Creating Value

Neogen Chemicals, in F.Y. 2025-26 once again demonstrated its ability to execute with discipline, to honour its commitments, and to accelerate investments for the future. We remained focussed on delivering consistently, strengthening stakeholder trust, and creating sustainable, long-term value despite the geopolitical volatility, supply chain disruptions, and fluctuations in raw material and commodity prices.

Delivering Performance

Performance is measured not only by financial outcomes; it is reflected in the ability to sustain momentum through challenging circumstances. We delivered another year of steady growth, supported by higher volumes, healthy demand across pharmaceuticals, flavours & fragrances, and specialty chemical applications, supported by optimum plant utilisation, and effective cost management. Despite temporary disruption following the Dahej fire incident, we ensured uninterrupted customer service through keeping our supply chain agile and being operationally flexible.

Execution remained firmly on track across strategic projects. Construction of the Dahej replacement facility progressed rapidly towards commissioning, while our battery materials project at Pakhajan achieved milestones, including mechanical completion of the MUIS electrolyte plant and commencement of trial runs. We also secured additional customer approvals for lithium electrolyte salts and successfully completed site audits by leading global manufacturers, reinforcing our technology capabilities, product quality, and manufacturing excellence. At the same time, we expanded manufacturing capacity at our Patancheru facility through targeted capital investments, enhancing production capabilities and supporting growth across specialty chemicals.

Sustaining Trust

Apropos the fire incident at our Dahej facility in March 2025, our immediate priority was continuity for the customers. To ensure uninterrupted supplies, we swiftly activated alternate manufacturing arrangements while commencing reconstruction of the replacement facility. Our decisive response boosted the confidence of customers, investors, lenders, and business partners alike.

During the year, we received cumulative on-account insurance claims of ₹140 Crore and ₹7 Crore from salvage realisation. The replacement plant is expected to commission by H1 F.Y. 2026-27.

Our commitment to responsible governance and long-term partnerships further strengthened stakeholder confidence. The promoter group's ₹161 Crore preferential equity capital infusion, at a premium to the SEBI floor price, reflected its strong conviction in Neogen's long-term growth potential.

When our efforts were recognised with the EcoVadis Silver Medal 2025, we felt gratified as it reflected continued progress in integrating environmental, social, and governance principles.

Our people remain at the heart of our success. Through Pragati – An Employee Growth and Employee Empowerment Programme, we introduced ESOPs, long-term cash benefits, and performance-linked incentives, fostering a culture of ownership, accountability, and shared success.

Creating Value

For us, value creation extends beyond financial performance. It is about making investments today that will define the Company's future growth trajectory.

Through Neogen Ionics Limited, we are developing one of India's largest integrated battery materials facilities at Pakhajan, Dahej PCPIR, Gujarat. The facility has planned capacity of 30,000 MT of electrolytes and 3,000 MT of lithium electrolyte salts and additives. Supported by technology partnerships with MU Ionic Solutions Corporation and Morita Investment Limited - a wholly-owned subsidiary of Morita Chemicals Industries Co. Limited, Japan, this facility will strengthen domestic manufacturing capabilities while creating a globally competitive platform for advanced battery materials. Further supporting this ambitious project, Morita Investment Limited will infuse USD 20 million (20% stake) and balance 80% will be contributed by Neogen Ionics Limited under the joint venture arrangement.

Our expansion into battery materials aligns with India's Atmanirbhar Bharat vision and the growing transition towards cleaner and more sustainable energy. Alongside this, our continued investments in specialty chemicals, advanced manufacturing capabilities, and sustainability are bolstering our competitive edge, positioning us to capture the emerging opportunities across high-growth sector.

As we embark on our next phase of growth, we remain committed to creating lasting value through strengthening our leadership in specialty chemicals and advanced materials while embracing innovation, operational excellence, and responsible governance. We are steadily expanding our manufacturing capabilities, enhancing technological competencies, and building a future-ready organisation equipped to navigate an evolving global business environment. With a strong foundation, disciplined execution, and a clear strategic direction, Neogen is well positioned to deliver sustainable growth and value for all stakeholders.

Chairman's Message

Dear Shareholders,

I am pleased to present Neogen Chemicals' Integrated Annual Report for F.Y. 2025-26, a year in which we again took several initiatives to work towards our long-term strategy to work on innovative businesses and create value for all our stakeholders.

The global economy continues to be in turmoil caused by geopolitical tensions, supply chain disruptions, shifting trade dynamics, and volatility across commodity and energy markets. These tested the adaptability of businesses worldwide. India outperformed most major economies, recording Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth of 7.7% in F.Y. 2025-26. Buoyant domestic consumption, sustained infrastructure investments, rapid digitalisation, and continued momentum in manufacturing propelled the nation's development.

The chemical industry additionally navigated a period of transformation. While near-term demand across several end-use sectors remained subdued, structural trends such as supply chain diversification, technological innovation, clean energy transition, and localisation of manufacturing are reshaping the industry landscape. India is well-positioned to emerge as a preferred global manufacturing hub, supported by favourable policy reforms, and growing investments in advanced manufacturing along with a vibrant domestic market.

At Neogen, we see these structural shifts as opportunities. Over the years, we have built differentiated capabilities, strengthened our technology base, and established trusted customer relationships. These enduring strengths position us well to capitalise on emerging opportunities, laying the foundation for our next phase of growth.

EXPANDING PRESENCE IN BATTERY MATERIALS SEGMENT

As the transition towards electric mobility and renewable energy accelerates, the demand for chemicals for Lithium-Ion Batteries is expected to rise sharply. We recognised this opportunity early and are accelerating investments in the high-growth, battery materials segment.

Through our wholly-owned subsidiary, Neogen Ionics Limited, we are building one of India's largest integrated battery materials facilities at Pakhajan, Dahej PCPIR, Gujarat. With planned capacities of 30,000 MTA of electrolytes and 3,000 MTA of lithium electrolyte salts and additives, this facility will support India's lithium-ion battery manufacturing ecosystem while serving global markets.

The project achieved significant milestones during the year. The electrolyte plant, being commissioned in technical collaboration with MU Ionic Solutions Corporation (MUIS), Japan, has completed mechanical commissioning and entered the trial-run phase. Commercial production of electrolytes remains on track for the first half of F.Y. 2026-27, followed by electrolyte salts facility which is under construction as a Joint Venture with Morita Investment Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Morita Chemicals Industries Co. Limited. Together, we are working towards establishing India's first non-FEOC-compliant electrolyte salt manufacturing platform, building a secure and diversified supply chain for advanced battery materials.

We also witnessed increasing traction from esteemed domestic and international customers. Additional approvals were secured for lithium electrolyte salts as multiple overseas electrolyte manufacturers successfully completed site audits, reinforcing confidence in our technology and product quality.

To further strengthen our competitiveness, we refined the plant design under guidance from our JV partner Morita Investment Limited who has more than 30 years' experience in producing this salt. While this resulted in revision of the project cost but will benefit the company in terms of better quality, lower cost and higher productivity and easier customer approvals.

Reflecting the Board's confidence in this opportunity, the promoter group infused ₹161 Crore through a preferential allotment of equity shares at a premium to the SEBI floor price. This capital will support the expansion of Neogen Ionics, strengthen working capital, and advance our strategic growth initiatives.

SCALING CAPABILITIES

While we continue to build future growth platforms, specialty chemicals business remains at the core of Neogen's success. The integration of BuLi Chemicals has strengthened our leadership in organolithium chemistry, expanding capabilities across high-value applications while broadening our global market reach.

We have also received environmental clearance for the brownfield expansion of our Patancheru facility, enabling us to enhance manufacturing capacity through process debottlenecking. Coupled with the commissioning of the Dahej replacement facility during the H1 F.Y. 2026-27, these investments will bolster our ability to serve customers with niche and complex chemistries.

OUTLOOK

Looking ahead, F.Y. 2026-27 is expected to be a transformative year for Neogen. We remain deeply committed to strengthening our leadership in high-value specialty chemicals while accelerating presence in battery materials through sustained investments in technology, manufacturing excellence, innovation, and strategic partnerships. The commissioning of our battery materials facility, along with the normalisation of operations at the Dahej replacement plant, will accelerate our growth trajectory.

On behalf of the Board, I extend my gratitude to our shareholders, customers, employees, partners, suppliers, and all other stakeholders for their commitment towards Neogen. With a strong technology foundation, prudent capital allocation, enduring customer relationships, and a clear strategic roadmap, I am confident that Neogen is well-positioned to unlock new opportunities and drive sustainable growth.

Warm Regards,

Anurag Surana

Chairman

Managing Director's Message

Dear Shareholders,

Greetings!

I am delighted to share another year of strong operational execution and sustained business momentum at Neogen. Despite the turbulent phase following the Dahej fire incident and elevated input costs arising from global disruptions, Neogen delivered steady growth supported by higher volumes, stable customer demand, and improved utilisation.

DELIVERING RESILIENT PERFORMANCE

F.Y. 2025-26 presented a challenging operating environment. Shifting trade dynamics, geopolitical uncertainties, energy market volatility, supply chain disruptions, and demand fluctuations across end-use sectors created significant industry-wide pressure. Neogen remained committed to operational excellence, disciplined capital deployment, and long-term value creation.

Our revenue grew by 11% to ₹862 Crore, driven by healthy demand across key applications, including pharmaceuticals, flavours and fragrances, and other specialty segments. Organic chemicals revenue rose by 10% to ₹734 Crore, while the inorganic chemicals business recorded a revenue of ₹128 Crore. The domestic and export mix for the year stood at 71% and 29%, respectively.

