shareholding Norms), which, inter alia, stipulates that in the event of any person ceasing to be a 'fit and proper person' or being declared so by FMC, such person shall forthwith divest its shareholding. FMC vide its order dated December 17, 2013, inter alia, held that FTIL was not a 'fit and proper person'. Pending implementation of the aforesaid order, the contract launch calendar of your Company for 2015 was kept in abeyance.
  - Your Company took various steps to comply with the aforesaid order including amendment to its Articles of Association to incorporate matters as mentioned above, entering into Supplementary Agreement with FTIL etc. Consequent to such effective steps taken by your Company, FTIL divested its entire stake (i.e. 26%) in your Company by September 29, 2014 and complied with the aforesaid FMC order and the Shareholding Norms enabling FMC to grant its approval for continuous contracts launch calendar for the futures contracts expiring in the year 2015 and onwards in 27 contracts.
- In accordance with FMC letter dated August 26, 2014 conveying approval to KMBL for its acquisition up to 15 percent of equity share capital of MCX, KMBL holds 14.99 percent stake in the Company as at the date of this Directors Report.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND RISK MANAGEMENT POLICY

As a part of risk mitigation plan, your Company has focused on ensuring uninterrupted services by strengthening its technology infrastructure so that there is no single point of failure. Your Company has Disaster Recovery (DR) Site at New Delhi which is at a different seismic zone than that of the primary data center. Your Company has also strengthened its BCP-DR initiative and conducted regular mock drills to test readiness and effectiveness of IT infrastructure at the DR site. Further, your Company is in the process of upgrading the DR site infrastructure and also setting up a proximate DR site at Mumbai to achieve zero data loss in case of any eventuality. Some of the risks and their impact on your Company's business are highlighted in the Management's Discussion and Analysis section appended to this Report.

Further, in terms of the Revised Norms for Constitution of the Board of Directors, Committees, Nomination and Role of Independent Directors, Appointment of Managing Director/Chief Executives, etc at the Nationwide Multi Commodity Exchanges dated June 11, 2014 (hereinafter referred to as FMC Board Guidelines), your Company re-constituted its Risk Management Committee for, inter alia, identification, measurement and monitoring of the risk profile of the Exchange. #### MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS STATEMENT

Management's Discussion and Analysis Statement, as stipulated under the Listing Agreement, forms a part of this Annual Report.

INITIATIVES AND OUTLOOK

A few policy announcements made during the year have far-reaching implications for your Company in providing growth opportunities. The Union Budget 2015-16, and the subsequent passage of the Finance Bill 2015, provided for the merger of FMC with SEBI. The much-awaited strengthening of the regulatory structure of India's commodity derivatives market would get a boost with this merger, a policy action which your Company has been strongly advocating for long. Besides, under the provisions of the Finance Act, 2015, commodity derivatives have been brought under the ambit of the SCRA, and accordingly, commodity derivatives have been re-defined in a manner which is wider in scope than that which exists in the FCRA. Moreover, all recognized associations under the FCRA shall be deemed to be recognized stock exchanges under the SCRA, effective from the date of notification of the merger. Thus, subject to regulatory approval, your Company can launch new types of products, such as options and indices, as and when there is a need for them.

Another policy initiative with the potential to bestow significant gains to the commodity derivatives market is the proposed Goods and Services Tax (GST). Currently, a plethora of indirect taxes by the states and the Centre are imposed on the commodity markets, rendering it inefficient, with a cascading effect on the cost of participation. Besides, the multiplicity of state-specific taxes also imposes artificial barriers to inter-state movement of commodities, which means that decisions on warehouse construction, storage and choice of market yard for sale depend largely on relative tax rate advantages across states, rather than on pure economic rationale. By removing the inter-state tax arbitrage, GST would hopefully integrate India's commodity markets, making them more efficient and paving the way for a national market for commodities, as envisaged in the Economic Survey, 2014-15. An efficient physical market for commodities can act as a catalyst for faster and inclusive growth of the corresponding derivatives market.

Your Company is committed to explore and exploit all opportunities for unlocking the full potential of the Indian commodity derivatives market. Although this market and MCX have grown over the years, your Company has a long way to go to realize its potential. One way to measure the potential of your Company is the 'futures multiplier' of different commodities.

Futures multiplier of a commodity refers to the ratio in volumes in the futures market to the size of the physical market of that commodity. A comparison of the futures multiplier of MCX with that of the global benchmark exchange in the respective commodities (see Table 1) brings out the great untapped potential of your Company.

Table 1: Futures Multiplier: MCX and global benchmark exchange

Commodity Global Benchmark Exchange		MCX
Gold	59 (COMEX, CME Group)	5
Silver	148 (COMEX, CME Group)	34
Copper	90 (London Metal Exchange)	13
СРО	12 (Bursa Malaysia)	1
Cotton	44 (Chicago Board of Trade, CME Group)	0.7

During the year, your Company was allowed to launch 27 futures contracts expiring in 2015 and thereafter, with the existing specifications as approved by the FMC. With the approval of the FMC, your Company commenced futures trading in Crude Oil Mini contract during the year. There has been a growing demand from the industry, especially the SMEs, for a crude mini contract to enable them to hedge their energy price exposures. Launched on January 6, 2015, the Crude Oil Mini contract has been facilitating price discovery and price risk management for SMEs, small traders, manufacturers, and physical market participants, especially those from industries like petrochemicals, glass manufacturing, textiles, heat treatment and plastic processing which consume a fairly large amount of crude oil by-products. Moreover, given the very large number of crude oil derivatives, such as bitumen, furnace oil, asphalt, and naphtha, which are fully deregulated and have their prices in sync with crude oil prices are widely used by a large number of SME units. In fact, the Crude Oil Mini contract has been of immense use to these SMEs as figures prove it—consistently healthy volumes and open interest.

On July 14, 2015, your Company launched its unique and innovative futures contract, Gold Global, further expanding its bullion product suite. Gold Global is an international-price-based contract, exclusive of customs duty, sales tax/ VAT and domestic market premium, among others. The contract has been designed for refiners, exporters, jewellers including larger bullion physical market participants involved in import of gold bars and re-export of jewellery. These stakeholders, having significant exposure to international gold prices, need to effectively hedge against any adverse movement in global prices.

Your Company took a number of measures to respond to evolving market dynamics and demands of its stakeholders. With permission from FMC, your Company introduced last-traded-price (LTP)-based calendar spread trading for futures contracts in a number of commodities from April 1, 2015.

On July 21, 2015, your Company signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the CME Group, the world's leading and most diverse derivatives marketplace, on various areas of cooperation and potential business opportunities including a joint viability study of setting up operations in an International Financial Service Centre in India. This MoU also includes the establishment of a joint working group to explore opportunities to develop and market new products and services for the U.S. and Indian markets, as well as collaboration on customer education.

Further, on August 25, 2015, your Company and GIFT SEZ Ltd., a wholly owned subsidiary of Gujarat International Finance Tec-City Company Ltd. (GIFTCL) at GIFT City, Gandhinagar signed an MoU for developing of an international exchange that will provide an electronic platform for facilitating trading, clearing and settlement of securities, commodities, interest rates, currencies, other classes of assets and derivatives to international investors in GIFT SEZ-IFSC.

- Spread margin benefits on initial margins on spread positions increased from 50% to 75%.
- NMCEs are mandated to disclose on their website information such as the hedge position allocated to various hedgers, the delivery intent of the hedgers, pay-in / pay-out of commodities made by top 10 clients including hedgers, etc.

In accordance with Section 204(1) of the Companies Act, 2013, the Secretarial Audit Report for the financial year ended March 31, 2015 is annexed herewith and marked as Annexure XIII to this Report. The Secretarial Audit Report contains the following observations as given below and the explanations or comments by the Board with regard thereto are as follows:

1. The Company is required to hold at least one meeting of the Independent Directors in a year pursuant to the requirements of Section 149(8) of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Schedule IV of the Act. Further, Clause 3.3 of the norms issued by the Forward Markets Commission on 11th June 2014 states that meeting of the Independent Directors of the Company should be convened once in 6 months. As per the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 a meeting of the Independent Directors should have been held before 31st March, 2015. However, the meeting of the Independent Directors was held on 9th April, 2015.

Management Response:

Consequent to the fall-out arising out of National Spot Exchange Limited crisis and the regulatory actions which flowed thereafter, the Board/Committees of the Board were predominantly involved in firefighting and damage control activities and to address, on priority, critical issues including taking action on findings of the Special Audit Report so as to ensure that the Company was adequately ring fenced. Accordingly, the meeting of only the Independent Directors could be convened only on April 09, 2015.

2. Pursuant to the provisions of Section 135 of the Companies Act, 2013, the Corporate Social Responsibility Committee is required to have minimum three members. Consequent to the resignation of Mr. K. N. Reghunathan on 19th August, 2014, the number of members of the said Committee was reduced to 2. Consequently, at the meetings of the CSR Committee held on 30th September, 2014, 28th October, 2014, and 5th December, 2014, the number of members of the CSR Committee was 2. However, at the Board meeting held on 9th January, 2015 the said Committee was re-constituted to attain the minimum strength of members pursuant to the requirements of the Act.

Management Response:

INTERNAL CONTROL AND THEIR ADEOUACY

The Audit Committee of the Company comprising Independent Directors, periodically reviews and recommends the unaudited financial statements as also the annual audited financial statements of your Company. Your Company has appointed an independent firm of chartered accountants to conduct the financial and operational internal audit in accordance with the scope as defined by the Audit Committee. The reports from the Internal Auditors are reviewed by the Audit Committee on periodic basis and the Internal Auditors have been advised to issue flash reports, if required. Further, all related party transactions are put up to and approved by the Audit Committee.

The Board has also put in place various internal controls to be followed by your Company to ensure the internal controls are adequate and are effective. The Board has approved the financial sub-delegation for expenses. The Board, to ensure transparency, has also formulated various policies and has put in place appropriate internal controls for the procurement of services, materials, fixed assets, income streams, investments and financial accounting.

Your Company also has an audit mechanism in place for information security management and has been certified under ISO/IEC 27001:2005 information security management system standard.

MATERIAL CHANGES AND COMMITMENT

Material changes and commitments affecting the financial position of your Company which have occurred after March 31, 2015 and up to the date of this Report are either covered in this section or at different sections of this Annual Report:

1. MSEI: In order to assist MSEI (formerly known as MCX Stock Exchange Limited) to comply with applicable regulations, your Company, along with FTIL, an erstwhile anchor investor/promoter of the Company, had provided an undertaking to SEBI to dilute its holding (equity and warrants) in MSEI within the permissible limit within the time prescribed, i.e. June 19, 2015. This undertaking was given by your Company, at the request of MSEI, in order to assist MSEI in obtaining regulatory approval for starting new segments for trading and retaining its recognition under the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act.

