MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The Company offers solutions and services mainly in the areas of VSAT communications, Managed Services and Integrated Security & Surveillance Systems in the B2B space, addressing Government as well as enterprise customers. Nelco has been driving continuous performance improvement through TL9000, ISO 20000 and ISO27001.

Industry structure and development

The Company has two reportable segments viz. (1) Network Systems consisting of VSAT services (including SATCOM) and Managed Services and (2) Automation & Control consisting of Integrated Security and Surveillance Solutions (ISSS). The company has a wholly owned subsidiary – Tatanet Services Ltd., for delivering satellite bandwidth services through VSATs.

Network Systems

The VSAT service caters to Wide Area Networking requirements for B2B customers using satellite as the medium of transmission. These services are offered under a license held by the company's subsidiary Tatanet Services Ltd., from Department of Telecom, Govt. of India. This industry is 24+ years old in India. These services are used mainly for data communication and to some extent voice communication in a Closed User Group (CUG). There are 5 main operators for this business in the country. The VSAT industry has grown primarily due to its ability to offer highly reliable services anywhere in the country, coupled with the trend of many businesses expanding into rural and remote areas. The operators lease satellite transponder space from Antrix Corporation Ltd. ("Antrix") (a Govt. of India Company under Dept. of Space), a part of ISRO. Transponder space is provided in satellites belonging to ISRO as well as foreign operators. The current regulations mandate VSAT service providers to buy transponder space through Antrix only. The VSAT service provider industry is currently growing at around 8% pa.

Managed Services cater to the remote monitoring of Security & Surveillance and Energy Management for a variety of market segments.. The services are essentially meant for monitoring and management of non-IT devices. There has been significant growth of these services across the globe. However in India these services are still in their early stages, though the industry has high growth potential in the long run. The Company has been, focusing mainly on remote management for Safety, Security & Surveillance and Energy. A number of players from Telecom Services industry, Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs) as well as focused services companies are expanding in this space.

Automation & Control

The Integrated Security and Surveillance Solutions (ISSS) business caters to the System Integration of on-premise Safety, Security & Surveillance infrastructure. This is a highly fragmented and extremely competitive market in India. There are a large number of OEMs selling various security & surveillance equipment as stand-alone products in the country. There are also a number of comprehensive System Integrators who integrate multiple brand agnostic components to create an end-to-end solution for the customers. With increasing awareness of safety related challenges and threats to assets and human lives, the demand will grow in the long run for high-tech electronic security products like Access Control systems, CCTV Surveillance, Explosive Detection & Disposal, and Sensor Based Electronic Fence Solutions. A few customers in the private sector have started deploying these technologies for offices and factory premises based on their own perception of threats. However, the market for end-to-end system integration projects encompassing multiple types of equipments is still limited. A substantial part of it comes from the Govt. which makes the demand lumpy in nature. Also, margins are low as preference is given for the lowest price.

Opportunities and Threats

Opportunities

Network Systems

During FY14, the Banking and Finance sector bought the largest number of VSATs, as has been the trend for the last few years. This is driven by increasing ATMs and bank branches across the country, particularly in non-metro, non-urban locations. The VSATs continue to be the most preferred mode of data communication for this segment in remote and rural locations. While the existing banks continue to expand their respective ATM base to cater to growing consumer needs, the White Label ATM providers have also started deploying their own ATMs, which is likely to grow rapidly in the coming years. The new Banking Licensees have started deploying their infrastructure, which will also lead to the creation of a large number of bank branches in remote/rural locations. This will create a growing market for the VSAT industry. Overall, the trend of opening off-site ATMs and bank branches in remote locations is likely to further gain momentum in the coming years. There are about 179,000 ATMs deployed in India, out of which 84,000 (approx) are off-site ATMs.

The other important growth area for the VSAT industry is the e-Governance sector. This sector has a lot of potential due to the thrust on rural connectivity in projects like Regional Rural Banks (RRBs), Common Service Centers (CSCs), Restructured Accelerated Power Development and Reforms Projects (R-APDRPs) and Panchayat services. The advent of Multi-facility centers as a concept at the village level in many states is also likely to fuel growth of VSATs in the coming years. The Oil sector - Retail as well as Exploration, is another important market for VSAT industry. The Oil Retail sector is in the process of deploying VSATs for connecting their retail outlets, and provides a large opportunity in the future. VSATs are already used for providing reliable data and voice communication for off-shore Oil Rigs, which is also likely to see a growing market.

The Managed Services offered by the Company for remote management of critical infrastructure spread across the country, especially around safety, security, surveillance and energy management, is being used mainly by the Banking sector currently. The industry has found benefits from these services. However, this being a new concept in the country, the adoption rates have been slow so far. While the Banking sector has become one of the early adopters for these services, and initiatives for managing the ATMs and branches have started, it will take some more time before these services are widely accepted. The full potential of these services won't be utilized unless the majority of Banks adopt these for all their ATMs & branches, which will take a few years to materialize. The other sectors like Retail and Telecom Towers can gain a lot from these services but are yet to embrace them seriously.