Our earnings before interest, taxes, and depreciation (EBITDA) stood at ₹137 Crore, with margins at 15.9%, reflecting the resilience of our business model despite, supply challenges and higher manufacturing costs due to temporary toll manufacturing arrangements. Profit After Tax (PAT) stood at ₹29 Crore, impacted by higher finance costs associated with strategic capital deployment towards our battery materials business and reconstruction of the Dahej facility. We maintained robust operational discipline through effective cost management, supply chain agility, and strategic pass-through mechanisms, enabling us to protect margins and profitability while serving customers efficiently.

As of March 31, 2026, our total debt stood at ₹1,330 Crore, while our networth remained strong at ₹816 Crore. Reflecting our consistent performance and long-term growth potential, our Board of Directors recommended a final dividend of ₹1 per equity share for F.Y. 2025-26, subject to shareholders' approval.

Going ahead, we remain focussed on optimising our balance sheet, driving working capital efficiency, and maintaining a prudent capital allocation approach to maximise returns.

UPDATE ON DAHEJ FIRE INCIDENT

The fire incident at our Dahej facility in March 2025 was an unforeseen challenge for us. The fact that there were no injuries or casualties, validated our attention to safety and responsible operations. The construction of the new facility is on schedule, and we are committed to building a safer and fully automated plant.

On the insurance front, we received cumulative on-account insurance claims of ₹140 Crore along with salvage realisation of ₹7 Crore. Our net claim receivable stands at ₹203 Crore, and we continue to work closely with insurers for the final settlement.

ADVANCING STRATEGIC GROWTH PLATFORMS

During the year, we made significant progress in lithium-ion battery chemicals, a high-growth opportunity aligned with the global energy transition. This aligns well with India's vision of building an Atmanirbhar Bharat - self-reliant India.

Through our wholly-owned subsidiary, Neogen Ionics Limited, we are building largest integrated battery materials facility at Pakhajan, Dahej PCPIR, Gujarat, with a planned capacity of 30,000 MTA of electrolytes and 3,000 MTA of lithium electrolyte salts and additives. This state-of-the-art plant will strengthen India's domestic battery materials ecosystem while positioning Neogen as a reliable global supply chain partner.

The state-of-the-art electrolyte plant, designed and developed in collaboration with MU Ionic Solutions Corporation (MUIS), Japan, achieved a significant milestone with completion of mechanical commissioning and transition into the trial-run phase. Commercial manufacturing of electrolytes remains on track for H1 F.Y. 2026-27, followed by electrolyte salts in H2 F.Y. 2026-27. Our focus will now be on process stabilisation, phased capacity ramp-up, and customer qualification.

We have received provisional approvals from additional international customers for lithium electrolyte salts, while final site audits have been completed by multiple overseas electrolyte manufacturers. Witnessing increasing demand from leading domestic and global lithium-ion cell manufacturers is encouraging.

Our strategic partnership with MUIS, Japan, provides access to world-class technology and enhances our ability to deliver globally competitive products. Additionally, our Joint Venture with Morita Investment Limited - a wholly-owned subsidiary of Morita Chemical Industries Co. Limited, Japan, is progressing well. Through this partnership, we aim to establish India's first non-FEOC-compliant electrolyte salt manufacturing platform backed by proven Japanese technology, creating a differentiated supply chain alternative.

The promoter group's infusion of ₹161 Crore through preferential allotment of equity at a premium to the SEBI floor price reinforces their confidence in Neogen's long-term growth trajectory. The funds will support Neogen Ionics' expansion, working capital requirements, and other strategic initiatives.

COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABLE OPERATIONS

Sustainability remains deeply embedded in our approach to responsible growth. During the year, we secured the

We have received provisional approvals from additional international customers for lithium electrolyte salts, while final site audits have been completed by multiple overseas electrolyte manufacturers.”

EcoVadis Silver Medal for 2025, reflecting our continued progress in ESG performance and commitment to sustainable business practices.

LOOKING AHEAD

As we move forward, we remain confident about Neogen's long-term growth prospects. Global supply chain diversification, the China+1 strategy, increasing focus on localisation, and India's emergence as a preferred manufacturing destination provide significant opportunities for the specialty chemicals industry.

In Neogen's journey, F.Y. 2026-27 marks an inflection point. The commissioning of Dahej replacement facility and the commercialisation of our battery materials plant will support our future expansion. Further reinforced by trusted technology partnerships, increasing customer engagement, and India's rapidly expanding energy transition ecosystem, we believe Neogen Ionics is well-positioned to emerge as a preferred partner in lithium-ion battery materials value chain.

Driven by Neogen's differentiated chemistry capabilities, expanding product portfolio, and strong customer relationship, our core specialty chemicals business too remains well-poised for sustained growth. With the Dahej replacement facility enabling normalisation of operations and MPP-5 reaching full production from H1 F.Y. 2026-27, we are confident of achieving strong revenue of approximately ₹875-₹950 Crore in F.Y. 2026-27.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to our shareholders, customers, employees, partners, and communities for their relentless confidence and support. We remain committed to advancing our growth initiatives and delivering lasting value for all stakeholders.

Warm Regards,

Dr. Harin Kanani

GLOBAL MEGATRENDS SHAPING NEOGEN'S STRATEGY

Growth Driver	Opportunity for Neogen	Business
China+1 Manufacturing Shift	Many global companies are reducing dependence on China by diversifying manufacturing locations ("China+1" strategy). This creates opportunities for Indian chemical companies. Neogen can leverage this trend through its expertise in specialty chemicals, pharma intermediates, agrochemicals, and battery materials, attracting global customers seeking alternate suppliers.	Neogen Chemicals Limited (NCL)
Specialty Chemicals Demand	Demand for specialty chemicals continues to be supported by strong growth across key end-use industries, including agriculture, pharmaceuticals, automotive, construction, electronics and water treatment. Increasing industrialisation, urbanisation and the adoption of high-performance, application-specific chemical solutions are driving sustained demand for value-added specialty chemicals. In addition, the expansion of India's electronics and semiconductor manufacturing ecosystem, coupled with investments in advanced manufacturing and clean energy technologies, is creating new opportunities for high-purity and performance chemicals. These structural growth drivers are expected to support the long-term expansion of the specialty chemicals market and reinforce India's position as a preferred global manufacturing hub for high-value chemical products.	NCL
Supply Chain Localisation	Following global disruptions, companies are focussing on local sourcing and resilient supply chains. This increases opportunities for Indian manufacturers to replace imports. Neogen can benefit by supplying domestically produced specialty chemicals, pharma intermediates, and agrochemical ingredients.	NCL
Advanced Materials Demand	High-growth sectors such as semiconductors, electronics, and advanced manufacturing require ultra-high-purity chemicals. Neogen's technical expertise in electronic chemicals and custom manufacturing capabilities positions it to participate in this emerging growth segment.	NCL
Climate Transition	Increasing ESG expectations, decarbonisation goals, sustainability regulations, and carbon pricing risks are changing customer and investor priorities. Neogen supports this transition through battery materials that enable EV adoption, while opportunities also emerge for green chemistry and sustainable chemical solutions.	NCL & Neogen Ionics Limited (NIL)

Growth Driver	Opportunity for Neogen	Business
EV Transition & Energy Storage	The global shift toward electric vehicles (EVs) and battery storage systems is increasing demand for battery chemicals. Government initiatives such as India's PLI scheme and FAME-III promote EV adoption. Neogen benefits through Neogen Ionics, which manufactures high-purity electrolytes and lithium electrolyte salts (LiPF6) used in lithium-ion batteries.	NIL
Government Policy Support (MOOWR Scheme)	The Manufacture and Other Operations in Warehouse Regulations (MOOWR) scheme strengthens India's manufacturing competitiveness by allowing manufacturers to defer customs duty on imported capital goods and raw materials until they are cleared for domestic consumption, while exempting customs duty on exports. This improves working capital efficiency, storing goods in bonded warehouse for a longer tenure, reduces production costs, and enhances export competitiveness. Neogen Ionics' operations under the MOOWR framework supports cost-efficient manufacturing and strengthen its ability to serve global and domestic customers.	Neogen Ionics (NIL)

Industry Landscape

India's chemical industry continues to strengthen its position as one of the country's key manufacturing sectors, supported by robust domestic demand, increasing industrialisation, favourable policy initiatives and growing integration with global value chains. The industry serves a wide range of end-use sectors, including pharmaceuticals, agrochemicals, electronics, construction, renewable energy and advanced manufacturing. As global companies diversify their supply chains under the China+1 strategy, India is increasingly emerging as a preferred destination for specialty chemical manufacturing, supported by its skilled talent base, expanding production capabilities and competitive cost structure. Simultaneously, the growing focus on import substitution, technological innovation and sustainable manufacturing is creating new opportunities for domestic specialty chemical manufacturers.

Government initiatives aimed at strengthening domestic manufacturing, including the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Advanced Chemistry Cell (ACC) battery storage, along with continued investments in clean energy and advanced manufacturing, are fostering the development of a resilient industrial ecosystem. These structural trends are expected to accelerate investments across high-value specialty chemicals, advanced materials and energy storage solutions. Leveraging its established expertise in bromine and lithium chemistry, Neogen is well positioned to participate in these long-term growth opportunities.

India's transition towards cleaner mobility and renewable energy is expected to significantly increase demand for advanced battery materials and domestic battery manufacturing capabilities. As the country expands its electric mobility ecosystem and grid-scale energy storage infrastructure, the need for reliable domestic suppliers of critical battery materials, including electrolyte solutions and lithium salts, is expected to increase. Through Neogen Ionics Limited, the Company is investing in integrated manufacturing capabilities for lithium-ion battery materials, including electrolyte solutions and electrolyte salts. The integrated manufacturing facility at Pakhajan, Gujarat, represents an important step towards supporting India's evolving battery value chain, strengthening domestic manufacturing capabilities and contributing to the country's energy transition.