Towards this end, your Company made serious efforts to dispose off the warrants. However, these efforts were significantly hampered by several factors that reduced the marketability of MSEI's warrants, such as consistently reducing MSEI's market share and net worth, which reduced the value and demand for the MSEI's shares and warrants. This made it difficult to dispose off the warrants. Since these factors were outside your Company's control, your Company approched SEBI seeking an extension of time. However, SEBI vide letter dated June 05, 2015, did not accede to your Company's request. Despite these factors, your Company continued to make vigorous efforts to dispose off the warrants. Your Company's efforts, however, were further thwarted by MSEI, that announced a rights issue of equity shares on May 29, 2015 at par i.e. at ₹ 1 per share. Since the rights issue remained open until July 9, 2015, it was virtually impossible to dispose off all the warrants before June 19, 2015 and be in compliance with clause 17 (2) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) (Stock Exchanges and Clearing Corporations) Regulations, 2012 (SECC Regulations). Apprehending that MSEI would cancel the warrants and appropriate the deposit placed by your Company with MSEI against the warrants, your Company filed a Suit (L) No. 685 of 2015 against MSEI before the Hon'ble Bombay High Court seeking an injunction against cancellation of the warrants and appropriation of the deposit. Your Company also sought refund of the amount of ₹ 415.92 million, being the amount of deposit presently held by MSEI against the warrants. Vide its interim orders dated July 9, 2015 and July 10, 2015, the Hon'ble High Court restrained MSEI from cancelling and / or extinguishing the warrants or any rights relating thereto, and from dealing in any manner with the remaining deposit of ₹ 415.92 million till further orders. The Hon'ble Court also restrained MSEI from taking any steps in pursuance of the Board resolution that MSEI may have passed for cancellation of the warrants. By a further Order dated August 3, 2015, the Hon'ble Court has recorded MSEI's statement that MSEI would deposit a sum of ₹ 200 million in Court within a period of four weeks, on a without prejudice basis, to establish its bona fides. The matter is now scheduled to come up for hearing on September 8, 2015.

In view of the above Court Orders, your Company valued the warrants at its face value of ₹ 1 each and brought down the carrying cost by ₹ 425.89 million. As your Company was only able to sell 148,277,938 warrants to various parties/entities at bids below its carrying cost, a loss of ₹ 134.83 million was incurred on the sale of these warrants.

Further, based on the market price determined on a weighted average basis for the sale of warrants by MCX, the equity shares have been brought to the lower of cost and this aforesaid market value. This is as per the Company's Accounting Policy on current investments and accordingly a provision of ₹ 33.30 million has been made.

The aggregate loss, diminution and provision of  $\stackrel{?}{\stackrel{?}{\sim}}$  594.02 million on account of the investments in MSEI are exceptional in nature and are accordingly disclosed in the financial results declared for the quarter ended June 30, 2015.

In the Limited Review Report for the quarter ended June 30, 2015, the statutory auditors have observed that: "We draw attention to Note 3 to the Statement regarding the Company carrying the investments in warrants of MSEI aggregating to ₹ 4,159.18 lacs at face value of ₹1 per warrant (after making provision of ₹ 4,258.89 lacs for diminution in value of these warrants) on the basis of the interim order of the Hon'ble Bombay High Court restraining MSEI from acting in any manner directly or indirectly in cancelling and/or extinguishing the warrants or any rights relating thereto, and from dealing in any manner with the remaining deposit of ₹ 4,159.18 lacs till further orders. Our Review Report is not qualified in respect of this matter."

During the year under review and till date of this Directors Report, your Company could convert an aggregate of 39,434,408 warrants of MSEI into equity shares (out of which 7,430,000 warrants are pending with MSEI for conversion into equity shares of MSEI) and could sell an aggregate of 178,817,920 warrants of MSEI.

Accordingly, as on the date of this Directors Report, your Company held 66,599,408 equity shares of MSEI (valued at ₹ 73.68 million at the rate of ₹ 1.11 per share) and 415,917,672 warrants of MSEI (valued at ₹ 415.92 million) and 6,500,000 equity shares of MCX-SX CCL (valued at ₹ 65.00 million).

- 2. MCX SX CCL: As at 31 March, 2015, your Company held 6,500,000 equity shares constituting 26 per cent of the paid up capital in MCX-SX CCL. Consequent to the increase in the paid up capital of MCX SX CCL to ₹ 450 million, the holding of your Company in MCX-SX CCL decreased to 14.44 per cent in MCX SX CCL in July 2015. Accordingly, MCX SX CCL is no longer an associate of your Company in terms of Accounting Standard-23 effective such date. Your Company is making efforts to reduce its shareholding in MCX SX CCL to be in compliance with clause 18 (2) of SECC Regulation. However, pending confirmation from MCX SX CCL with respect to its compliance of minimum net worth requirement as prescribed in SECC Regulations, 2012, the efforts of your Company hitherto seem to have hit a road block and the prospective investors who had earlier shown interest in acquiring stake in MCX SX CCL are also turning jittery.
- 3. IN THE MATTER OF COMPLAINT LODGED BY KETAN SHAH PURSUANT TO PwC REPORT AND COMPANY FILED WRIT BEFORE BOMBAY HIGH COURT: The Ld. Addl. Chief Metropolitan Magistrate of the 22nd Court, Andheri, in the matter of Mr. Ketan Shah in CC No. 25/SW/2015, MIDC Police Station registered an FIR on April 25, 2015 against erstwhile Management of MCX, FTIL and others under various sections of the Indian Penal Code, 1860. Upon request made by your Company for re-opening of its 11 closed complaints by MIDC Police Station, MIDC Police Station informed that the complaints filed by your Company pursuant to PwC Report have also been tagged in the abovementioned FIR. The enquiry in the same is under way. Meanwhile, Company has filed a writ petition before Bombay High Court against State of Maharashtra & Others, seeking a direction, inter alia, to set aside the transfer of complaints by Economic Offences Wing (EoW), Mumbai Police, to MIDC Police Station and further

to direct EoW to carry out investigation into the complaints, in a time bound manner and place a report on the investigation before the Court. The said complaints were initially filed before EoW by your Company which the EoW transferred to MIDC Police Station.

4. MENTHA OIL MATTERS: The Deputy Commissioner of Commercial Tax, Division - 1, Chandausi, Uttar Pradesh, by his ex-parte orders dated October 29, 2010 directed your Company to pay a sum of ₹ 288.73 million towards penalty for the alleged failure to deposit trade tax amount collected under the Uttar Pradesh Trade Tax Act, 1948 from the buyers of Mentha Oil traded on the MCX trading platform during the years 2005-06, 2006-07 and 2007-08. Aggrieved by the said ex-parte orders and various subsequent orders/ex-parte orders/ show cause notices your Company contested the same and finally again the Deputy Commissioner passed an ex-parte order on September 26, 2014 levying the same penalty for the aforementioned assessment years. However, on January 22, 2015 the Deputy Commissioner vide its order has re-opened the matter. After hearing your Company and its reply the Deputy Commissioner passed its orders dated July 20, 2015 (received by the Company on August 20, 2015) and modified the total penalty to ₹ 144.36 million in the aforesaid matters. The Company is in the process of challenging the said orders before the Appellate Authority.

MCX NON-AGRICULTURAL COMMODITY PRICE REVIEW - FY 2014-15

Gold

Following global benchmark prices, MCX Gold futures trended down through FY 2014-15, albeit rangebound on expectations of a tighter monetary policy in the U.S. and a steep fall in oil prices. Overall, MCX gold futures closed FY 2014-15 at ₹ 26,269 per 10 grams, down by 6.7 per cent on a yearly basis. Amidst an average daily volatility of about 0.9 per cent, gold futures volumes (all size variants) of 4,505 tonnes, worth around ₹ 12.24 lakh crore, were traded on MCX in 2014-15. The year-end open interest remained healthy at 12 tonnes. Importantly, MCX continued to deliver its price discovery function efficiently in 2014-15, which was evident from a high correlation of about 94 per cent between MCX gold futures prices and spot prices.

MCX active gold futures contract started the year at ₹ 27,912, down 0.83 per cent from the previous year's close, continuing the trend seen over the past few trading sessions. Later, safe haven demand on escalating tensions between Russia and Ukraine and upbeat physical demand on Akshaya Tritya (major Indian 'gold buying' festival), helped gold prices to rise. By May, releases of several upbeat data supporting the strengthening of the US dollar and easing of prolonged tensions between Ukraine and Russia led to a fall in gold prices. Meanwhile, spot gold prices traded with significant premium over futures prices following import restrictions that led to tightness in the physical gold market. By June, US Federal Reserve Chairperson Janet Yellen's signalling that short-term rates could be held steady for a while longer and the rise in geo-political tensions in Iraq saw gold prices rise steadily. Later, amidst fluctuating geo-political tensions, especially between Ukraine and Russia, MCX gold futures registered its FY2014-15 high of ₹ 29,085 on August 8, 2014. Internationally too, COMEX (CME) gold futures that started the FY at $1,280 per troy ounce, rose to $1,324.30 by August 8.

Despite the Ukraine-Russia tension, gold prices moved down amidst buoyant equity markets and increasing expectations of a sooner-than-expected monetary policy tightening in the U.S. helped the US dollar to strengthen. Further, following a brief rise, gold prices plunged as the US Federal Reserve indicated the closure of its stimulus programme. Meanwhile, the Bank of Japan's surprise announcement of the expansion of its stimulus package also aided the fall in gold prices. On November 7, 2014, gold futures both at MCX and COMEX fell to the FY2014-15 low of ₹ 25,164 and $1,130.40 respectively.

Later, gold recovered as the US dollar weakened on improved German economic confidence, measured by the Zew Indicator of Economic Sentiment for Germany, and Japan's announcement of a delay in the proposed increase in sales tax. However, the sharp fall in oil priceseasing inflation concerns -kept the gold price rise in check. By the end of 2014, gold traded steady on weak trading sentiments because of year-end holidays amidst concerns about slowing economies like Japan. A surprise move by the Swiss National Bank in January 2015 to scrap its longstanding floor of Swiss franc against the euro, along with other factors, such as weak global equities and concerns over the Greek economy, pushed gold prices up. But the increase in gold prices was curtailed by strengthening US dollar and weak demand sentiments, especially due to the Chinese Lunar New Year holiday. Concerns of an imminent announcement of a U.S. Fed rate hike ensured that gold prices remained under pressure. Nevertheless, by the end of March 2015, geo-political concerns in the Middle East saw gold prices increase.