Automation & Control

The Integrated Security & Surveillance Solutions are deployed in Govt. & Defense sectors, as well as the Enterprise segment. The main opportunity exists in large Govt. & Defense applications like the City Surveillance projects, ISSS at Railway Stations, Airports, Ports, and Border Management solutions etc., which offer good opportunity in this space in the long-term. However, the current decision making cycles are extremely long which exorbitantly delays in project finalization and execution.

Threats:

Network Systems

The main threats for the VSAT industry come from availability of alternate technology at lower costs and scarcity of Satellite bandwidth coupled with high prices.

The terrestrial Telecom industry could pose a threat to VSAT services if Telecom operators are able to roll out fiber infrastructure across remote locations of the country and offer reliable services at low costs. Considering that the capex required will be high for such extensive fiber roll outs, this threat may not be very pronounced for the next 3 – 4 years. The fast evolving 3G and 4G services could also pose a threat for the VSAT industry, if the Telecom industry is able to obtain adequate spectrum in the appropriate frequencies and at competitive spectrum prices. However, in the current scenario, this will not be a major threat for the next 3 – 4 years.

The VSAT industry currently faces a threat from the non-availability of satellite transponder space as per demand and lack of negotiating power for buying it. This is due to the industry being dependent on only one source – Antrix, as per the current Regulations in the country.

The main threats in the Managed Services business come from delays in adoption of the services by the various sectors in the Enterprise space, continuous innovation of technologies necessitating continuous change in the services and potential entry of large players in this segment, once the demand grows and the industry matures.

Automation & Control

The major threat for the ISSS business comes from the heavy dependence on Government establishments for turnkey projects, where the decision making cycles are long and unpredictable. There has been no fresh requirement of UGS systems after 2008 in Defense, nor there been any demand for the system from other paramilitary organizations. However, the Company has been continuously incurring the costs for maintaining the required Defense approved manufacturing facility which do not have any other use. While the economy is moving in the positive direction, the capex spend for the Enterprise segment may take some more time to start growing. Potential entry into this segment by the big IT and non-IT System Integrators, who have existing presence and relationships with large Enterprise customers also poses a threat.

Segment wise performance

Network Systems

VSAT Services:

During the period under review, the revenue for the VSAT business including SATCOM was Rs. 7,067 Lakhs as against Rs 6,948 Lakhs in the previous year. The VSAT installed base for the company is in excess of 35,000, which works out to a market share of around 18% of the overall installed base. The Company installed 7,404 VSATs during the year against 9,454 in the previous year. However, the revenue is higher due to higher value contracts during the year as compared to the previous year.

The Company has fared well in the Banking & Finance sector, by rolling out infrastructure for bank branches as well as ATMs. The Company has deployed VSATs in ATMs directly owned by the Banks as well as in ATMs out sourced to the major Brown Label ATM services providers. The Company strengthened its position in the niche segment of Oil exploration by signing up a large 5 year contract with a global leader in solutions for oil rigs, for providing the services to companies doing off-shore oil exploration in India. The Company also deployed VSATs for creating a critical infrastructure backbone for a Defense establishment.

Managed Services:

During the period under review, the revenue for the Managed Services business was Rs 780 L as against Rs 667 L in the previous year. The Company concentrated on one of the largest private sector banks in India for remotely managing the safety & security surveillance infrastructure of its branches spread across India.

Automation & Control

In view of losses incurred by ISSS and the Defense business of Unattended Ground Sensors (UGS) in the last few years, which led to substantial erosion of the Company's net worth, the Board approved the restructuring of the business by restricting operations and reducing expenditure, with a view to minimize losses. During the period under review the revenue from this business was Rs. 2,430 Lakhs as against Rs. 3,357 Lakhs in the previous year. The Company managed to complete a large number of complex projects, including at one of the Zonal Railways.

OutlookNetwork Systems

The Company has strengthened its presence in the Banking & Finance segment by deploying a large number of VSATs for off-site ATMs and branches. The company had a 32% market share of the incremental VSAT deployment in off-site ATMs. The dominant position in providing infrastructure for Oil rigs has created potential for future growth, some of which could happen within a year's time. There is momentum in the e-Governance segment, which is likely to lead to additional business in the coming years.

The Company, through its wholly owned subsidiary, Tatanet Services Limited, has already obtained frequency allocation for additional 36 MHz of Ku band satellite transponder space, which will get implemented in the current financial year through a new VSAT hub. This is likely to give a significant boost to the VSAT business of the Company for the coming years.