Demand for bromine-based specialty chemicals continues to be supported by their extensive applications across pharmaceuticals, agrochemicals, water treatment, flame retardants, electronic chemicals and other high-performance industrial applications. Increasing customer preference for customised, high-purity and value-added chemical solutions is expected to create sustained opportunities for manufacturers with strong technical expertise and integrated manufacturing capabilities. Backed by decades of experience in bromination chemistry, a diversified product portfolio and a strong focus on research and innovation, Neogen continues to strengthen its capabilities to address evolving customer requirements across domestic and international markets.

STRENGTHENING LONG-TERM VALUE CREATION

Neogen's governance framework is designed to support sustainable growth by integrating strategic oversight, risk management, regulatory compliance and responsible business practices. Through active Board engagement, diligent stewardship and effective committee governance, the Company continues to strengthen organisational resilience, enhance stakeholder confidence and create long-term value across all capitals.

Risk Management Framework

Risk management is integral to Neogen's governance framework and strategic decision-making, supporting the Company's ability to create sustainable value while strengthening business resilience. The Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) framework provides a structured approach to identifying, assessing, monitoring and mitigating risks that may affect the Company's strategic objectives, operational performance and long-term growth.

The framework considers risks across strategic, operational, financial, regulatory, environmental, technological and market-related dimensions. Risks are evaluated based on their likelihood and potential impact, with defined mitigation plans, ownership and monitoring mechanisms to ensure timely implementation and accountability. The effectiveness of mitigation measures is periodically reviewed by management, while the Risk Management Committee of the Board provides strategic guidance on the Company's risk profile and the adequacy of its risk management practices.

As the Company continues to expand its manufacturing capabilities and strengthen its position in specialty chemicals and advanced battery materials, its risk profile continues to evolve. During F.Y. 2025-26, the focus of risk management has increasingly shifted towards the successful commissioning of new manufacturing facilities, execution of technology transfer and scale-up initiatives, supply chain resilience, regulatory compliance, cybersecurity and the management of evolving market dynamics. This proactive approach enables Neogen to anticipate emerging risks, respond effectively to changing business conditions and support sustainable long-term value creation.

Risk Category	Factors Creating Risk	Mitigation	Capital Impacted
Business Risk	Neogen is exposed to global uncertainties arising from geopolitical conflicts, macroeconomic volatility, inflationary pressures, pandemics, natural calamities and changes in government policies. These events may disrupt supply chains, impact raw material availability (particularly solvents and packaging materials), increase logistics costs, affect customer demand and interrupt business operations.	The Company mitigates these risks by diversifying its customer base and sourcing network, maintaining tactical inventory of critical raw materials, adopting multi-fuel options in manufacturing operations and implementing appropriate pricing strategies to pass on increases in input costs where feasible. Business continuity is supported through regular monitoring of geopolitical and economic developments, weekly gross profit reviews, inventory monitoring and periodic vendor assessments to enable timely response to emerging risks. The Company monitors these risks through event-based reviews during disruptions, quarterly assessments of economic policies and regular vendor audits to ensure early identification of potential issues.
Market and Competitive Risks	The Company operates in a highly competitive environment and faces risks such as product obsolescence, intense global competition, price volatility and reliance on limited markets. These factors may result in loss of sales, reduced profitability, or weakened market position.	Neogen focusses on innovation, product diversification, R&D, customer engagement and competitive pricing strategies. Expansion into new geographies and certifications to access global markets also strengthen its positioning. The Company's monitoring mechanisms include weekly sales reviews, regular feedback from customers and ongoing market price surveys to track competitive trends.
Environment, Health and Safety Risk (EHS)	EHS risk refers to potential environmental, health and safety issues that may result from the Company's operational activities. The business is exposed to risks related to fire, accidents, effluent discharge deviations, environmental non-compliance and labour-related issues. Such risks could affect human safety, the environment, regulatory approvals and the Company's reputation.	The Company's mitigation measures include stringent safety protocols, employee training, fire safety systems, regular mock drills, effluent monitoring and sustainable practices such as waste management and renewable energy adoption. Employee-friendly HR policies and strong labour relations also reduce workforce-related risks. The Company monitors these areas through daily effluent checks, quarterly safety audits, routine mock drills and employee engagement surveys to ensure compliance and preparedness.
Financial Risk	The Company is exposed to financial risks arising from tightening liquidity, rising interest rates, project cost overruns, delays in project execution, foreign exchange fluctuations and increasing working capital requirements. These factors may affect funding availability, borrowing costs, cash flows and overall financial performance.	Neogen maintains diversified funding sources and closely monitors project execution to optimise capital deployment. The Company strengthens liquidity through supplier bill discounting, receivable financing, prudent working capital management and regular cash flow forecasting. Foreign exchange exposures are managed through appropriate hedging strategies, while insurance coverage and financial reporting controls further enhance financial resilience. Daily cash flow monitoring, periodic reviews of receivables, payables and inventory levels support proactive financial risk management.

Risk Category	Factors Creating Risk	Mitigation	Capital Impacted
Information Technology (IT) Risk	The Company is exposed to cyber threats, ransomware attacks, unauthorised system access, obsolete software and hardware, inadequate cybersecurity awareness and potential disruption of critical IT infrastructure. Such events may result in operational downtime, loss of confidential information, financial losses and business interruption.	Neogen continuously upgrades its IT infrastructure and cybersecurity capabilities through SAP S/4HANA upgrades, cloud-based applications, Security Operations Centre (SOC) monitoring, deploying firewalls, secure access controls, using licensed softwares, ensuring Virtual Private Network (VPN) and encryption security and regular data backups systems. User awareness programmes, IT security policies, periodic firewall reviews, traffic monitoring and external cybersecurity assessments strengthen the Company's cyber resilience and safeguard critical business information. These risks are monitored through monthly reviews of access logs, quarterly audits of user roles, firewall monitoring and periodic external IT security reviews.
Regulatory Risk	The Company operates in a dynamic regulatory environment where changes in applicable laws, inadequate awareness of compliance requirements, contractual obligations and legal or intellectual property matters may result in financial penalties, litigation and reputational impact.	Neogen maintains a structured compliance management framework supported by detailed Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), centralised legal review of contracts, regular engagement with external legal experts, when required and strengthening of its in-house legal function. Employee awareness programmes, compliance declarations, periodic legal reviews and structured compliance management and monitoring systems help ensure adherence to evolving regulatory requirements. Monitoring is ensured through weekly compliance checklists, regular tracking of litigations and timely reminders to relevant departments for adherence.
R&D and Innovation Risks	Insufficient investment in Neogen's processes, technology and R&D efforts could negatively affect the Company's financial performance.	Neogen's key strength lies in its technological innovation. With advanced research and development facilities in Mahape, Navi Mumbai, Maharashtra and Karakhadi, Vadodara, the Company is at the forefront of cutting-edge developments. Its skilled and dynamic R&D team has been instrumental in driving progress. Since launching dedicated R&D units in 2001, Neogen has significantly expanded its product portfolio, growing from 20 products in 2001 to 258 by F.Y. 2025-26, reflecting the strength of its R&D capabilities. Neogen is committed to further enhancing and expanding its research and development efforts.

Risk Category	Factors Creating Risk	Mitigation	Capital Impacted
Forex Risk	Around 29% of Neogen's revenue is derived from exports, making the Company vulnerable to exchange rate fluctuations and the potential for financial loss.	Neogen has carefully developed a foreign exchange strategy to mitigate exchange rate risk through targeted hedging measures. The Company applies a netting strategy to efficiently manage its foreign exchange exposure.
Risk Associated to Sourcing of Lithium	The increasing adoption of electric vehicles is expected to lead to a substantial rise in demand for lithium-ion batteries. However, this growth will also bring about new supply chain risks, particularly regarding both raw and refined battery materials, along with greater fluctuations in lithium prices. These price variations could drive up the Company's costs, potentially affecting its profitability.	Neogen has built a stable supply chain through over three decades of collaboration with two of the world's largest lithium mining companies. To further reduce risks, the Company has diversified its supplier base by adding 2-3 more global lithium suppliers, ensuring a reliable supply. To protect its profit margins, Neogen passes on the fluctuating costs of lithium to its customers. Additionally, the Company enters into long-term agreements that tie the prices of final goods to lithium market prices over extended period
Input Price Risk	Neogen occasionally encounters challenges related to insufficient raw material supplies and price fluctuations, mainly driven by the significant volatility in the chemical intermediates market. As these intermediates play a key role in the chemical process, any price variations can directly affect the cost of the final products.	Neogen's procurement team is crucial in managing risks related to raw material supplies and price fluctuations. They ensure that a significant portion of the Company's key materials is sourced from multiple suppliers across different regions. Additionally, Neogen encourage strong, long-term relationships with its suppliers, allowing the Company to secure cost-effective raw materials and maintain adequate inventory levels to effectively address these challenges.

Management Discussion and Analysis

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Geopolitical Tensions Impacted Global Chemical Markets

The ongoing geopolitical tensions and the conflict between Israel and Iran disrupted global energy and commodity markets during F.Y. 2025-26. This led to volatility in the prices of crude oil, natural gas and petrochemicals, as well as supply chain disruptions. Supply uncertainties in key oil-producing regions and disruptions to trade routes heightened concerns about feedstock availability and logistics costs for the global chemical industry. Since crude oil and natural gas derivatives are critical raw materials for several chemical products, rising energy prices exerted pressure on input costs, transportation expenses and overall operating margins across the sector. The situation also contributed to cautious inventory management, temporary production adjustments and disruptions in global trade flows. The extent of the impact varied across commodity and specialty chemical segments depending on pricing power, end-user industries and supply-chain integration, resulting in overall subdued performance of the industry.