In its continuous efforts towards serving gold stakeholders better, MCX, with permission from the Forward Markets Commission (FMC), has upwardly revised the position limits in gold futures contract. Position limits have been increased (in quantity terms) from 2.5 MT to 5 MT for a client and from 12.5 MT to 50 MT for a member. Additionally, MCX has also introduced the last-traded-price (LTP)-based calendar spread trading facility in gold, from April 1, 2015.

Silver

Barring a brief spurt in prices (June-July 2014), MCX silver futures largely traded down in 2014-15, registering an annual fall of more than 13 per cent and closing the year at ₹ 37,169 per kg. Amidst an average daily volatility of 1.44 per cent, silver futures volumes of around 2.35 lakh tonnes, valued at about ₹ 9.29 lakh crore, were traded on MCX in 2014-15, while the yearend open interest in MCX silver futures contract stood at 330.85 tonnes. On its part, the MCX platform continued to exhibit efficient price discovery in silver with correlation between its futures prices and spot prices staying around 99 per cent in 2014-15.

Lingering concerns over a slowdown of the Chinese economy led MCX silver futures start the FY2014-15 at ₹ 42,588, down 0.51 per cent from the previous month's close. Later, despite geo-political tensions between Russia and Ukraine, silver prices continued to decline as the US dollar strengthened following the European Central Bank's decision to leave interest rates unchanged and also because of continued weak industrial demand sentiments, especially from China. By June, economic optimism due to several upbeat global economic data releases, including those from China, and bargain hunting at low levels helped silver prices to recover. Further, a few data releases from the U.S. (such as the economy shrinking much more than previously expected in the Q1CY2014) increased the likelihood of steady US interest rates for a while. Problems at one of Portugal's biggest banks (Banco Espirito Santo) underscored the fragility of Europe's banking system, thereby buoying the safe-haven demand. Consequently, MCX silver futures moved up to a year high of ₹ 46,400 on July 11, 2014. Internationally too, COMEX (CME) silver futures registered its year high of $21.63 per troy ounce during same period.

Thereafter, silver prices largely traded down, initially due to a lacklustre seasonal physical demand and, later, due to better-than-expected U.S. economic data releases

(including employment numbers) bolstering expectations of a tighter monetary policy from the US Federal Reserve. Easing of tension between Ukraine and Russia too kept silver prices on the downtrend. Further, weak industrial demand sentiments, especially from China, the Euro zone, and Japan

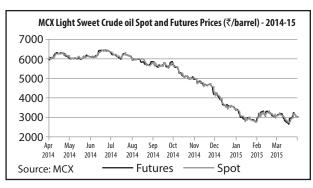

(major global economic powerhouses), aided the decline in silver prices. In addition, the strengthening US dollar aided the decline in prices to a year low. The significant factors that influenced the dollar were a buoyant global equity market, the US Fed indications of the closure of its stimulus programme, and a surprise announcement by the Bank of Japan of expanding its stimulus package. Both MCX silver futures and COMEX (CME) silver futures registered their respective year low of ₹ 32,625 and $14.155 on December 1, 2014.

Thereafter, silver prices staged some recovery, especially in the Indian markets, helped by a weak Indian rupee. Later, in January 2015, a surprise move by the Swiss National Bank to scrap its long-standing floor of the Swiss franc against the euro not only helped rise in gold prices but also perked up silver prices. Nevertheless, silver prices traded range bound on contrasting factors, such as volatile global equity markets, fall in oil prices, concerns over the Greek economy, and tensions in the Middle East. By the end of 2014-15, weak Chinese economic numbers and concerns over US Fed rate hike ensured that silver prices remained under check.

Like in gold, in its efforts towards serving silver stakeholders better, MCX, with permission from the FMC, upwardly revised the position limits in silver futures trade. Position limits were increased (in quantity terms) from 60 MT to 100 MT at the client level and from 300 MT to 1000 MT at the member level. Additionally, MCX has also introduced the last-traded-price (LTP)-based calendar spread trading facility for a number of futures contracts, including silver, from April 1, 2015.

Crude oil

Global oil oversupply (especially with the ramp up of U.S oil production) amidst subdued demand on sluggish economic growth in China, Japan and other developed nations, saw MCX crude oil (light sweet) futures prices drop by more than 50 per cent in 2014-15, with a yearend close of ₹ 3,025 per barrel. Amidst an average daily volatility of 1.88 per cent, the total volume traded in MCX crude oil futures (all size variants) during the year stood at 2.96 billion barrels (valued at ₹ 12.62 lakh crore). Notably, the open interest in crude oil futures contract jumped to 2.35 million barrels at the end of FY2014-15, up from 0.89 million barrels seen at the end of previous financial year, signifying a rising, healthy long-term interest in crude oil futures on MCX platform. Further, during 2014-15, the exchange's price discovery in the oil futures (light sweet) contracts remained highly efficient, with correlation of more than 99 per cent with underlying spot prices. To cater to the felt needs of the physical market participants, especially SMEs, MCX launched crude oil mini contract on January 6, 2015, with a lot size of 10 barrels. Additionally, MCX has also introduced the last-traded-price (LTP)-based calendar spread trading facility on a number of futures contracts, including crude oil, from April 1, 2015.

MCX crude oil (light sweet) futures started 2014-15 at ₹ 5,990 per barrel, down by 2.1 per cent from the previous year's close, owing to concerns arising from a slowdown in Chinese manufacturing. Later, despite the Ukraine-Russia conflict, concerns over faltering economic growth in China, and expectations that Libyan oil supply would return to the physical market kept crude oil prices under check. By May, releases of a few upbeat US data (non-farm payrolls, housing starts, and so on), drawdown in US oil inventory along with continued uncertainty in Ukraine pushed crude oil prices up. Further, announcement of fresh stimulus measures by the European Central Bank raising oil demand prospects, coupled with increasing oil supply concerns on worsening geo-political conditions in Iraq, pushed MCX crude oil prices to the year high of ₹ 6,499 on June 23. Internationally too, NYMEX (CME) crude oil futures registered its year high of $107.73 per barrel during the same period.

Later, oil prices declined as Libyan rebels agreed to allow two oil terminals to reopen and on the strengthening of the US dollar. In addition, news of increased supply from Saudi Arabia, Iran, and others offsetting decline in Iraqi production to keep OPEC production steady, ensured a steady fall in oil prices. Amidst this scenario, the OPEC, the International Energy Agency (IEA), and the US Energy Information Administration—all downgraded oil demand growth forecasts, which helped in sustained selling pressure of crude oil. Significantly, the US market (the largest oil consumer) in an oversupply mode with booming shale oil production precipitated the decline in oil prices, despite some global geo-political tensions.

By September, release of a number of weak macroeconomic data, especially from China, strengthening of US dollar, forecasts of lower oil demand (IMF, Goldman Sachs, and so on) amidst plentiful supplies (with surging output from Libya) continued to drag oil prices down. Continued weak demand sentiments especially with Japan falling back into recession in the third quarter, Greece debt worries amidst OPEC's decision to keep crude production unchanged, also added to the downward pressure. Nevertheless, by February 2015, the continuously falling crude oil prices got some brief respite with releases of upbeat US economic numbers, a drop in the number of active U.S oil drilling rigs, and U.S. Fed Chairperson Janet Yellen indicating that the Fed was in no hurry to tighten monetary policy. Yet, crude oil prices fell thereafter on strengthening U.S. dollar along with a monthly IEA report indicating further fall in prices. Subsequently, crude oil futures both at MCX and NYMEX touched their year-low of ₹ 2,643 and $42.03 respectively on March 18. In the second-half of March 2015, oil prices staged some recovery, primarily on the turmoil in Yemen after Saudi Arabia started airstrikes on that country, thus raising concerns over crude supplies from the Middle East.

Copper

Following a steady rangebound movement for a major part of 2014-15, MCX copper futures prices witnessed a sharp fall followed by some price recovery by the end of the year. MCX copper futures eventually closed the year at ₹ 378.45 a kg, marking an annual fall of 6.36 per cent. MCX copper futures prices displayed a high correlation of about 98 per cent with spot prices, underpinning the efficiency of the MCX price discovery platform. Amidst an average daily volatility of 1.13 per cent, the total volume traded in MCX copper futures in FY2014-15 stood at 9.55 million tonnes valued at ₹ 3.79 lakh crore. The open interest at the close of 2014-15 stood at 13,556 tonnes, signifying strong longterm interest in MCX copper futures. Further, continuing in its efforts to enhance participation of all stakeholders, MCX, with permission from the FMC, introduced lasttraded-price (LTP)-based calendar spread trading facility for a number of futures contracts, including copper, from April 1, 2015. Additionally, MCX has also revised the position limits in copper futures trading. Position limits (in quantity terms) have been revised to 7,000 tonnes from 5,000 tonnes at the client level, and to 70,000 tonnes from 25,000 tonnes at the member level.

MCX copper futures prices opened 2014-15 on a flat note at ₹ 403.75 a kg, down by just 0.1 per cent from the previous year's close. Thereafter, copper prices traded range-bound on contrasting factors, such as releases of a few upbeat data from US along with a fall in London Metal Exchange (LME) inventory levels as against concerns over curbs on commodity-linked financing deals in China. Further, weak macroeconomic data from China along with a record decline in copper inventories from LME and Shanghai Futures Exchange (SHFE) warehouses kept copper price movements on a tight leash. Copper prices then got some boost from the announcement of new stimulus measures by the European Central Bank, which, however, soon withered away on news of investigation into Chinese commodity financing. Subsequently, from mid-June, expectations of increase in demand, supply deficits, and monetary easing in Europe and China gradually led to a recovery in copper prices. Prices then continued to move up on positive macroeconomic growth numbers from both China and the U.S. Additionally, expectations of China's policy-easing measures coupled with a drawdown in LME inventory also pushed copper prices upward. Eventually MCX copper futures registered its year high of ₹ 439.40 on August 1. Internationally too, 3-month LME copper prices registered their year high of $7,212 per tonne during the same period.

Thereafter, declining Chinese imports and economic uncertainty in Europe brought copper prices down. Releases of a few negative macroeconomic data from the U.S. and China, the world's top two copper consumers, also added to bearish sentiments. Nevertheless, the fall in copper prices was arrested with the Chinese central bank cutting rates as well as on looming strike threats at copper mines in Indonesia and Peru. Decelerating oil prices, which lowered copper production costs, along with global demand concerns, made prices resume their southward journey. By January 2015, copper prices went into a near free fall on signs of sustained slowdown in China and rising copper inventories at LME and SHFE warehouses. Strengthening of the US dollar against the euro also aided the fall. Consequently, MCX copper futures touched a year low of ₹ 332.8 per kg on January 29. Internationally too, 3-month LME copper prices registered their year low of $5,339.50 per tonne during the same period.