The availability of High Throughput Satellites (HTS) can give a significant impetus to the VSAT industry by increasing the applications where it will be able to provide services at a competitive price. HTS has already made a large impact for the VSAT industry in many other countries. It is expected that HTS would be available for India in the next 2 – 3 years.

The Managed Services offered by the Company are in the nascent stage in India. The various PSU banks have started adopting these services and this would result in a bigger market in the years to come. The other sectors like Retail, Warehouses, large Buildings, etc. have been evaluating these services but have not yet adopted them. The Company is focusing establishing itself as a quality service provider with a view to creating long term customer relationships.

Automation & Control

The Company expects the ISSS business to pick up momentum only in the medium term, when the new opportunities in the Government and Defense sectors are concretized as also the Govt. decision making process is streamlined for these projects. In the short run, the current challenges of the sector are likely to remain, mainly in terms of delayed decision making, low margins and lumpy demand. The uncertainty of demand for UGS in Defense is likely to continue. The Company will be able to leverage its expertise in executing projects in Railways, Oil PSUs and Defense sectors, for addressing these needs as and when they come up. In the short run, however, the Company is meeting its existing contractual obligations towards its customers and restricting its operations.

Risks and ConcernsNetwork Systems

The risks for the VSAT business could arise if the Banking and Finance industry was to slow down for any reason. Any major change in the Govt. Regulations pertaining to VSAT business could also pose a threat, considering that these services are offered under license from DOT.

The Managed Services business is a new concept. There are few major reference cases, which may lead to slower adoption. Growing competition may lead to lower margins, especially in tenders from Public Sector banks.

Automation & Control

The ISSS business could face challenges due to lower budgets for security and surveillance projects in Enterprises as well as in the Government and Defense sectors.

The weakening and fluctuations of the Indian Rupee against US$ pose challenges, since a majority of the electronics equipment used in this business is imported.

1.1 Basis of Accounting and preparation of financial statements

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP) to comply with the Accounting Standards notified under Section 211 (3C) of the Companies Act, 1956 ('the 1956 Act') (which continue to be applicable in respect of Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the 2013 Act") in terms of General Circular 15/2013 dated 13th September, 2013 of the Ministry of Corporate Affairs) and the relevant provisions of the 1956 Act/ 2013 Act, as applicable. The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are consistent with those followed in the previous year.

1.2 Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) and the reported income and expenses during the year. The Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future results could differ due to these estimates and the differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognised in the periods in which the results are known / materialise.

1.3 Cash and cash equivalents (for purposes of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition), highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

1.4 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before exceptional items and tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on the available information.

1.5 Fixed Assets and Depreciation

Software Expenditure incurred is amortized over a period of five years from the date of acquisition.

Technical knowhow incurred is amortized in proportion of unit sold of the Licensed Product or ten year whichever is higher

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

1.11 Foreign Currency Transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing on date of transaction. Monetary items are translated at the year-end rates. The exchange difference between the rate prevailing on the date of transaction and on the date of settlement as also on translation of monetary items at the end of the year is recognized as income or expense, as the case may be.

Any premium or discount arising at the inception of a forward exchange contract is recognized as income or expense over the life of contract.

1.12 Warranty Expenses

In respect of warranties given by the company on sale of certain products, the estimated costs of these warranties are accrued at the time of sale. The estimates for accounting of warranties are reviewed and revisions are made as required.

1.13 Employee Benefits

Defined Contribution Plan

- (a) Company's contributions paid/payable during the year towards Provident Fund, Superannuation Fund and ESIC are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.
- (b) Company's Contribution towards Provident Fund is based on a percentage of salary which is made to a trust administered by the company. The interest rate payable to the members of the trust shall not be lower than the statutory rate of interest declared by the Central Government under the Employees Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 and shortfall, if any, shall be made good by the company.

Defined Benefit Plan

Company's liability towards gratuity and long term compensated absences are determined by independent actuaries, using projected unit credit method. Past services are recognized on a straight line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and loss as income or expense. Obligation is measured at the present value of estimated future cash flows using discounted rate that is determined by reference to the market yields at the balance sheet date on Government Bonds where currency and terms of Government Bonds are consistent with the currency and estimated terms of the benefit obligation.

Short-term employee benefits:

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees are recognized during the year when the employees render the service. These benefits include performance incentive and compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service.

Long-term employee benefits:

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognized as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the Balance Sheet date.

I.14 Segment reporting

The Company identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organization and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit / loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the executive Management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Company. Segment revenue, segment expenses, segment assets and segment liabilities have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment.

Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Company as a whole and are not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under "unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities".

I.15 Lease Rentals

The company's significant leasing arrangements are in respect of operating leases for premises (office, stores, godowns, etc.), plant, machinery and equipments taken on lease. The leasing arrangements, which are not non-cancellable, range between eleven months and five years generally, and are usually renewable by mutual consent on agreed terms. The aggregate lease rentals payable are charged as rent.