Industry Performance

The global chemical industry across emerging markets recorded lower growth in 2025 despite improved industrial activity and resilient demand. While certain regions in Europe continued to face demand-related challenges, the overall industry showed signs of recovery across key end-use sectors. According to the American Chemistry Council (ACC), global chemical production grew by 2.6% in 2025, compared with 4.0% in 2024, with growth primarily driven by Asia-Pacific, Africa and the Middle East, while Europe contracted by 1.2% after rebounding in 2024. Global chemicals production is expected to further moderate to 1.9% in 2026, reflecting a cautious global demand environment.

Global Chemicals Production

Asia-Pacific remained the key growth engine for global chemicals production, aided by strong industrial activity, expanding manufacturing capacity and sustained demand across major end-use sectors. The region grew by 4.1% in 2025, significantly outperforming the global average despite a moderation from the previous year's 5.8%. Growth in Asia-Pacific is projected to ease further to 2.6% in 2026, but is expected to remain above the global average, catalysed by structural factors, such as urbanisation, industrial expansion, rising domestic consumption and continued investment in major economies, including China and India.

Global Chemicals Production Growth (%)

Global Chemicals Output (% YoY)	2024	2025e	2026f
World Chemicals Output	4.0	2.6	1.9

Africa & Middle East	3.0	2.3	3.8
Asia/Pacific	5.8	4.1	2.6

By segment, global chemicals output displayed broad-based moderation across most categories between 2024 and 2026. Agricultural chemicals remained the key growth driver, although growth is expected to moderate going forward. Consumer chemicals are projected to recover after a slowdown, while growth in basic and specialty chemicals is expected to remain moderate. Meanwhile, coatings and other specialty segments continued to demonstrate relatively stable performance.

Segment wise Global Chemicals Production Growth (%)

Global Chemicals Output by Segment (% YoY)	2024	2025e	2026f
World Chemicals Output	4.0	2.6	1.9

In 2026, the global chemicals industry is expected to witness moderate growth, with overall output projected to soften. Basic chemicals are likely to witness a gradual uptick, aided by stabilising manufacturing activity, while specialty chemicals are expected to remain resilient, underpinned by consistent demand from diversified end-use sectors. Agricultural chemicals and consumer chemicals are anticipated to experience some moderation; however, overall market conditions are expected to remain supportive, reflecting a broadly constructive demand outlook across key segments.

INDIAN CHEMICAL INDUSTRY

Indian chemical companies witnessed strong growth over the past two decades, driven by rising domestic consumption, exports and increasing global competitiveness. The industry has evolved from a fragmented base of small, founder-led firms into a more mature sector, with the number of companies valued above USD 250 million increasing from just 19 in the early 2000s to 98 by 2025, including 41 with valuations exceeding USD 1 billion, according to the Boston Consulting Group January 2026 report. Strengthened by rising affluence, premiumisation trends and expanding demand across sectors, such as personal care, construction and manufacturing, India's domestic chemical market is projected to grow from the current USD 150 billion to over USD 300 billion by 2030. By then, the demand for higher-value, performance-oriented chemical products is also likely to grow, driven by large-scale capacity expansion, new value chain development and increasing integration into global supply chains. Chemical production increased from 11.73 million metric tonnes (MMT) in F.Y. 2024-25 to 11.90 MMT in F.Y. 2025-26, registering a growth of 1.45%, while petrochemical production rose from 21.91 MMT to 22.25 MMT, reflecting a 1.55% increase. Consequently, total production reached 34.15 MMT in F.Y. 2025-26, compared with 33.63 MMT in the previous year, representing an overall growth of 1.55%.

India's Chemical Trade Performance

India's chemical trade performance remained mixed in F.Y. 2025-26 amid changing global demand and pricing pressures. Total chemical exports declined by 2.96% to USD 20.55 billion, while imports fell marginally by 1.37% to USD 28.48 billion. Organic chemicals continued to dominate trade despite lower exports and imports, whereas inorganic chemicals recorded growth in both exports (5.97%) and imports (12.93%). Agrochemical and dye exports moderated amid pricing pressures, while dye intermediate exports increased by 17.74%, reflecting resilient downstream demand. Meanwhile, higher imports of dye intermediates highlighted continued dependence on imported feedstock chemicals, while cosmetics and toiletries exports remained stable and essential oils exports grew by 3.67% during the year.

INDIAN SPECIALTY CHEMICAL INDUSTRY

Within the industry, segment-wise demand trends remained broadly positive and well-distributed. Agrochemicals were backed by the need to improve crop yields and agricultural efficiency, while specialty polymers are gaining traction in automotive, electronics and high-performance industrial applications. Construction chemicals are witnessing steady growth, driven by rising investments in infrastructure, urban development and real estate across the country. Water treatment chemicals are also expanding steadily, driven by increasing concerns about water quality, wastewater management and sustainable water use across industrial and municipal applications. In parallel, electronic chemicals are benefiting from the rapid expansion of India's electronics manufacturing and associated supply chains.

India is emerging as a key growth market for the specialty chemicals industry, aided by rising investment, expanding manufacturing capacity and increasing integration with advanced sectors such as semiconductors. The domestic semiconductor market is estimated at around USD 38 billion in 2023, USD 45–50 billion in 2024–2025 and is expected to reach USD 100–110 billion by 2030, creating a strong downstream demand for high-purity and performance-based specialty chemicals used in processes, such as cleaning, etching, coatings and advanced material applications. From the perspective of the specialty chemicals industry, this growth is strengthening India's position in high-value, technology-driven manufacturing and enhancing its role in complex supply chains.

Overall, the Indian specialty chemical industry is steadily moving towards higher-value, innovation-led applications, driven by an increasing R&D focus and a growing emphasis on performance efficiency and sustainability. The specialty chemicals market is expected to grow at around 3.65% CAGR during F.Y. 2024-25 – F.Y. 2032-33, indicating strong long-term structural growth potential driven by product diversification and evolving industrial demand patterns.

GOVERNMENT INITIATIVES

The Government of India continues to strengthen the chemical sector through initiatives such as Make in India, the National Chemical Policy, Petroleum, Chemicals and Petrochemicals Investment Regions (PCPIRs) and the Chemical Promotion Development Scheme (CPDS). These measures aim to reduce import dependence, enhance domestic manufacturing and promote investments across bulk chemicals, intermediates, polymers and specialty chemicals. Policy support for chemicals, electronics, semiconductors, batteries and advanced manufacturing is also encouraging capacity expansion, localisation and positioning India as a global manufacturing hub, thereby supporting the country's vision of becoming a USD 30 trillion economy by 2047.

GST Rationalisation

The GST rationalisation framework provides targeted relief across key chemical-intensive segments by reducing GST on critical inputs, such as ammonia, sulphuric acid and nitric acid, from 18% to 5%, thereby correcting inverted duty structures and improving cost efficiency for fertiliser and chemical manufacturers. The reduction in GST on bio-pesticides and micronutrients from 12% to 5% is expected to boost demand for sustainable agro-chemical inputs. These measures improve input affordability, drive sustainable chemical production and strengthen the competitiveness of India's chemical industry.

Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Advanced Chemistry Cell (ACC) Batteries

The PLI Scheme for ACC battery storage, launched in 2021 with a total outlay of ₹ 18,100 Crore, aims to develop 50 gigawatt-hours (GWh) of domestic battery manufacturing capacity. Around 40 GWh has been allocated to four beneficiary firms, which collectively invested approximately ₹ 3,237 Crore as of December 2025. Beyond the selected PLI beneficiaries, more than 10 manufacturers have announced plans to establish nearly 178 GWh of additional battery manufacturing capacity in India over the next five years. This is driving demand for key chemical inputs, such as cathode and anode materials, electrolytes, foils and recycling solutions, thereby strengthening India's battery materials ecosystem.

Clean Energy Transition

Rapid expansion of renewable energy, combined with investments in electric vehicles, green hydrogen, electronics, semiconductors and advanced manufacturing, is structurally increasing demand for specialty chemicals and performance materials while enhancing the shift toward low-carbon chemical production processes.

Lithium-ion Battery Market in India

The Indian lithium-ion battery market was valued at USD 3.59 billion in 2025 and is projected to reach USD 9.79 billion by 2034, registering a CAGR of 11.78% during 2026-2034, driven by rising demand from electric mobility, consumer electronics and renewable energy storage systems. India's reliance on imported critical minerals, such as lithium and cobalt, presents growth opportunities for the domestic chemical industry, supported by policy initiatives under the Mines and Minerals (Development and Regulation) Act, 1957 (MMDR) framework, increased exploration, recycling efforts, reduced import duties and overseas mineral sourcing. Consumer electronics accounted for the largest market share at 35.15% in 2025, followed by electric vehicles and energy storage applications. Lithium-ion phosphate chemistry led with a 30.06% share due to its safety, thermal stability and cost-effectiveness. The 0-3000mAh battery segment held a 40.12% share in 2025, driven by smartphones, wearables and portable devices. North India accounted for the largest regional share at 33% in 2025, supported by industrial infrastructure, automotive hubs and electronics manufacturing capacity, with the market evolving through investments in gigafactories, battery recycling facilities and second-life applications.

Key Trends in Lithium Battery Manufacturing Industry

KEY SEGMENTS DRIVING THE GROWTH OF INDIA'S LITHIUM-ION BATTERY INDUSTRY

Rapidly Growing Electronics Manufacturing in India

India's rapid expansion in electronics manufacturing under the Make in India initiative is emerging as a major structural demand driver for electronic-grade chemicals, specialty materials and advanced polymers. Electronics production is projected to reach USD 300 billion by 2026, driven by large-scale manufacturing expansion, including growth from just 2 mobile manufacturing units in 2014 to over 300 as of March 2026 and near-complete localisation, with 99.2% of mobile phones sold in India being domestically produced. This scale-up is significantly increasing demand for high-purity chemicals, solvents, gases, photoresists and process materials used across assembly and semiconductor value chains.