By February, copper prices recovered amidst mounting expectations that China would expand its economic stimulus programme. A few upbeat US economic data releases and BHP Billiton Ltd.'s (a major global miner) decision to curb copper production due to maintenance, also helped prices to rise. By the end of the year, the delay in US monetary policy tightening too aided the price rise.

Zinc

After peaking in early August 2014, MCX zinc futures for the rest of 2014-15 was range bound. Overall, MCX zinc futures moved up by 8.78 per cent in the year, with a year-end close at ₹ 130.05 per kg. Amidst an average daily volatility of 1.08 per cent, the total volume traded in MCX zinc futures for 2014-15 stood at 19.12 million tonnes, valued at ₹ 2.57 lakh crore. Moreover, the open interest at the close of the year stood at 25,667 tonnes, up from 14,227 tonnes at the end of the previous year, thus signifying rising long-term interest in MCX zinc futures. Significantly, MCX zinc futures showed a high correlation of about 99 per cent with spot prices, clearly reflecting efficient price discovery on the MCX platform. MCX, with the approval of the FMC, introduced last-traded-price (LTP)-based calendar spread trading facility for a number of futures contracts, including zinc. The facility is available, from April 1, 2015. Additionally, MCX has also upwardly revised the position limits (in quantity terms) to 7,000 tonnes from 3,600 tonnes at the client level and to 70,000 tonnes from 18,000 tonnes at the member level.

With a data release showing that Chinese manufacturing had touched an eight-month low in March 2014, MCX zinc futures started 2014-15 at ₹ 118.40 per kg, down 0.96 per cent from the previous year's close. With zinc prices staying high through the year, the opening day's low of ₹ 118.05 eventually turned out to be the year's low. Internationally too, LME 3-month zinc prices registered their year-low of $1,962 per tonne on the same day.

Amidst consistently falling zinc inventories at LME and Shanghai Futures Exchange (SHFE) warehouses, expectations that global economic gains forecast by the IMF would spur metals demand helped zinc prices to rise. Further, International Lead & Zinc Study Group's (ILZSG) forecast that refined supplies may fall short of consumption in 2014 as well as concerns that metal supplies from Russia may be disrupted amidst mounting tensions over Ukraine ensured the uptrend in zinc prices. However, price rise was kept under check as releases of a few downbeat Chinese economic growth numbers led to concerns that demand might ebb.

From June, zinc embarked upon a steady north-bound movement as China's central bank tried to support the economy by extending a cut in reserve requirements of some national banks including China Merchants Bank Co. and Industrial Bank Co. Robust zinc demand was also seen in both China and the U.S. as car sales remained strong (where zinc is used to galvanise steel plates, which is used in manufacturing car body). Zinc supplies were also said to be dwindling as construction demand was increasing globally at a time when a few mines remained shut. Further, releases of some upbeat macroeconomic numbers from the U.S. and China as well as LME zinc inventories falling to multi-year lows helped MCX zinc futures move to a year's high of ₹ 146.95 on August 4. Internationally, too, the LME 3-month zinc price registered its year-high of $2,416 around the same period.

Following a bullish momentum over the past few months, zinc prices traded down, albeit range-bound, over the next few months in the wake of weak economic sentiments, especially from China and Europe as well as on strengthening of the US dollar. The fall was however associated with occasional rises owing to factors such as the ILZSG's forecast of supply deficits in 2014 and 2015. By November, global economic concerns and the return of a major zinc mine in Peru to normalcy after a three-week strike kept downward pressure on zinc prices. However, rising vehicle sales in the U.S. and looming concerns over potential mine closures raising supply concerns, kept the downward pressure on zinc prices under check.

In Q4 2014-15, zinc prices continued exhibiting range-bound movement, albeit with a downward bias. Slowing Chinese economic outlook and Greece debt worries dented metal demand sentiments. Additionally, news that about 450,000 tonnes of new zinc capacity was to be commissioned in the next two to three years and an additional 1.2 million tonnes was to be commissioned in 2018-20 across the globe, contributed to the fall. However, by end of the year, expectations of improved metal demand on Chinese efforts to stimulate growth, a potential delay in U.S. Fed rate increase, and consistent fall in zinc inventories led to some recovery in zinc prices.

Cardamom

Cardamom futures prices on MCX closed the FY2014-15 at ₹ 888.40 a kg, registering an increase of 1.8 per cent year-on-year. For the fiscal, MCX cardamom futures contract with a total volume of 66,331.4 tonnes and valued at ₹ 6,383.63 crore, were traded on the exchange. The year-end open interest in MCX cardamom futures contract stood at 194.2 tonnes.

Cardamom futures opened the year at ₹ 867.70 per kg. Thereafter, prices went up on buying support from traders and exporters. Decreasing availability of export-quality cardamom also pushed up prices. To gain on higher prices, farmers holding export-quality cardamom released their stocks, which helped in easing prices to some extent before arrivals set in.

Higher prices also put off exporters and traders who bought limited quantities and avoided building up of inventory as the new season was approaching by August. Besides, in the interim period, there was no major festival during which demand for cardamom could have increased. Conducive weather with intermittent showers in cardamom-growing regions of Kerala also helped prices remain range-bound.

As the arrivals set in from August, cardamom prices further declined, weighed down by supply pressure. Additionally, lower cardamom exports in the first six months of 2014-15 further added pressure on cardamom prices. Cardamom exports from India dipped almost 10 per cent to 1,510 tonnes during April-September 2014-15 as compared with the same period last year, according to the Spices Board India.

Late rains in November-December rejuvenated plantations, increasing yield and keeping cardamom prices under a tight leash. As a result, cardamom prices hit the year's low of ₹ 738 a kg on November 12, 2014. Good quality arrivals during the period and competitive prices boosted exports during the third quarter of the year. India exported around 1,285 tonnes of cardamom during the October-December quarter. With higher exports, the availability of premium quality cardamom declined.

Cardamom prices also went up as premium quality capsules became scarce, which was further aggravated during the Christmas holidays. With the plucking season coming to an end and demand remaining robust, prices were pushed up during the New Year. Supply uncertainty from Guatemala amidst drought-like conditions there also added to the uptrend in prices. Guatemala is world's largest cardamom producer and exporter.

prices also increased due to uncertainty related to a change in the auctioning system which was to come into effect from mid-January 2015. The physical-market players, prior to the actual announcement of the changes, were anticipating possible suspension of licences for auctioneers, along with stringent changes in the auction mechanism. This led to fears of probable tightness in supply after the announcement of the changes, leading to rise in cardamom prices.

Moreover, to shield Indian growers from cheap imports and to control import of inferior quality of cardamom from Guatemala, the Department of Commerce, Government of India on February 6, 2015, fixed the minimum import value of cardamom at ₹ 500 per kg and additionally imposed an import duty of 70 per cent. It was also decided that the consignment would be allowed in the country only if it met the quality standards specified under the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI). This government directive added support to cardamom prices as a result of which it touched the year's high of ₹ 1190 per kg on March 10, 2015.

Thereafter, prices began to cool as higher prices dissuaded buying. Moreover, with the cardamom season nearing its end, the quality of the arrivals deteriorated, taking prices down. Additionally, unexpected showers in cardamom-producing areas during March fuelled expectations of early maturity of bulbs and supplies hitting the market earlier than usual, weighing down on prices.

Acting on the feedback of market participants, MCX has begun to provide details of grade-wise stocks of cardamom stored in its accredited warehouses. Additionally, to serve the interests of stakeholders better and for a better reflection of changes in spot market on the futures, the Forward Markets Commission (FMC), vide its circular dated 11 December 2014, has made upward revisions in the price circuit filter of cardamom, subject to some conditions.

Cotton

MCX cotton futures closed the year at ₹ 15,290 per bale (170 kg), a yearly fall of about 24.6 per cent. Amidst an average daily volatility of 1.1 per cent, the total volume of 199.07 lakh bales of cotton, valued at ₹ 34,949.36 crore was traded on MCX during 2014-15. The year-end open interest in MCX cotton futures contract

MCX Cotton Spot and Futures Prices (₹/bale) - FY2014-15 24000 21600 19200 16800 14400 12000 Feb 2014 2014 2014 2014 2014 2014 2014 2015 2014 2014 2015 2015 Source: MCX - Futures Spot stood at 339,125 bales. Notably, MCX cotton futures prices shared a healthy correlation of 97.9 per cent with the spot prices, thereby reflecting a good hedging efficiency and an efficient price discovery on the MCX platform.

Cotton futures prices on MCX opened the year at ₹ 20,440 a bale. After some initial range-bound movement, MCX cotton prices went up following global benchmark prices. International cotton prices went up on the back of very high export sales, and the resultant ending stocks hit a four-year low in the U.S.-the world's largest exporter of the commodity. Higher exports from the U.S. were due to Chinese agencies reportedly building up large inventories. As a result MCX cotton prices touched the year's high of ₹ 21,450 per bale on May 5, 2014.

The onset of the sowing season in India coupled with China's announcement that it would do away with the controversial stockpiling programme helped reverse the rise in cotton prices. The sowing season in India commences from April when most of the irrigated cotton is planted in northern and central parts of the country.

With monsoon playing truant, farmers preferred to switch over to cotton from other competing crops, such as soya bean and paddy. Despite a delayed start, sowing for the 2014-15 season increased by 10.7 per cent to touch 12.66 million hectares as against 11.44 million hectares last year, according to the Ministry of Agriculture. Late rains in Maharashtra and Andhra Pradesh also encouraged farmers from the region to bring in higher area under the crop.

With a slowdown in China and huge inventory pile up from previous year's imports, the Chinese demand remained subdued. China is the largest importer of Indian cotton. Cotton exports from the country also suffered due to the recession in Europe. The European Union is the largest importer and consumer of garments from China. Significant carryover stocks in India and better-than-expected domestic production further exerted downward pressure on cotton.

Meanwhile, the cotton inventory in China reportedly rose to record 62.7 million bales in 2014-15, which is twice annual production and 50% of annual global production. Due to record carryover stocks in China, international prices weakened, which spilled over to the Indian markets, weakening domestic prices.

To support domestic cotton prices, Cotton Corporation of India (CCI) set up procurement centres, but it did little to halt the southward journey of cotton prices. The slide in prices continued during the time of harvest as farmers fearing a further fall were eager to offload their produce at the earliest. The United States Department of Agriculture's (USDA) forecast that the world cotton stock was set to increase to 138.6 million bales, the highest on record, also exerted pressure on international and domestic prices.

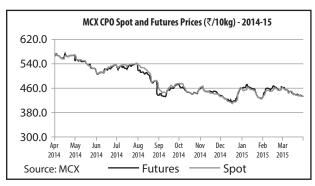

Struggling with a large inventory buildup, CCI was forced to offload stocks as it was grappling with storage constraints further adding to the downward pressure in an already weak market. On January 23, 2015, MCX cotton futures touched the year's low of ₹ 13,970 per bale.