I.16 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

I.17 Taxes on Income

Current Tax is determined as the amount of tax payable in respect of taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Deferred Tax is recognized, subject to consideration of prudence, on timing differences, being the differences between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent period(s). Deferred tax assets arising on account of unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward of tax losses are recognized only to the extent that there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future tax income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

I.18 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are consistent with those followed in the previous year.

1.2 Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) and the reported income and expenses during the year. The Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future results could differ due to these estimates and the differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognised in the periods in which the results are known / materialise.

1.3 Cash and cash equivalents (for purposes of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition), highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

1.4 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before exceptional items and tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on the available information.

- Pursuant to the enactment of the Companies Act 2013 (the 'Act'), Tatanet Services Limited (wholly owned subsidiary) has, effective 1st April 2014, reviewed and revised the estimated useful lives of its fixed assets, in accordance with the provisions of Schedule II to the Act except in respect of the following categories of assets, in whose case the life of the assets has been assessed as under:

VSAT remotes: Depreciation on VSAT remotes is provided on the straight line method over the useful life as estimated by the Management. The Management estimates the useful life to be 5 years.
- Leasehold land is amortized over the period of the lease.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

1.6 Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are initially measured at cost and amortized so as to reflect the pattern in which the asset's economic benefits are consumed.

Software Expenditure incurred is amortized over a period of five years from the date of acquisition.

Technical knowhow incurred is amortized in proportion of unit sold of the Licensed Product or ten year whichever is higher.

License Fees - VSAT : 20 years (9 years remaining as at the Balance sheet date)

License Fees - ISP : 15 years (9 years remaining as at the Balance sheet date)

Testing Software : 5 years (5 years remaining as at the Balance sheet date)

1.7 Inventory Valuation

- c) Finished goods produced and purchased for sale, semi finished products and spares are carried at cost or net realizable value, whichever is lower.

1.8 Investments

Investments, being long term, are stated at cost. However, provision for diminution in value is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of investments.

1.9 Revenue Recognition

1.9.1 Sale of product is recognized when risk and rewards of ownership of the product are passed on to the customers on the basis of terms of contract, which is generally on the dispatch of goods.

1.11 Foreign Currency Transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing on date of transaction. Monetary items are translated at the year-end rates. The exchange difference between the rate prevailing on the date of transaction and on the date of settlement as also on translation of monetary items at the end of the year is recognized as income or expense, as the case may be.

Any premium or discount arising at the inception of a forward exchange contract is recognized as income or expense over the life of contract.

1.12 Warranty Expenses

In respect of warranties given by the company on sale of certain products, the estimated costs of these warranties are accrued at the time of sale. The estimates for accounting of warranties are reviewed and revisions are made as required.

1.13 Employee Benefits

Defined Contribution Plan

- (a) Company's contributions paid/payable during the year towards Provident Fund, Superannuation Fund and ESIC are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.
- (b) Company's Contribution towards Provident Fund is based on a percentage of salary which is made to a trust administered by the company. The interest rate payable to the members of the trust shall not be lower than the statutory rate of interest declared by the Central Government under the Employees Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 and shortfall, if any, shall be made good by the company.

Defined Benefit Plan

Company's liability towards gratuity and long term compensated absences are determined by independent actuaries, using projected unit credit method. Past services are recognized on a straight line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and loss as income or expense. Obligation is measured at the present value of estimated future cash flows using discounted rate that is determined by reference to the market yields at the balance sheet date on Government Bonds where currency and terms of Government Bonds are consistent with the currency and estimated terms of the benefit obligation.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Short-term employee benefits:

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees are recognized during the year when the employees render the service. These benefits include performance incentive and compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service.

Long-term employee benefits:

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognized as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the Balance Sheet date.

1.14 Segment reporting

The Company identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organization and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit / loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the executive Management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Company. Segment revenue, segment expenses, segment assets and segment liabilities have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment.

Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Company as a whole and are not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under "unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities".

1.15 Lease Rentals

The company's significant leasing arrangements are in respect of operating leases for premises (office, stores, godowns, etc.), plant, machinery and equipments taken on lease. The leasing arrangements, which are not non-cancellable, range between eleven months and five years generally, and are usually renewable by mutual consent on agreed terms. The aggregate lease rentals payable are charged as rent.

1.16 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

1.17 Taxes on Income

Current Tax is determined as the amount of tax payable in respect of taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Deferred Tax is recognized, subject to consideration of prudence, on timing differences, being the differences between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent period(s). Deferred tax assets arising on account of unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward of tax losses are recognized only to the extent that there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future tax income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

1.18 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.