Strong export growth—from ₹ 1,566 Crore in F.Y. 2014-15 to over ₹ 1.2 Lakh Crore in F.Y. 2023-24, alongside a 77-fold increase in mobile exports—highlights India's integration into global electronics supply chains and further strengthens demand for chemical inputs. Policy acceleration through Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes, the Phased Manufacturing Programme (PMP) and the ₹ 76,000 Crore Semicon India programme is strengthening India's manufacturing ecosystem, along with semiconductor investments of nearly ₹ 1.52 Lakh Crore. Together, these initiatives are increasing domestic value addition and creating sustained opportunities for the chemical sector, which plays a critical upstream enabling role.

Robust Renewable Energy Growth

India's rapid expansion in renewable energy is creating strong structural demand for specialty chemicals and advanced materials used in solar, wind and energy storage systems. With total non-fossil fuel installed capacity reaching 283.46 GW as of March 2026, including 274.68 GW from renewable sources, India has become the third-largest renewable energy market globally. The nearly 3.6-fold increase in renewable capacity since 2014, driven mainly by solar and wind expansion, is significantly boosting demand for photovoltaic materials, resins, encapsulants, insulation systems, lubricants and battery-related chemicals, positioning the chemical industry as a key enabler of the country's clean energy transition.

India EV Expansion

The structural shift in EV adoption is positioning the chemical sector as a core enabler of India's electric mobility transition, with rising integration across energy storage, automotive and electronics supply chains. India's electric vehicle (EV) ecosystem recorded strong expansion in F.Y. 2025-26, accelerated by rising electrification across passenger, two-wheeler and three-wheeler segments. Passenger vehicle sales reached 46.43 Lakh units, growing 7.9% year-on-year, while two-wheelers expanded to 2.17 Crore units, up 10.7%. With EV adoption rising sharply, electric passenger vehicle registrations alone rose by more than 80% during the year.

World-Class Manufacturing Infrastructure

Neogen Chemicals operates four manufacturing facilities across four strategic locations in India, namely Mahape (Navi Mumbai, Maharashtra), Karakhadi (Vadodara, Gujarat), Dahej SEZ (Bharuch, Gujarat) and Patancheru (Hyderabad, Telangana). Following the merger of BuLi Chemicals India Private Limited in January 2025, the Patancheru facility strengthened the Company's organolithium capabilities, increasing active organolithium capacity to around 300 MT per annum.

In December 2023, Neogen Ionics, a wholly owned subsidiary of Neogen Chemicals Limited acquired 65 acres of land in Pakhajan, Dahej PCPIR, Gujarat dedicated for projects related to battery materials where construction has significantly progressed and expected to start during F.Y. 2026-27. Neogen Ionics Limited has also started one of the earliest LIB electrolyte facility at Dahej SEZ site in April 2024.

The Mahape facility, operational since 1991, remains fully utilised, while the Vadodara facility operational since 2017 has around 20% land utilisation, providing scope for future greenfield/brownfield expansion. The Dahej SEZ facility, commissioned in 2020, serves as a high-specification manufacturing hub for advanced intermediates and export-oriented products.

Expansion in Advanced Battery Materials

Neogen Chemicals, through its wholly owned subsidiary Neogen Ionics Limited, established its presence in India's lithium-ion battery materials segment in 2023. The Company commissioned a 2,000 MTPA electrolyte manufacturing and 200 MTPA capacity for lithium electrolyte salts and additives at its Dahej SEZ Facility in F.Y. 2024-25 and commenced commercial dispatches, while another 1,300 MTPA capacity for manufacturing lithium electrolyte salts and additives is under trial production. The Company is setting up an additional greenfield capacity of 1,000 MTPA for manufacturing lithium electrolyte salts and additives at its Dahej SEZ facility which is to be commissioned by H2 F.Y. 2026-27. It is also developing an integrated greenfield battery materials project at Pakhajan in the Dahej PCPIR, spread across approximately 264,285 square metres, with planned capacities of 30,000 MTPA for electrolytes and 3,000 MTPA for lithium electrolyte salts. Upon completion, combined capacities at Dahej and Pakhajan are expected to reach around 32,000 MTPA for electrolytes and 5,500 MTPA for lithium electrolyte salts and additives, supported by technology collaborations with MU Ionic Solutions and Morita Investment Limited.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

1. Strategic Indo-Japan Joint Venture

Neogen Ionics Limited (NIL) entered into a strategic joint venture with Morita Investment Limited (Japan) in April 2025 for the production and global commercialisation of lithium hexafluorophosphate (LiPF₆) electrolyte salt. The new entity, Neogen Morita New Materials Limited, will be held 80% by Neogen Ionics and 20% by Morita, with equity infusion of USD 20 million from Morita—a Japanese JV partner. The collaboration integrates proven Japanese technology with Neogen Chemicals' manufacturing capabilities to enable efficiency improvements and stronger access to global markets.

2. Dahej Site Replacement Plant MPP5

Following the fire, Neogen Chemicals is rebuilding its Dahej facility into a larger, more technologically advanced manufacturing plant. The rebuilt facility will have stronger safety systems and greater scalability to support both specialty chemicals and battery materials. The plant is expected to enhance long-term operational resilience and provide capacity flexibility. As the facility is set to commission in H1 F.Y. 2026-27, the Company has maintained business continuity through production at alternate sites and selective outsourcing, ensuring uninterrupted supply to customers and continuity of its specialty chemicals and Contract Development and Manufacturing Organisation (CDMO) operations.

3. Planned Integrated Capacity Expansion

The Company is executing a coordinated capacity expansion programme across Dahej, Pakhajan, and Patancheru Plant to strengthen backward integration, improve operating leverage and scale high-value chemistries. The Dahej replacement facility is central to restoring in-house production and reducing reliance on toll manufacturing, thereby improving cost structure and freeing capacity for CDMO and specialty chemical growth. In parallel, Neogen Ionics is developing a 30,000 MT per annum electrolyte platform with 5,500 MT of lithium electrolyte salts and additives across Dahej and Pakhajan Facility, aligned with demand visibility from domestic giga-factories and global customers. Mahape and Karakhadi continue to function as flexible manufacturing bases, enhancing CDMO and advanced intermediates, ensuring continuity of supply and steady utilisation during the transition phase.

4. Strong Sustainability Drive

The Company embeds sustainability as a core design principle across its manufacturing and growth strategy by advancing cleaner chemistries, improving process efficiency and strengthening operational safety standards across facilities. Across new and rebuilt assets, including Dahej and Pakhajan, the focus remains on energy-efficient design, safer operations and reduced environmental intensity through integrated production, while aligning with evolving global ESG expectations and regulatory frameworks.

5. Progress of Pakhajan Greenfield Battery Materials Project

The Pakhajan greenfield project progressed steadily, with key equipment installed and commencement of mechanical commissioning activities. The Company targets producing Electrolyte in H1 F.Y. 2026-27, with lithium electrolyte salts planned for phased commissioning thereafter by H2 F.Y. 2026-27. The project is aligned with rising demand from ACC battery manufacturing ecosystems and global non-FEOC-compliant supply requirements. The Company completed Production Part Approval Process (PPAP) requirements and secured long-term commercial approval for electrolytes from a major Indian giga-scale customer. Provisional approvals for lithium electrolyte salts were received in parallel from international customers, with final audits completed for multiple overseas electrolyte makers and now awaiting final clearance for approvals which will help to transition from provisional to commercial-ready status by end of H1 F.Y. 2026-27.

6. Expanding Global Footprint

Neogen Chemicals is actively expanding its global footprint by strengthening its positioning in international markets through structured customer approval processes for lithium salts and electrolytes. A key milestone during the period was securing long-term supply approval from a leading Indian giga-scale battery manufacturer, along with provisional approvals from multiple international customers, subject to final site audits.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Standalone

In F.Y. 2025-26, Neogen Chemicals reported revenue of ₹ 855.5 Crore, compared with ₹ 773.7 Crore in F.Y. 2024-25, driven by improved volumes across organic and inorganic chemical businesses, new customer additions and an improved product mix. EBITDA increased to ₹ 151.3 Crore from ₹ 147.1 Crore, supported by operational efficiencies, higher volumes and cost optimisation, while EBITDA margin stood at 17.7% compared with 19.0% in the previous year. Profit after tax stood at ₹ 47 Crore against ₹ 48.4 Crore in F.Y. 2024-25, impacted by ramp-up costs in battery materials and higher finance costs due to ongoing capex. The Company's net worth increased to ₹ 853.8

Crore as of March 31, 2026, from ₹ 808.9 Crore as of March 31, 2025, with net fixed assets at ₹ 230.8 Crore and cash and cash equivalents at ₹ 3.0 Crore. Liquidity was supported by insurance inflows, expected recoveries, joint-venture funding and promoter support, while the Board approved a preferential equity issuance to the promoter group to support long-term growth initiatives. The Company continued to maintain a structured repayment schedule for project-related debt at Dahej and Pakhajan, aligning financial obligations with commissioning timelines.