In late February, cotton prices crawled up as cotton supplies eased after large-scale CCI procurement and demand from yarn manufacturers removed the market surplus. To prevent shortages and at the same time avoid a significant fall in the open market prices, CCI was reported to be selling cotton in limited quantities, which helped in checking major movement in prices.

In its continuous efforts to serve cotton industry stakeholders better, MCX, with permission from the FMC, has upwardly revised position limits of cotton futures. The member and client position limits for all months combined (in quantity terms) have been revised to 15,00,000 and 1,50,000 bales from 6,50,000 and 65,000 bales respectively. The near month position limits for both member and client have been enhanced to 7,50,000 and 75,000 bales from 3,25,000 and 32,000 bales respectively. It was made effective for all cotton contracts expiring from January 2015 onwards. Additionally, the FMC has upwardly revised the price circuit filters, with some conditions.

Crude Palm Oil (CPO)

MCX CPO (Crude palm oil) futures closed the financial year 2014-15 at ₹ 434.40 per 10 kg, falling by about 23.7 per cent from the previous year's close. Amidst an average daily volatility of 1.2 per cent, a total volume of 86.49 lakh tonnes of CPO futures, valued at ₹ 41,308.68 crore, was traded on MCX during 2014-15. The year-end crude oil prices further added to the downtrend in CPO prices. Crude oil below $80 per barrel erodes the competitiveness of palmbased biodiesel, reducing Indonesia's palm-based biodiesel demand. As a result, CPO prices touched the year's low of ₹ 413 per 10 kg on December 17, 2014.

open interest in MCX CPO futures contract stood at 87,570 tonnes. Significantly, the spot and futures prices of CPO on MCX showed a strong correlation of 99.1 per cent for the FY 2014-15, indicating efficient price discovery of the MCX platform.

Since the beginning of the year CPO prices remained under pressure due to expectations of a bumper harvest in Indonesia and Malaysia, the world's two largest producers, which together contribute over 85 per cent of the world's production. CPO prices of ₹ 585 per 10 kg touched on April 2, 2014, remained the year's high. Slowdown in China and the resultant drop in its CPO imports also exerted pressure on prices. Conducive weather during the peak harvest season helped in keeping prices on a downtrend.

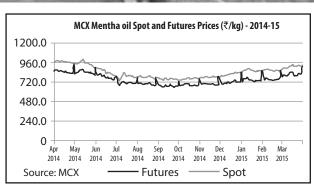

During the peak harvest time from July to September, exports from both the countries kept declining and as a result, the inventory bulged. Owing to plunging prices, India stepped up its CPO imports, which increased by 22 per cent on a month-on-month basis to touch 0.8 million metric tonnes (MMT) in August. However it did little to halt the slide. To further incentivize exports, Indonesia and Malaysia slashed their export tax for September to 9 per cent and 4.5 percent from 10.5 per cent and 5 per cent respectively during August 2014. Prices remained stable for some time in September, but resumed the downward trend in October as the harvest of soya bean commenced in India, putting pressure on international CPO prices. Both the oil crops are a substitute to each other. Soya bean crop condition in Argentina and Brazil were reportedly very good, which further depressed CPO prices. Record production of soy oil in Latin American countries lowered the price differential between CPO and soy oil. Indonesia and Malaysia both acted again to support CPO prices and lowered the export tax to zero in October. To stem the rising inventory, Malaysia further extended the 'zero' export tax decree up to December; subsequently Indonesia also followed suit. However, the steep fall in Thereafter, news of Malaysia implementing the B7 biodiesel programme, which is expected to boost the use of palm biodiesel, lifted CPO prices. Additionally, there were also expectations that Indonesia would compulsorily impose a 20 percent biodiesel blending target by 2016, lifting CPO prices in January. Meanwhile, increase in exports and drought-like conditions in Indonesia which curbed production, made CPO stocks decline, putting an upward pressure on CPO prices.

Increase in CPO import duty by India from 2.5 per cent to 7.5 per cent to boost domestic refining also lifted CPO prices in the Indian market. Additionally, expectation of announcement by Indonesia to almost triple biodiesel subsidies to 4,000 rupiah ($0.32) a litre from 1,500 rupiah also lifted CPO prices higher in February. Further, flooding in Malaysia's top palm-growing states of Sabah and Sarawak coupled with weaker yields in the rest of the country also reduced overall outputs thus pushing prices higher in February. By March, however, CPO prices reversed the gains achieved in February due to a sharp drop in crude oil prices, which touched a five-year low. Amidst steep fall in prices, both Indonesia and Malaysia maintained the export tax at 'zero' until March to encourage exports.

In its continuous efforts towards serving the edible oil industry stakeholders better, MCX, with permission from the FMC, has upwardly revised the position limits of CPO futures. The member and client position limits in all months combined (in quantity terms) have been revised to 500,000 and 50,000 tonnes from 250,000 and 25,000 tonnes respectively. The near month position limits for both member and client have been enhanced to 250,000 and 25,000 tonnes from 125,000 and 12,500 tonnes respectively. It was made effective for all CPO contracts expiring from January 2015 onwards. Additionally, the FMC has upwardly revised the price circuit filters, with some conditions.

Mentha oil

Mentha Oil futures prices on MCX closed FY2014-15 at ₹ 923.60 a kg, registering a 6.3 per cent y-o-y fall. For the year, a total volume of 349,348.68 tonnes of mentha oil futures, valued at ₹ 26,054.01 crore was traded on MCX. The yearend open interest in MCX mentha oil futures contract stood at 3,038.76 tonnes.

Notably, the price correlation between spot and futures at MCX in 2014-15 stood at 91.9 per cent, implying the efficient price discovery platform of MCX.

Since the beginning of the year, mentha oil futures prices moved lower on expectation of a good harvest amidst favourable climate and higher area under cultivation. Higher carry over stock also kept mentha oil prices under pressure. However, some weather-related scare caused prices to hit the year's high of ₹ 952.30 a kg on April 29, 2014.

As mentha oil arrivals began in June, prices came under renewed pressure. Due to drop in prices, farmers started holding back their produce which eased the arrivals-related price pressure and provided a floor to prices. Mentha oil has a long shelf life of about seven years. It is easily storable with very minimal quality deterioration over years of storage. Hence, when the price of the commodity is lower than farmers' expectations, they prefer to defer sale.

Mentha oil prices also remained subdued due to fall in demand after several state governments imposed ban on gutkha, a combination of tobacco and betel nut. The gutkha manufacturing companies are one of the largest consumers of mentha oil. By the time the harvest of mentha oil was over, the production of the commodity for 2014-15 was estimated between 45,000 tonnes and 48,000 tonnes, according to market sources. The higher production, coupled with lower demand, caused mentha oil prices to touch the year's low of ₹ 652.20 per kg on September 9, 2014.

However, drawn by lower prices, demand from the domestic market picked up. Domestic bulk buyers, such as FMCG and pharma companies, were reported to be active buyers. Stable prices also resulted in export demand picking up the slack left by a sharp drop in demand from gutkha manufacturers. Stable prices were also because farmers restricted sale whenever price dropped, and industrial consumers opted out of purchases whenever prices rose. Subsequently, prices moved upwards as it was believed that farmers would reduce the area under mentha oil as the crop was less remunerative in 2014-15 compared with the 2012-13 and 2013-14 seasons.

Meanwhile, export of mint products, primarily using mentha oil, from April to December 2014, increased by 11 per cent to 21,700 tonnes as compared with the same period in 2013, according to the Spices Board India.

In its continuous efforts towards serving mentha oil industry stakeholders better, MCX, with permission from the FMC, has upwardly revised the position limits of mentha oil futures. The member and client position limits in all months combined (in quantity terms) have been revised to 5,000 and 500 tonnes from 3,600 and 360 tonnes respectively. The near-month position limits for both member and client have been enhanced to 2,500 and 250 tonnes from 1,800 and 180 tonnes respectively. The changes were announced in December and are to be made effective for all mentha oil contracts expiring from July 2015 onwards. Additionally, the FMC has upwardly revised the price circuit filters, with some conditions.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Economic Overview

The global economy showed an uptrend in 2014, although the performance was lower than initially expected. Growth picked up only marginally in 2014, to 2.6 per cent, from 2.5 per cent in 2013, according to the 'Global Economic Prospects', January 2015, published by the World Bank. However, there were divergent trends within the overall picture. While activity in the U.S. and the UK gathered momentum, recovery had been slow in the euro area and Japan. China too experienced a slowdown on the back of weak domestic and external demand. Soft commodity prices, particularly of crude oil, helped support economic activity in most developing economies, although the effect on oil-exporting economies was negative.

GDP growth in India recorded 7.3 per cent (provisional estimates) in 2014-15, up from a revised 6.9 per cent growth seen in 2013-14 at constant (2011-12) market prices. According to the latest data released by the Government of India, the cumulative growth in the Index for Industrial Production (IIP) stood at 2.8 per cent for 2014-15, compared to the de-growth of 0.1 per cent in 2013-14. Agriculture, however, performed less satisfactorily in 2014-15. The growth rate in gross value added (GVA) at basic prices in agriculture declined from 3.4 per cent in 2013-14 to 0.2 per cent in 2014-15, caused largely by inadequate monsoon.

Global Commodity Market

Continuing on past year's trend, trading in listed derivatives markets across the globe rose by 1.4 per cent in 2014 annually, similar to the growth (2.1 per cent) in 2013, according to FIA (Futures Industry Association) Annual Volume Survey, 2014. The total number of futures and options traded on exchanges worldwide stood at 21.867 billion contracts in 2014.