Consolidated

Neogen Chemicals delivered a resilient performance in F.Y. 2025-26 despite operational challenges related to the transition of the Dahej facility, elevated input costs and supply chain disruptions. Revenue increased 10.9% to ₹862.0 Crore from ₹ 777.6 Crore, supported by healthy demand, higher volumes and sustained plant utilisation, while Neogen Ionics contributed ₹ 13 Crore during the fourth quarter. EBITDA remained stable at ₹ 137.3 Crore compared with ₹ 136.3 Crore in F.Y. 2024-25, although EBITDA margin moderated to 15.9% from 17.5% due to expansion overheads and transition-related costs. Profit after tax stood at ₹ 28.8 Crore compared with ₹ 34.8 Crore in the previous year, while EPS declined to ₹ 10.9 from ₹ 13.2, primarily due to higher finance costs associated with expansion projects. The Board recommended a final dividend of ₹ 1 per equity share for F.Y. 2025-26, subject to shareholder approval.

PRINCIPLE 2: BUSINESSES SHOULD PROVIDE GOODS AND SERVICES IN A MANNER THAT IS SUSTAINABLE AND SAFE

Businesses are not just sellers of goods and services they are also responsible for the impact these offerings create. This principle serves as a reminder that every product leaves a footprint. It is essential to ensure that all offerings are safe, high-quality, and sustainable across their entire lifecycle from raw material sourcing to end-of-life disposal. It is necessary to think proactively, innovate continuously, and act responsibly to reduce harm and support long-term well-being.

The company has robust sustainable sourcing procedures and ensures responsible end-of-life management for plastics and other waste through Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) compliance. Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of Neogen Chemicals Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the standalone balance sheet as at March 31, 2026, and the standalone statement of profit and loss (including other comprehensive income), the statement of changes in equity and the standalone statement of cash flows for the year then ended and notes to the standalone financial statements including a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "standalone financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2026 and its profit (including other comprehensive income), its changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements' section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and Rules thereunder and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period.

These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Sr. Key Audit Matter No.	How our audit addressed the Key audit matter
1. Revenue Recognition Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer in accordance with Ind AS 115 – Revenue from Contracts with Customers. This requires assessing when control of the goods is transferred, which may vary depending on the specific terms of customer contracts. Revenue recognition involves significant judgment in: • Determining the timing of revenue recognition (i.e., whether control transfers at a point in time or over time). • The identification of performance obligations in customer contracts. There is also a presumed fraud risk in revenue recognition, particularly around the risk of overstating revenue through early recognition or fictitious sales, especially around the year-end. Given the materiality of revenue, the significant judgments and estimates involved in applying Ind AS 115 and the inherent fraud risk, we considered this area to be a key audit matter in our audit.	Our audit procedures included the following: - Obtained an understanding of the Company's revenue recognition policies and assessed their compliance with Ind AS 115 - Evaluated the design and tested the implementation and operating effectiveness of relevant controls over revenue recognition. - Examined a sample of customer contracts and invoices to assess the identification of performance obligations, allocation of transaction price, and the timing of revenue recognition based on transfer of control. - Performed cut-off procedures near the year-end to verify that revenue was recognised in the correct accounting period. - Tested journal entries related to revenue to identify any unusual or potentially fraudulent transactions. - Assessed adequacy of revenue related disclosures in the financial statements.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 31 of the standalone financial statements with regard to incident of Fire at Dahej SEZ Plant of the Company on March 5, 2025. This incident led to damage of certain property, plant and equipment, inventory and it also interrupted business. The Company intimated insurance company about the fire incident and submitted loss estimate to the Insurance Company in terms of the insurance policy. The Company had appointed Independent Surveyor for ascertaining the loss caused by fire and the claim that the Company is entitled from the Insurance Company vis-a-vis its insurance policy. The Company simultaneously appointed Independent Chartered Accountant Firm seeking opinion on accounting treatment for the Loss caused and the Claim made to the Insurance Company. Based on the Independent Surveyor's Report and Independent Chartered Accountant Firm's opinion:

- (i) the Company had recognised Loss caused by fire as ₹ 348.16 crores and Insurance Claim receivable from Insurance Company as ₹ 334.60 crores during the previous year ended March 31, 2025; and
- (ii) the aforementioned losses of ₹ 348.16 crores and corresponding insurance claim credit of ₹ 334.60 crores has been presented on a net basis of ₹ 13.56 crores

under "Exceptional Items" in the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2025.

The assessment of the loss claim submitted to the insurance company is in process. However, the Company has received ₹ 140.00 crores during the current year as on account payment from the insurance company and realized ₹ 7.05 crores from sale of scrap. Further, the Company has also incurred and claimed additional expenses of ₹ 1.41 crores during the current year towards the said incident. After considering the above, the balance insurance claim receivable outstanding as on March 31, 2026 is ₹ 188.96 crores. In the opinion of the management, the aforesaid balance of claim is fully recoverable.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Information Other than the Standalone Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon ("Other Information")

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the consolidated financial statements, standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance (including other comprehensive income), changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including Ind AS specified under section 133 of the Act, read with relevant rules issued thereunder.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, the Management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the ‘Guidance Note’) issued by ICAI and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to standalone financial statements

A company’s internal financial control with reference to standalone financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of standalone financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control with reference to standalone financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of standalone financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the standalone financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to standalone financial statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026 based on the criteria for internal control with reference to standalone financial statements established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2. SUMMARY OF BASIS OF COMPLIANCE, BASIS OF PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION, KEY ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES, ASSUMPTIONS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

I. Basis of compliance

The Standalone financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as notified by Ministry of Corporate Affairs pursuant to Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('Act') read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended from time to time and presentation and disclosures requirement of Division II of revised Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013 (Ind

AS Compliant Schedule III), as applicable to Standalone financial statement. The accounting policies are applied consistently to all the years presented in the standalone financial statements.

The standalone financial statements of the company for the year ended March 31, 2026 were authorized for issue in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors on May 16, 2026.

II. Basis of preparation and presentation

Current versus non-current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of the products and the time taken between acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as twelve months for the purpose of the classification of assets and liabilities into current and non-current.

Basis of measurement

The financials have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following:

- certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) that is measured at fair value;
- defined benefit plans – plan assets measured at fair value less present value of defined benefit obligation;

Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Standalone Financial Statements of each of the Company's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the 'Functional Currency'). The Standalone Financial Statement are presented in Indian Rupees (₹), which is the Company's presentation currency. All amounts have been rounded off to the nearest Crore, unless otherwise indicated.

III. Key estimates and assumptions

While preparing financial statements in conformity with Ind AS, the management has made certain estimates and assumptions that require subjective and complex judgments. These judgments affect the reported amount

Accompanying notes to standalone financial statements

of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, disclosure of contingent liabilities at the balance sheet date and the reported amount of income and expenses for the reporting period. Future events rarely develop exactly as forecasted and the best estimates require adjustments, as actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized prospectively. Judgement, estimates and assumptions are required in particular for:

a) Determination of the estimated useful lives

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment are based on the life prescribed in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. In cases, where the useful lives are different from that prescribed in Schedule II and in case of intangible assets, they are based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers' warranties and maintenance support.

b) Recognition and measurement of defined benefit obligations

The obligation arising from defined benefit plan is determined on the basis of actuarial assumptions. Key actuarial assumptions include discount rate, trends in salary escalation, actuarial rates and life expectancy. The discount rate is determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds. The period to maturity of the underlying bonds correspond to the probable maturity of the post-employment benefit obligations. Due to complexities involved in the valuation and its long term nature, defined benefit obligation is sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting period.

c) Recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against the deductible temporary differences.

d) Discounting of long-term financial assets / liabilities

All financial assets / liabilities are required to be measured at fair value on initial recognition. In case of financial liabilities/assets which are required to subsequently be measured at amortised cost, interest is accrued using the effective interest method.

e) Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

Ind AS 116 requires lessee to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Company makes an assessment on the expected lease term on a lease-by-lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. In evaluating the lease term, the Company considers factors such as any significant leasehold improvements undertaken over the lease term, costs relating to the termination of the lease and the importance of the underlying asset taking into account the location of the underlying asset and the availability of suitable alternatives. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances. After considering current and future economic conditions, the Company has concluded that no changes are required to lease period relating to the existing lease contracts.

f) Fair value of financial instruments

Derivatives are carried at fair value. Derivatives includes foreign currency forward contracts. Fair value of foreign currency forward contracts are determined using the fair value reports provided by respective bankers.

g) Impairment of financial assets

The Company's management reviews periodically items classified as receivables to assess whether a provision for impairment should be recorded in the Standalone statement of profit and loss. Management estimates the amount and timing of future cash flows when determining the level of provisions required. Such estimates are necessarily based on assumptions about several factors involving varying degrees of judgement and uncertainty.

The Company reviews its carrying value of investments annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is accounted for.

h) Provisions and contingent liabilities and assets

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) because of past event and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made.

In the normal course of business, contingent liabilities exist when there is a possible but not probable obligation, or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources, whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation whose amount cannot be estimated reliably. Contingent liabilities do not warrant provisions but are disclosed unless the possibility of outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent assets are not recognised but only disclosed where an inflow of economic benefits is probable. However, when the realisation of income is virtually certain, then the related asset is not a contingent asset and its recognition is appropriate.

Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date by the Company.

Measurement of fair values:

The Company's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values for, both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. The Company has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. The management regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information, such as broker quotes or pricing services, is used to measure fair values, then the management assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that such valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which such valuations should be classified.

When measuring the fair value of a financial asset or a financial liability, the Company uses observable market data as far as possible. Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Company recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

IV. Material accounting policies

A. Revenue recognition and other income:

(i) Sale of goods

Revenue from operations comprises of sales of goods after deduction of discounts, goods and service tax and estimated returns.

for the year ended March 31, 2026

Discounts given by the Company includes trade discounts, volume rebates and other incentive given to the customers. Revenue is only recognized to the extent that it is highly probable a significant reversal will not occur.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and in excess of billing is recognised as a Contract Asset. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when control of the goods has transferred to our customer and when there are no longer any unfulfilled obligations to the customer. This is generally when the goods are delivered to the customer depending on individual customer terms, which can be at the time of dispatch or delivery. This is considered the appropriate point where the performance obligations in our contracts are satisfied as the Company no longer have control over the inventory.

Export Incentive

Export benefits arising from Duty Drawback scheme, Remission of Duties and Taxes on Export Products (RoDTEP) and other eligible export incentives are recognised on post export basis at the rate at which the entitlements accrue and is included in the 'Other Operating Income' (Revenue from operation).

(ii) Interest income

For all financial instruments measured at amortised cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR), which is the rate that discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instruments or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial assets. Interest income is included in other income in the Standalone statement of profit and loss

(iii) Government grant:

Grants and subsidies from the government are recognised when there is reasonable assurance that (i) the Company will comply with the condition attached to them and (ii) the grant /subsidy will be received. Government grants are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a systematic basis over the years in which the Company recognises the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate or when performance obligations are made. Where the grant relates to an asset, it is recognized as deferred income and credited to income in equal amounts over the expected useful life of the related asset.

B. Foreign currency translation:

Transaction and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the respective functional currencies of the Company at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions or an average rate if the average rate approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction. At each balance sheet date, foreign currency monetary items are reported using the closing exchange rate. Exchange differences that arise on settlement of monetary items or on reporting at each balance sheet date of the Company's monetary items at the closing rate are recognized as income and expenses in the period in which they arise.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of transactions. Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency shall be translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences are generally recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

C. Employment Benefits

(i) Short-term obligations

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering services are classified as short-term employee benefits. Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount

as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably. Short-term benefits such as salaries, wages, short-term compensation absences, etc., are determined on an undiscounted basis and recognized in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations

Liability toward Long-term Compensated Absences is provided for on the basis of an actuarial valuation, using the Projected Unit Credit Method, as at the date of the Balance Sheet. Actuarial gains / losses comprising of experience adjustments and the effects of changes in actuarial assumptions are immediately recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the balance sheet if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(iii) Post-employment obligations

The Company operates the following post-employment schemes:

- (a) defined benefit plans such as gratuity, and
- (b) defined contribution plans such as provident fund.

- (a) Defined benefit plans: The following post – employment benefit plans are covered under the defined benefit plans:

Gratuity: The Company's net obligation in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in the current and prior periods, discounting that amount and deducting the fair value of any plan assets.

The calculation of defined benefit obligations is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. When the calculation results in a potential asset for the Company, the recognised asset is limited to the present value of economic benefits available in the form of any future refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet. Net interest expense (income) on the net defined liability (assets) is computed by applying the discount rate, used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period to the then-net defined liability (asset) after taking into account any changes as a result of contribution and benefit payments during the year. Net interest expense and other expenses related to gratuity benefit scheme are recognised in Standalone statement of profit and loss.

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognised immediately in profit or loss. The Company recognises gains and losses on the settlement of a defined benefit plan when the settlement occurs.

(b) Defined contribution plans

Company's contribution for the year paid/ payable to defined contribution retirement benefit schemes are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss in period in which the related service is provided by the employee. The Company's contribution towards provident fund is considered to be defined contribution plan for which the

for the year ended March 31, 2026

Company makes contribution on monthly basis. The Company pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered provident funds as per local regulations. The Company has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid.

D. Income-tax

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognised directly in equity or in the OCI.

(i) Current tax

Current tax is the amount of tax payable (recoverable) in respect of the taxable profit / (tax loss) for the year determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income-Tax Act, 1961. Current income tax for current and prior periods is recognized at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax assets and liabilities are offset only if, the Company:

- a) has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts; and
- b) it is intended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

(ii) Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is not recognised for:

- temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss;

- temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries and associates to the extent that the Company is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised; such reductions are reversed when the probability of future taxable profits improves. Unrecognized deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only if:

- a) the entity has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities; and
- b) the deferred tax assets and the deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity.

Accompanying notes to standalone financial statements

E. Inventories

Inventories are carried in the balance sheet as follows:

- (a) Raw materials, Packing materials, Stock in Trade and Stores & Spares: Cost of raw materials, packing materials, components, stores and spares includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition and are carried at lower of cost, on moving weighted average basis and net realisable value. However, raw materials and packing materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost, if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Stores and spares which do not meet the definition of property, plant and equipment are accounted as inventory.
- (b) Work-in-progress / project in progress and Finished goods -: Cost includes direct materials and direct labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity and other cost bringing the inventories at their present condition and location.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The cost of inventories has been computed to include all cost of purchases, cost of conversion and other related costs incurred in bringing the inventories to the present location and condition. Slow and non-moving material, obsolescence, defective inventories are duly provided for and valued at net realizable value. Goods and materials in transit are valued at actual cost incurred up to the date of balance sheet. Materials and supplies held for use in the production of inventories are not written down if the finished products in which they will be used are expected to be sold at or above cost.

F. Property, plant and equipment (including Capital work in progress)

i. Recognition and initial measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost, which includes capitalised borrowing costs, less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses, if any. Freehold land is carried at historical cost and is not depreciated. Capital work-in-progress is stated at cost.

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment shall be recognised as an asset if, and only if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises:

- a) its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates.
- b) any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.
- c) the initial estimate of the costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located, the obligation for which an entity incurs either when the item is acquired or as a consequence of having used the item during a particular period for purposes other than to produce inventories during that period.
- d) Items of property, plant and equipment (including capital-work-in progress) are measured at cost, which includes capitalised borrowing costs, less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses Income and expenses related to the incidental operations, not necessary to bring the item

to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management, are recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

If significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, then they are accounted and depreciated for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

Projects which are not yet ready for their intended use are carried as capital work in progress at cost determined as aforesaid.

ii. De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognized is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the Standalone statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

iii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

iv. Depreciation/ Amortizations

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful lives specified in schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except for the following items. The management believes that these estimated useful lives are realistic fair approximation of the period over which the assets are likely to be used.

- (a) Building – 30 years
- (b) Office Premises- 60 years
- (c) Plant and Machinery- 20 years
- (d) M.S. Structure & FRP Gratings- 20 years
- (e) Effluent Treatment Plant- 20 years
- (f) Safety Equipment's- 20 years
- (g) Quality Control Instruments 10 years
- (h) Office equipment's- 5 years
- (i) I T Equipment's- 3 years
- (j) Furniture and fixtures- 10 years
- (k) Vehicles- 8 years
- (l) R & D Equipment's - 10 years
- (m) Leasehold land – over the term of lease agreement

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in profit or loss within other gains/(losses).

G. Intangible assets:

(i) Recognition and initial measurement

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The cost of an intangible asset comprises of its purchase price, including any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the taxing authorities), and any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use.

Accompanying notes to standalone financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

(ii) Useful life and amortisation

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over the useful lives of the asset from the date of capitalisation as below:

a) Computer software 3-5 years

The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting year, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination viz. Goodwill, Patents, Copyrights and Brands do not have definite useful life and thus, are not amortised. However, these assets are tested for impairment on an annual basis. These are further tested for impairment upon any indication of impairment subsequent to annual testing.

(iii) De recognition:

Intangible assets are derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the Standalone statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

H. Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting year, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its non-financial assets (other than inventories and deferred tax assets) to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Where a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pretax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

Goodwill and intangible assets that do not have definite useful life are not amortised and are tested at least annually for impairment. If events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired, they are tested for impairment once again.

I. Investments.

The investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are carried in these financial statements at historical 'cost', except when the investment or a portion thereof, is classified as held for sale, in which case it is accounted for as non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations. Where the carrying amount of an investment is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is written down immediately to its recoverable amount and the difference is transferred to the Statement of Profit and Loss. On disposal of investment, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount is charged or credited to Profit and Loss.

J. Borrowing costs:

General and specific borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised during the period of time that is required to complete and prepare the asset for its intended use or sale. Qualifying assets are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale. Other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange difference to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

K. Segment Reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") of the Company. The CODM, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments, has been identified as the Board of directors. The Company has identified only one segment as reporting segment based on the information reviewed by CODM. The Company operates in one reportable business segment i.e. "Speciality Chemicals".

L. Financial Instruments

a. Recognition initial measurement

Trade receivables and debt securities are initially recognised when they originate. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

b. Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial Assets

Financial Assets: Classification

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at:

- amortised cost or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets. A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets: Business model assessment:

The Company makes an assessment of the objective of the business model in which a financial asset is held at a portfolio level because this best reflects the way the business is managed and information is provided to management. The information considered includes:

- The stated policies and objectives for the portfolio and the operation of those policies in practice. These include whether management's strategy focuses on earning contractual interest income, maintaining a particular interest rate profile, matching the duration of the financial assets to the duration of any related liabilities or expected cash outflows or realising cash flows through the sale of the assets;

for the year ended March 31, 2026

- how the performance of the portfolio is evaluated and reported to the Company's management.
- the risks that affect the performance of the business model (and the financial assets held within that business model) and how those risks are managed
- how managers of the business are compensated -e.g. whether compensation is based on the fair value of the assets managed or the contractual cash flows collected; and
- the frequency, volume and timing of sales of financial assets in prior periods, the reasons for such sales and expectations about future sales activity.

Transfers of financial assets to third parties in transactions that do not qualify for derecognition are not considered sales for this purpose, consistent with the Company's continuing recognition of the assets. Financial assets that are held for trading or are managed and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis are measured at FVTPL. The Company recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

Financial assets: Assessment whether contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest:

For the purposes of this assessment, 'principal' is defined as the fair value of the financial asset on initial recognition. 'Interest' is defined as consideration for the time value of money and for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs (e.g. liquidity risk and administrative costs), as well as a profit margin.