By region, North America (with 8.213 billion contracts) led the way with a 4.9 per cent increase in volume in 2014, driven by a rise of 8.9 percent jump in trading in U.S.-based CME Group. A moderate growth of 2.1 per cent was also seen in Europe; with the total number of derivatives lots traded standing at 4.450 billion contracts in 2014. In contrast, volumes in Asia (7.252 billion contracts) and Latin America (1.514 billion contracts) fell by 0.7 per cent and 10 per cent respectively in 2014. (Table 1)

Table 1: Global futures and options volumes by region (in million contracts)

Region	CY 2013	CY 2014	% change
North America	7,830	8,213	4.9

Europe	4,359	4,450	2.1
Latin America	1,683	1,514	-10.0

Total	21,551	21,867	1.5

By asset class, equity and equity index derivatives that form a major chunk of the total global derivative volumes, together increased by a significant 4.7 per cent to 12.321 billion contracts in CY 2014, up from 11.772 billion contracts traded in CY 2013. On the other hand, both interest rate derivatives trading and currency derivatives trading declined by 1.9 per cent and 15.1 per cent respectively in 2014 annually. Significantly, commodity derivatives trading continued to grow (5.6 per cent) in 2014, after registering a stellar growth (22.5 per cent) in 2013. Overall, commodity derivatives volume in 2014 stood at 3.804 billion contracts. Strong growth in China, especially in agricultural commodities futures trading and industrial commodities futures trading, helped the overall growth in global commodity derivatives trading. (Table 2)

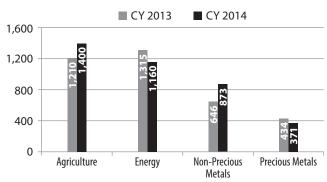

Table 2: Category-wise global derivatives volume (in million contracts)

Category	CY2013	CY2014	% Change

Among global commodity derivatives, significant growth in trading was witnessed in non-precious metals and agriculture, which more than countered the fall in precious metals and energy. (Figure 1)

Overall in 2014, barring equity and its indices derivatives trading, commodity derivatives was the next most-traded category, well-above derivatives trading in interest rates, currencies and others. (Figure 2)

During CY 2014, volumes on MCX stood at 133 million contracts, that is, down by 49 per cent over CY 2013. The drop in volumes was largely attributed to the continued effect of commodities transaction tax (CTT) on non-agricultural commodities, effective July 2013; and to the payment crisis at National Spot Exchange Limited (NSEL) that dented interest in commodity trading as well.

Opportunities and threats

The size, diversity, and commodity-intensity of India's economic growth ensure a lot of opportunities for the growth of MCX. Given the thrust of the government on economic reforms in some critical areas, particularly its push to manufacturing under the 'Make in India' initiative, the Indian economy is poised for a great leap forward. What is significant for the commodity derivatives market is that the growing economy will place a demand for commodities and risk management, which will provide ample opportunities for the company.

A very significant policy initiative by the government through the Finance Act, 2015, was the merger of the Forward Markets Commission (FMC) with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). The SEBI has penal powers of raid and search, and to impose punitive action against wrong-doers in the market under its jurisdiction. Thus, by placing commodity derivatives market under the wings of the SEBI, unregulated or dabba market, the size of which is multiple times that of the regulated commodity derivatives market, can be effectively curbed. Once such illegal markets are curbed, some of the volumes of these markets are sure to flow to regulated platforms like MCX.

The other gains of the FMC and the SEBI merger is that securities brokers who have memberships of commodity futures exchanges through their subsidiary companies could benefit, as being under a single regulator may reduce the duplication of activities resulting in reduced costs of administration and compliance. This may encourage them to divert human and financial resources for greater market penetration and facilitate financial inclusion.

Recent legislative measures pave the way for the introduction of financial products like options, which may facilitate trading in underlyings other than commodities on platforms like MCX. This is surely an opportunity that the company is looking for. On the flip side, this could also mean that other exchange platforms, which were not able to offer commodity derivatives till now, could do so in the future.

The other threats to MCX's business could arise from any increase in the existing taxes on commodity derivatives transactions or imposition of any new tax—either by the central or state governments Domestic or international factors affecting the price movements of commodities could also lead to low trading interest in commodity markets, and could affect the company's trading volumes. Government or regulatory interventions, such as suspension in trading in some commodities, which have the potential to disrupt commodity futures trading, could also affect the company's profitability.

MCX's business overview in 2014-15

With the support of all stakeholders, MCX has been able to withstand the pressure on its volumes and profitability arising from the imposition of CTT and the payment crisis at NSEL and retain its leadership position. With a market share

Market Development initiatives

MCX undertook a number of initiatives in 2014-15 for the development of the market and to propagate the benefits of trading on commodity derivatives exchanges.

Awareness creation and capacity building

MCX undertook a number of focused measures to educate potential hedgers on the benefits and modalities of hedging. During 2014-15, the company conducted as many as 411 awareness programmes across the country, in addition to regular interactions of stakeholders with senior exchange officials. These programmes not only created awareness on the need and benefits of managing price risks by trading on commodity futures exchanges, but also trained the participants on hedging techniques, trading strategies, technical analysis, and so forth. MCX also associated itself with various universities and other educational institutions, besides undertaking 14 capacity building programmes for promoting financial literacy in the commodity ecosystem. Moreover, during 2014-15, the exchange conducted 396 farmers training programmes, covering 18,369 farmers. In a first of its kind, MCX has also initiated a series of compliance awareness programmes for the members, and the first such programme was conducted in Mumbai on 12th March 2015. Many such programmes have been planned for the months ahead.

MCX engages with print and electronic media to create awareness and sensitize policymakers on various matters affecting the market. MCX published a weekly advertorial series titled 'Commodity-wise' in multiple language editions of The Economic Times, which provided experts' insights on various aspects of commodity markets and commodities. Similarly, an educational series on 'risk management', which was created in-house, was published every week in the Mint. Both the commodity-wise and risk management series received very good response from the readers.

Another tool that enables the company to engage with commodity market participants is its periodic newsletters. Apart from the MCX newsletter, CommNews, another monthly publication, Commodity Connect was started during the year. These publications endeavour to make the learning more effective by providing insights on commodity markets, commodities, policies, regulations and recent developments in international and domestic markets along with an analysis of their effects. During the year, the company also started publishing commodity-specific brochures on hedging to educate the current and potential hedgers. For wide dissemination of the knowledge on hedging, the hedging brochures were published in English and many regional languages (that is, Hindi, Gujarati, and Tamil) and uploaded on the website.

Stakeholder engagements

MCX regularly engages with trade bodies and other stakeholder associations for policy advocacy and market development. Often, such engagements lead to active participation in events organised by these bodies. Some of the events that the company participated in during FY 2014-15 included: FIA International Futures Industry Conference, 2015, 11th India International Gold Convention, Globoil India 2014, International Convention of CPAI, 13th Commodity Futures Market Summit & Excellence Awards of ASSOCHAM, Indian Cotton Conference 2014, 2nd International Indian Metal Recycling Conference of MRAI, 7th Metals Outlook and Market Trends by MMR, and so on.

Research Studies

To make efforts at policy advocacy and market development more meaningful and effective, MCX undertakes evidence-based research studies. An impact analysis research study on the MCX cardamom contract was completed during the year, together with IIM Kozhikode.

Your Company's technological infrastructure is built on the next generation technology mechanism, which can cater to all market participants by virtue of being fast, secure, cost effective, transparent and regulated. This has enabled your Exchange attain and retain its members' confidence and market leadership on a consistent basis. Your Company's high performance nationwide private network (NPN) provides end-to-end connectivity, which is robust, scalable and capable of servicing the growing connectivity requirements of the future. The architecture consists of POPs (Points of Presence) connecting to the core routers at your Company's Data centre (DC) and Disaster Recovery (DR) site. The DR site is located at Delhi, which falls under a seismic zone different from that of Mumbai. The Exchange's online trading platform is accessible to its members through trader workstations or computer-to-computer link (CTCL) using multiple connectivity including NPN-POP, VSAT, VPN, leased line, and internet.

The robust technology of the Exchange enables it to adopt market safeguards through real time risk monitoring system and execution of adequate mechanisms that track our members' margin utilisations and mark-to-market (MTM) losses online against their deposits made available to the Company. The system automatically generates alerts and takes predecided actions.

As on 31 March 2015, your Company had 1,792 members on its Exchange platform, operating through more than 481,000 trading terminals (including CTCL/IBT), spanning over 1,879 cities and towns across India.

Strong Leadership Team

Product-wise Performance

Detailed product-wise performance of commodities is covered in the Annexures to the Directors' Report.

Risk Management and Surveillance System

Your Company uses market safeguards and risk management techniques to ensure that its members meet their financial obligations promptly and Exchange is protected from undesirable events. Some of the risk management mechanisms are listed below:

Insurance Coverage: To minimise operational risks, your Exchange advises its members to avail Indemnity Insurance Policy. The policy provides indemnity in respect of members' erroneous transactions, forgery, dishonesty of employees, computer crimes, electronic transmissions and electronic securities.

Minimum Net worth Requirements: Your Exchange necessitates all its members to have a certain minimum networth. Members are required to confirm their net worth on an annual basis, which enables the Company to monitor and ensure their financial strength.

Margin Requirements: To mitigate risks associated with daily price movements in commodities, the Exchange imposes margins. Your Company necessitates members to pay a security deposit at the time of registration, which serves as the initial margin. The initial margin requirement is computed using SPAN™, which is a portfolio-based margining system used under license from CME, to identify the overall risk in a portfolio of contracts for each client of a member. The margins are applicable at the client-level and grossed up at the member-level. Further, once a member's margin utilisation breaches the eligible deposits available with the Exchange, the system automatically shifts such member to square-off mode, where no order that can create any fresh position is accepted by the system. The system only allows order/s which can reduce or liquidate the member's outstanding position. This is monitored online on a real time basis by the system.

Mark-to-Market (MTM) Loss Monitoring: The trading system of your Exchange tracks losses incurred by a member on a real-time basis by comparing the difference between the contracted price and the last trade price on the market. Alerts are transmitted to a member whenever the member's MTM loss amounts exceed certain percentages of the MTM limit.

FMC had outlined various norms on eligibility of promoters, financial norms on net worth & security deposit, corporate governance, Facilities & Infrastructure requirements, Insurance, Inspection/Audit & MIS etc. for empanelment as WSP. MCX is operating with only a sole Warehouse Service Provider viz. Sohanlal Commodity Management Pvt Ltd. Accordingly, the norms and process for empanelment as WSP were put up on the website of the Exchange and an advertisement was issued on 19th February 2015 calling for applications to act as WSP. Out of the applications received, M/s Origo Commodities Pvt Ltd. and Yamada Logistics Pvt. Ltd. were empanelled as WSPs to the Exchange after approval by the Risk Management Committee of the Exchange in its meeting held on May 26, 2015. The FMC had also issued a directive that all warehouses accredited by the Exchanges should be registered with the Warehousing Development and Regulatory Authority as by June 30, 2015 which is now extended till October 31, 2015. MCX is thus preparing to get all its warehouses registered with WDRA within the timelines.

Regulation of warehouses remains a grey area: The Warehousing Development and Regulatory Authority (WDRA) is under the aegis of Department of Food & Public Distribution.

Warehousing is an important part of the commodity exchanges ecosystem and is required for delivery. For the commodity derivatives ecosystem to grow, more commodities need to be made delivery-based.

Risks and concerns

The company's business performance and financial position depends on various factors, of which the following are of particular importance:

- Macro-economic trends. India's commodity derivatives market is affected by both domestic and the global economic factors. Thus, as a part of the Indian commodity derivatives market, the results of the company's operations too are significantly influenced by these economic factors. Economic events such as the national industrial growth, global financial crisis and the speed of recovery, inflation, and so on influence commodity markets in India and globally. The demand and supply of commodities is driven by a growth in the economy, which in turn affects the overall volume of commodities being traded in India. Generally, an increase in demand for commodities along with increased price volatility has a positive effect on the company's operational results. The company keeps track of the emerging economic trends, and realigns its business strategy, as and when required.
- Imposition/enhancement of tax. The Indian Union Budget for FY2013-14 imposed CTT on the sale of non-agricultural commodity futures contracts at 0.01 per cent. This increased the cost of transactions and negatively affected volumes. Any increase in CTT, expansion of its coverage or imposition of a new tax on commodity derivatives trading can adversely affect volumes traded on the exchange, thereby affecting the company's profitability.
- Trading Volumes and Contract Values. As the transaction fee is calculated on the basis of the value of commodity futures contracts traded on the exchange, the volume and value of contracts traded on the exchange have a direct effect on the company's revenues. The trading volumes and value of contracts are affected by external factors, such as the construction of new production facilities or processes, new uses or the discontinuance of historical uses, mine/plant closures, adoption of new technology by the commodity-specific industry, weather, and natural disasters; trade policies and regulations; and geopolitical events involving governments or economic paradigms, among others.
- Regulatory Environment. All aspects of the company's operations are subject to regulatory oversights. If changes in laws, taxation, and so on are carried out, or new ones introduced by the market regulator or the government, which necessitate the company to allocate more resources to comply with them, they may impede the company's ability to operate and grow its business.
- Technological Advancements. Technology has played a key role in the performance of the exchange and has been its main differentiator among its competitors. The successful operations of your Company's business and operating results are dependent in part on the use and deployment of technology. Thus, maintenance of state-of-the-art technology is a cost your company has to continually expend on because technological obsolescence can have serious negative repercussion on the exchange's business. On the other hand, the company expects that advancements in technology, technological infrastructure and connectivity options will enable it to provide more efficient trade execution services, and increase its economies of scale. This is expected to have a positive impact on its revenues.

Outlook

India is already one of the largest consumers or producers in several commodities and therefore has the potential of emerging as the regional, if not the global, centre for commodity derivatives trade. As the largest exchange with an undisputed leadership position, MCX is uniquely placed to reap the opportunities of growth and expansion as and when the environment permits. With the passage of the Finance Bill, 2015, the re-definition of commodity derivatives' may create such an environment where the company may be allowed to offer derivative products, such as options and indices, for trading. These products are particularly suitable to the risk management needs of the small stakeholders and may take MCX to a higher path of inclusive growth.

Similarly, if different types of institutions are allowed to participate in the commodity derivatives market, the move will boost volumes and profitability of the company. Indeed, in the current growth phase of the commodity derivatives market, institutional investors—both domestic and foreign—are absolutely necessary as they can inject liquidity in this market and help it grow. By reducing the bid-ask spread and improving hedging efficiency, liquidity in the futures market can attract hedging interest, particularly in the far-month contracts, making the market more inclusive. Besides, institutions such as banks can also hand-hold smaller participants to trade in this market to manage their risks.

MCX has been advocating with policymakers for the reduction, if not the elimination, of the CTT. The tax in the present form is the single largest component in the cost of transaction and multiple times of even the transaction charge levied by the exchange. If CTT is reduced, the market will get a fillip, boosting turnover and revenues of the company.

SWOT analysis: SEBI-FMC merger & regulatory developments

The SEBI-FMC merger was announced in the FY15-16 Union Budget by the Finance Minister. The merger is expected to have a far-reaching implication on the commodity exchanges ecosystem. In addition the government has also announced other regulatory and policy measures. Below is a SWOT analysis of the regulatory developments on the businesses of commodity exchanges:

Strengths:

- 1) New product launches to drive future growth: Commodity exchanges may come to be considered at par with stock exchanges, allowing the former to launch products such as options, exchange-traded funds, and indices. Leading commodity exchanges are said to be ready with products such as options and indices, which could be launched once the merger comes into effect, subject to regulatory approval.
- 2) Encourage greater institutional participation in commodity exchanges: The merger could result in financial institutions and foreign investors being permitted to participate in trading on commodity exchanges.
- 3) Reduce operational costs for brokers/members: It is hoped that the merger would enable members to streamline operations as they may need to comply with common rules/norms for registration with the merged regulator. In addition to reducing cost of compliance, this move could also result in fungibility of client margins, allowing the broker/member to better serve hedgers/investors who would typically be participants in both the equity and commodity markets.
- 4) Give penal power to the merged regulator; thereby curbing 'Dabba' trading: Following the merger, crackdown on off-market 'Dabba' trades could be more marked resulting in a gradual shift of business to commodity exchanges.

Weaknesses:

1) Non-rationalisation of CTT implies that Indian commodity exchanges remain price-takers: Despite path-breaking regulatory changes and a conducive policy framework, the commodities transaction tax (CTT) remains unchanged. India and Taiwan are the only two countries globally to have this tax. Due to CTT, Indian commodity exchanges would continue to remain price takers even in non-agricultural commodities where India's physical market demand remains the highest globally (that is, Gold).

Opportunities:

1) Enables commodity exchanges to launch complementary products: The merger could allow commodity exchanges to launch complementary products such as currency derivatives, subject to regulatory approval. This is of particular relevance to hedgers/investors who transact in non-agri commodity products, which have global pricing benchmarks (and hence currency risks).

2) Easing foreign ownership restrictions: Along with the merger, foreign investment restrictions too have been eased. The Union Budget proposed to do away with the distinction between different types of foreign investments such as foreign portfolio investment and foreign direct investment, which has subsequently been implemented. Such a move would permit greater participation of foreign investors in India's commodity exchanges. This is likely to result in greater transparency and accountability of Indian exchanges.

Threats:

- 1) Escalating competition: The merger could lead equity exchanges to launch commodity exchanges. The Bombay Stock Exchange has already announced plans to setup a commodity exchange, which could increase competition.
- 2) Curbs on algorithmic trading: The SEBI is mooting restrictions on algorithmic trading to curb market manipulation. Algorithmic trading contributes around 30-40% of traded value on exchanges, which is essential for liquidity in the market. While commodity exchanges have stringent margin requirements and price fluctuation limits, curbs on algorithmic trading could reduce market liquidity.

Other emerging positive factors

- GIFT City potential could provide a more conducive environment for exchanges: The government has envisaged Gujarat International Finance Tec-City (GIFT city) as a hub for global financial services firms. For GIFT City, the government could develop a liberal policy framework for exchanges to be competitive with other global International Finance Centres. This could mean easing of ownership restrictions, no CTT, foreign institutional participation etc. Indian commodity exchanges could capitalize on this opportunity by setting up of an international exchange that will provide an electronic platform for facilitating trading, clearing and settlement of securities, commodities, interest rates, currencies, other classes of assets and derivatives to investors in the GIFT City.
- Make In India: India's large physical market size coupled with the government's focused approach towards making in India presents commodity exchanges an interesting opportunity to grow business. Increased manufacturing activity could result in increased commodity exposure among Indian corporates, which will require to be hedged.
  This could be done on Indian commodity exchanges, which can launch relevant products.

Critical Accounting Policies

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP) to comply with the Accounting Standards notified under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 which are deemed to be applicable as per Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the 2013 Act") read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and the relevant provisions of the 2013 Act, as applicable. Except for the matter described in the Basis of Qualified Opinion paragraph below, we believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

As stated in Note 37 to the financial statements, the Management of the Company is of the view that the aggregate carrying amount of current investments in equity shares and warrants of Metropolitan Stock Exchange of India Limited (formerly known as 'MCX Stock Exchange Limited') and equity shares of MCX-SX Clearing Corporation Limited aggregating to ₹ 1313.90 million (Previous year ₹ 1,375.71 million), which is equivalent to the cost of their acquisition, represents the fair value of these investments as on the balance sheet date.

In the absence of sufficient appropriate audit evidence to determine a fair valuation of the aforesaid investments at balance sheet date, we have not been able to validate whether the carrying amounts of these investments is the lower of cost and fair value as required by Accounting Standard 13 on Accounting for Investments. This matter was also qualified in the report of the predecessor auditors on the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2014.

The matter stated above could also have a consequential impact on the measurement and disclosures of information provided in the financial statements, in respect of, but not limited to, tax, profit for the year and shareholders' funds for the year ended March 31, 2015.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph above, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Act in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2015, and its profit and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to the following matter in the Notes to the Financial Statements:

As stated in Note no. 35 to the financial statements, in accordance with the directions of the Forward Market Commission (FMC), a special audit of the Company was carried out by an external agency for the period since inception of the Company to September 30, 2013. The Management of the Company has taken appropriate action including legal and filing of recovery suit as deemed fit. This matter was qualified in the report of the predecessor auditors on the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2014.

Our Opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

- 1. As required by the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2015 ("the Order"), issued by the Central Government of India in terms of sub-section (11) of section 143 of the Act, we give in the Annexure a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order, to the extent applicable.
- 2. As required by Section 143 (3) of the Act, we report that:

  - (e) On the basis of the written representations received from the directors as on March 31, 2015 taken on record by the Board of Directors, none of the directors is disqualified as on March 31, 2015 from being appointed as a director in terms of Section 164 (2) of the Act;
  - (f) The qualification relating to the maintenance of accounts and other matters connected therewith are as stated in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph above.
  - (g) With respect to the other matters to be included in the Auditor's Report in accordance with Rule 11 of the Companies (Audit and Auditors) Rules, 2014, in our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us:

1. General Information

Multi Commodity Exchange of India Limited (the 'Company' or the 'Exchange') is an electronic commodity futures Exchange. The Company is a demutualised Exchange and has permanent recognition from the Government of India to facilitate nationwide online trading, clearing and settlement operations of Commodity futures transactions.

2. Significant accounting policies

A. Basis of accounting and preparation of financial statements

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP) to comply with the Accounting Standards notified under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 which are deemed to be applicable as per Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the 2013 Act") read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and the relevant provisions of the 2013 Act, as applicable. The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention.

B. Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires estimates and assumptions to be made that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities on the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Differences between actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialise.

C. Cash and cash equivalents (for purposes of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition).

D. Cash Flow Statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before exceptional items and tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on the available information.

E. Fixed assets

Fixed assets (tangible assets) are stated at cost of acquisition or construction and carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss, if any.

Intangible assets are recognised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the assets will flow to the enterprise and the cost of the assets can be measured reliably. Expenditure on an intangible item is expensed when incurred unless it forms part of the cost of intangible asset that meets the recognition criteria. Intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition and are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment loss, if any.

F. Depreciation and amortization

Fixed assets (tangible) are depreciated / amortized over their useful lives as specified in "Part C" of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Fixed assets costing less than  $\stackrel{?}{\sim} 5,000$  are depreciated fully in the year of purchase / acquisition. Depreciation is charged on pro-rata basis in the month of purchase / sale.

Fixed assets (intangible) are amortized on their estimated useful life on straight line basis.

G. Impairment of fixed assets

The Company assesses at each Balance Sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the assets. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. If at the Balance Sheet date there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at lower of the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised or recoverable amount.

H. Operating leases

Assets taken/given on lease under which all the risks and rewards of ownership are effectively retained by the lessor are classified as operating lease. Lease payment/income under operating leases is recognised as expenses/income on a straight line basis over the lease term in accordance with the respective lease agreements.

I. Investments

Current investments are carried at the lower of cost and fair value. Long-term investments are stated at cost less provision for diminution. Provision for diminution in the value of long-term investments is made only if such a diminution is other than temporary in the opinion of the management. The difference between carrying amount of the investment determined on average cost basis and sale proceeds, net of expenses, is recognised as profit or loss on sale of investments.

J. Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised on accrual basis and when no significant uncertainty as to measurement and realisation exists.

- a) Volume based transaction fees are accrued when orders placed by members on the network are matched and confirmed.
- b) Admission Fees (non refundable) collected from new members for joining the Exchange are recognized once membership is approved.
- c) Annual subscription fees from members are recognized on accrual basis.
- d) Revenue from terminal charges is accrued on activation of new chargeable user.
- e) Connectivity income is accrued over the expected period of providing connectivity service.
- f) Dividend income is recognised when the Company's right to receive dividend is established.
- g) Interest income is recognised on time proportion basis.

K. Foreign currency transactions and translation

Foreign exchange transactions are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are restated using the exchange rate prevailing at the Balance Sheet date; the resultant exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Exchange differences arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss of the year. Non-monetary items are carried at historical cost using the exchange rates on the date of the transaction.

L. Operating cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

M. Employee Benefits

a) Post employment benefits and other long term benefits

Payments to defined contribution schemes and other similar funds are expensed as incurred.

For defined benefit schemes and other long term benefit plans viz. gratuity and compensated absences expected to occur after twelve months, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the Balance Sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in full in the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested, and otherwise is amortised on a straight line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of the available refunds and reduction in contributions to the scheme.

b) Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees is recognised as an expense during the period when the employee renders those services. These benefits include compensated absences such as leave expected to be availed within a year and performance incentives.

N. Stock based compensation

The compensation cost of stock options granted to employees is measured by the intrinsic value method, i.e. difference between the market price of the Company's shares on the date of grant of options and the exercise price to be paid by the option holders.

O. Income taxes

Income taxes are accounted for in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS-22) "Accounting for Taxes on Income". Tax expense comprises current tax and deferred tax. Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of Income-Tax Act, 1961. The Company recognises deferred tax based on the tax effect of timing differences, being differences between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. However, deferred tax assets are not recognised on unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses unless there is virtual certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

P. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes to Accounts to the financial statements. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

Q. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are computed by dividing the profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented.

The respective Board of directors included in the group are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; the selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We have taken into account the provisions of the Act, the accounting and auditing standards and matters which are required to be included in the audit report under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under Section 143(10) of the Act. Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and the disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal financial control relevant to the Holding Company's preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on whether the Holding Company has an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by the Holding Company's Board of Directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in sub-paragraph of the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

As stated in Note 38, to the consolidated financial statements, the Management of the Holding Company is of the view that the aggregate carrying amount of current investments in equity shares and warrants of Metropolitan Stock Exchange of

In the absence of sufficient appropriate audit evidence to determine a fair valuation of the aforesaid investments at balance sheet date, we have not been able to validate whether the carrying amounts of these investments is the lower of cost and fair value as required by Accounting Standard 13 on Accounting for Investments. This matter was also qualified in the report of the predecessor auditors on the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2014.

The matters stated above could also have a consequential impact on the measurement and disclosures of information provided in the consolidated financial statements, in respect of, but not limited to, tax, profit for the year and shareholders' funds for the year ended March 31, 2015.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, except for the effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph above, and based on the consideration of reports of other auditors on separate financial statements of the subsidiaries, the aforesaid consolidated financial statements give the information required by the Act in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the consolidated state of affairs of the Group and its Associate as at March 31, 2015, and their consolidated profit and their consolidated cash flows for the year ended on that date.

<sup>1</sup> The cash flow statement has been prepared under the "Indirect Method" as set out in Accounting Standard (AS 3) "Cash Flow Statement" issued by the Companies (Accounting Standard) Rules, 2006.

<sup>2</sup> Fixed deposits with banks with maturity period of more than three months are classified and grouped in investing activities and not included in cash and cash equivalents.

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

Multi Commodity Exchange of India Limited (the 'Company' or the 'Exchange') is an electronic commodity futures Exchange. The Company is a demutualised Exchange and has permanent recognition from the Government of India to facilitate nationwide online trading, clearing and settlement operations of Commodity futures transactions.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. Basis of accounting and preparation of financial statements

The consolidated financial statements of Multi Commodity Exchange of India Limited (the 'Parent Company') and its subsidiary companies (together 'the Group') have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP) to comply with the Accounting Standards notified under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 which are deemed to be applicable as per Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the 2013 Act") read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and the relevant provisions of 2013 Act, as applicable. The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The consolidated financial statements also include investment in Associate (Refer Note 23 for list of entities included in consolidated financial statements).

The financial statements of subsidiary companies and associate company considered for consolidation are drawn up to the same reporting dates as that of the Parent Company, namely 31 March 2015 except, in the case of one subsidiary i.e. SME Exchange of India Limited whose financial statements has been considered for the period 1 April 2014 to 21 January 2015 as explained in Note 39.

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP).

B. Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS-21) "Consolidated Financial Statements" and Accounting Standard (AS-23) "Accounting for Investments in Associates in Consolidated Financial Statements" as notified under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 on the following basis:

(1) Investments in subsidiaries:

- a. The financial statements of the Parent Company and its subsidiaries are combined on line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of the assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after elimination of intra group balances, intra group transactions and unrealised profits or losses on balances remaining within the Group. These financial statements have been prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances.
- b. The difference between the cost of investment in the subsidiaries, and the share of equity in the subsidiaries, on acquisition date, is recognised in the financial statements as goodwill or capital reserve, as the case may be.
- c. Minority interest in the net assets of consolidated subsidiaries consists of:
  - i. The amount of equity attributable to minorities at the date the parent-subsidiary relationship came into existence and
  - ii. The minorities share of movement in equity since the date the parent-subsidiary relationship came into existence.
- d. Minority interest's share of net profit/loss of consolidated subsidiaries is identified and adjusted against the profit of the Group. Minority interest's share of net assets of consolidated subsidiaries is identified and presented in the Consolidated Balance Sheet separately from liabilities and equity of the Parent Company's shareholders.

(2) Investments in Associate Company:

The consolidated financial statements include the share of profit/loss of Associate company, accounted under the 'Equity method' under which the Group originally records its investment at cost and the carrying amount is increased to recognise the Group's share of profits/changes directly included in Associate's equity after the date of acquisition.

C. Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires estimates and assumptions to be made that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities on the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Differences between actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialise.

D. Cash and cash equivalents (for purposes of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition).

E. Cash Flow Statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before exceptional items and tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on the available information.

F. Fixed assets

Fixed assets (tangible assets) are stated at cost of acquisition or construction and carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss, if any.

Intangible assets are recognized only if it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the assets will flow to the enterprise and the cost of the assets can be measured reliably. Expenditure on an intangible item is expensed when incurred unless it forms part of the cost of intangible asset that meets the recognition criteria. Intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition and are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment loss, if any.

G. Depreciation and amortization

Fixed assets (tangible) are depreciated / amortized over their useful lives as specified in "Part C" of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Fixed assets costing less than ₹ 5,000 are depreciated fully in the year of purchase / acquisition. Depreciation is charged on pro-rata basis in the month of purchase / sale.

Fixed assets (intangible) are amortized on their estimated useful life on straight line basis.

H. Impairment of fixed assets

The Company assesses at each Balance Sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the assets. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. If at the Balance Sheet date there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at lower of the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised or recoverable amount.

I. Operating leases

Assets taken/given on lease under which all the risks and rewards of ownership are effectively retained by the lessor are classified as operating lease. Lease payment/income under operating leases is recognised as expenses/income on a straight line basis over the lease term in accordance with the respective lease agreements.

J. Investments

Current investments are carried at the lower of cost and fair value. Long-term investments are stated at cost less provision for diminution. Provision for diminution in the value of long-term investments is made only if such a diminution is other than temporary in the opinion of the management. The difference between carrying amount of the investment determined on average cost basis and sale proceeds, net of expenses, is recognised as profit or loss on sale of investments.

K. Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised on accrual basis and when no significant uncertainty as to measurement and realisation exists.

- a) Volume based transaction fees are accrued when orders placed by members on the network are matched and confirmed.
- b) Admission Fees (non refundable) collected from new members for joining the Exchange are recognized once membership is approved.
- c) Annual subscription fees from members are recognized on accrual basis.
- d) Revenue from terminal charges is accrued on activation of new chargeable user.
- e) Connectivity income is accrued over the expected period of providing connectivity service.
- f) Dividend income is recognised when the Company's right to receive dividend is established.
- g) Interest income is recognised on time proportion basis.

L. Foreign currency transactions and translation

Foreign exchange transactions are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are restated using the exchange rate prevailing at the Balance Sheet date; the resultant exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Exchange differences arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss of the year. Non-monetary items are carried at historical cost using the exchange rates on the date of the transaction.

M. Operating cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

N. Employee Benefits

a) Post-employment benefits and other long term benefits

Payments to defined contribution schemes and other similar funds are expensed as incurred.

For defined benefit schemes and other long term benefit plans viz. gratuity and compensated absences expected to occur after twelve months, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the Balance Sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in full in the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested, and otherwise is amortised on a straight line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of the available refunds and reduction in contributions to the scheme.

b) Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees is recognised as an expense during the period when the employee renders those services. These benefits include compensated absences such as leave expected to be availed within a year and performance incentives.

O. Stock based compensation

The compensation cost of stock options granted to employees is measured by the intrinsic value method, i.e. difference between the market price of the Company's shares on the date of grant of options and the exercise price to be paid by the option holders.

P. Income taxes

Income taxes are accounted for in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS-22) "Accounting for Taxes on Income". Tax expense comprises current tax and deferred tax. Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of Income-Tax Act, 1961. The Company recognises deferred tax based on the tax effect of timing differences, being differences between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. However, deferred tax assets are not recognised on unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses unless there is virtual certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

Q. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes to Accounts to the financial statements. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

R. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are computed by dividing the profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented.