In assessing whether the contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest, the Company considers the contractual terms of the instrument. This includes assessing whether the financial asset contains a contractual term that could change the timing or amount of contractual cash flows that it would not meet this condition. In making this assessment, the Company considers:

- contingent events that would change the amount or timing of cash flows;
- terms that may adjust the contractual coupon rate, including variable interest rate features;
- prepayment and extension features; and
- terms that limit the Company's claim to cash flows from specified assets (e.g. non-recourse features).

A prepayment feature is consistent with the solely payments of principal and interest criterion if the prepayment amount substantially represents unpaid amounts of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding, which may include reasonable additional compensation for early termination of the contract. Additionally, for a financial asset acquired at a significant discount or premium to its contractual par amount, a feature that permits or requires prepayment at an amount that substantially represents the contractual par amount plus accrued (but unpaid) contractual interest (which may also include reasonable additional compensation for early termination) is treated as consistent with this criterion if the fair value of the prepayment feature is insignificant at initial recognition.

for the year ended March 31, 2026

Financial assets: subsequent measurement and gains and losses:

Financial assets at FVTPL: These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortised cost: These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities: Classification, subsequent measurement and gains and losses:

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses including any interest expense, are recognised in profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss. Any gains or loss on derecognition is also recognized in the Standalone statement of profit and loss.

c. Derecognition:

Financial assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Company neither transfers not retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership but does not retain control of the financial asset. If the Company enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognized on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognized.

Financial liabilities

The Company derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expired. The Company also derecognises a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flow under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognised in the Standalone statement of profit and loss.

d. Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the Company currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

e. Equity instruments

Equity instruments issued by the Company are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of an equity instrument. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Company after deducting all of its liabilities and includes no obligation to deliver cash or other financial assets.

f. Financial assets impairment and write off

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether financial assets carried at amortised cost, are credit impaired. A financial asset is 'credit-impaired' when the events that have

for the year ended March 31, 2026

a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

The Company assessed the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost based on the Company's past history of recovery, credit worthiness of the counter party and existing and future market conditions.

For all financial assets other than trade receivables, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month expected credit loss (ECL) unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. For trade receivables, the Company has applied the simplified approach for recognition of impairment allowance as provided in Ind AS 109 which requires the expected lifetime losses from initial recognition of the receivables.

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off when the Company has no reasonable expectations of recovering the financial asset in its entirety or a portion thereof. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event.

M. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized when there is a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expenses relating to a provision is presented in the Statement of Profit and Loss net of any reimbursement. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as finance cost. A provision for onerous contracts is measured at the present value of the lower of the expected cost of terminating the contract and the expected net cost of continuing with the contract. Before a provision is established, the Company recognises any impairment loss on the assets associated with that contract.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but will probably not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation of a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision disclosure is made. A contingent asset is not recognised but disclosed in the financial statements where an inflow of economic benefit is probable.

Commitments include the amount of purchase order (net of advance) issued to parties for completion of assets. Provisions, contingent assets, contingent liabilities and commitments are reviewed at each balance sheet date.

N. Leases

Company as a lessee

The Company's lease asset classes primarily consist of leases for land. The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and (iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Company recognizes a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. For these short-term and low value leases, the Company recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Certain lease arrangements include the options to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. ROU assets and lease liabilities include these options when it is reasonably certain that they will be exercised.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognized at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset. Right of use assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable.

The lease liability is initially measured at amortized cost at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates in the country of domicile of these leases. Lease liabilities are remeasured with a corresponding adjustment to the related right of use asset if the Company changes its assessment if whether it will exercise an extension or a termination option.

Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

Company as a lessor

Leases under which the Company is a lessor are classified as a finance or operating lease. Lease contracts where all the risks and rewards are substantially transferred to the lessee are classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating lease.

For leases under which the Company is an intermediate lessor, the Company accounts for the head-lease and the sub-lease as two separate contracts. The sub-lease is further classified either as a finance lease or an operating lease by reference to the RoU asset arising from the head-lease.

O. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

P. Earnings per share

i. Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- the profit attributable to owners of the Company
- by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year and excluding treasury shares.

ii. Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares, and
- the weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Q. Business combination

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree if any. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred. At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed if any are recognised at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their

acquisition fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. However, the following assets and liabilities acquired in a business combination are measured at the basis indicated below:

Deferred tax assets or liabilities, and the assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements, are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Tax and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively. When the Company acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognised for noncontrolling interests, and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred (bargain purchase), the Company re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognises the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

Business combinations arising from transfers of interests in entities that are under common control are accounted using pooling of interest method. The difference between consideration given and the aggregate historical carrying amounts of assets and liabilities of the acquired entity are recorded in equity.

R. Research and Development expenditure

Expenditure on research is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Expenditure on development which does not meet the criteria for recognition as an intangible asset is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Items of Property, Plant and Equipment and acquired Intangible assets are used for research and development are capitalised and depreciated in accordance with the policies stated for Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible assets.

S. Recent Pronouncements

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs vide notification dated 7 May 2025 and 13 August 2025 notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2025 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025, respectively, which amended certain accounting standards (see below), and are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2025:

- (a) Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements
Clarifications on classification of liabilities as current or non-current, including the impact of loan covenants and rights to defer settlement.
- (b) Supplier Finance Arrangements – Amendments to Ind AS 7 and Ind AS 21
The amendment in Ind AS 7 requires to inform users of financial statements of the existence of supplier finance arrangements and explain the nature of the arrangements, the carrying amount of liabilities and the range of payment due dates. Ind AS 107 has been amended to add supplier finance arrangements as a factor that may cause concentration of liquidity risk. The Company provided new disclosures for liabilities under supplier finance arrangements in note 20.
- (c) International Tax Reform – Pillar Two Model Rules – Amendments to Ind AS 107
The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified amendments to Ind AS 12, Income Taxes, to incorporate the OECD Pillar Two Model Rules. These amendments introduce specific disclosure requirements for entities that may be subject to Pillar Two income tax. Pillar Two legislation has not yet been enacted in India, where the Company is headquartered. Accordingly, no adjustments have been made to these financial statements in respect of Pillar Two income taxes. The Company will continue to monitor developments in India and other jurisdictions in which it operates, and will evaluate the impact of such legislation as and when it becomes applicable.

for the year ended March 31, 2026

- (d) Lack of Exchangeability – Amendments to Ind AS 21 The amended Ind AS 21 have added requirements to help entities to determine whether a currency is exchangeable into another currency, and the spot exchange rate to use where it is not.

These amendments did not have any material impact on the amounts recognised in prior periods and are not expected to significantly affect the current or future periods.

T. New and amended standards not yet adopted

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time.

Ind AS 1– Presentation of Financial Statements Clarifications on classification of liabilities as current or non-current, basis the timing of waiver granted by the lender on breach of a material provision. Once effective, the Company does not expect this amendment to have a material impact on its operations or financial statements.

The company offsets tax assets and liabilities if and only if it has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority.

Significant management judgement is required in determining provision for income tax, deferred income tax assets and liabilities and recoverability of deferred income tax assets. The recoverability of deferred income tax assets is based on estimates of taxable income by each jurisdiction in which the relevant entity operates and the period over which deferred income tax assets will be recovered.

Given that the Company does not have any intention to dispose investments in subsidiaries in the foreseeable future, deferred tax asset on indexation benefit in relation to such investments has not been recognised.

c) The Company uses the following hierarchy for determining and / or disclosing the fair value of financials instruments by valuation techniques.

Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 — Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices);

Level 3 — Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

(₹ in Crore unless otherwise stated)

NOTE : 38. ACCOUNTING CLASSIFICATION AND FAIR VALUES (CONTD.)

- d) The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

The fair value of quoted equity investment and mutual funds are based on price quotations at the reporting date. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments with various counterparties, principally with banks. Foreign exchange forward contracts and cross currency interest and principal swap are valued using valuation techniques, which employs the use of market observable inputs. The model incorporates various inputs including the credit quality of counter parties, foreign exchange spot and forward rates.

Mutual Funds: The fair values of investments in mutual fund units is based on the net asset value ('NAV') as stated by the issuers of these mutual fund units in the published statements as at Balance Sheet date. NAV represents the price at which the issuer will issue further units of mutual fund and the price at which issuers will redeem such units from the investors.

Derivative assets and liabilities: The Company enters into a variety of derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to foreign exchange rate risks, including foreign exchange forward contracts and cross currency swaps. Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting year.

- e) There were no transfers between level 1 and 2 during the year.

NOTE : 39. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Company's principal financial liabilities, other than derivatives, comprise loans and borrowings, trade and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations and to provide guarantees to support its operations. The Company's principal financial assets include loans, trade and other receivables, and cash and cash equivalents that derive directly from its operations. The Company also enters into derivative transactions.

The Company is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's senior management oversees the management of these risks. The Company's senior management is supported by a financial risk committee that advises on financial risks and the appropriate financial risk governance framework for the Company. The financial risk committee provides assurance to the Company's senior management that the Company's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Company's policies and risk objectives. All derivative activities for risk management purposes are carried out by specialist teams that have the appropriate skills, experience and supervision. It is the Company's policy that no trading in derivatives for speculative purposes may be undertaken. The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, investments and derivative financial instruments.

The sensitivity analyses in the following sections relate to the position as at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025

The analysis excludes the impact of movements in market variables on: the carrying values of gratuity and other post-retirement obligations and provisions.

Accompanying notes to standalone financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

(₹ in Crore unless otherwise stated)

NOTE : 39. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (CONTD.)

The following assumptions have been made in calculating the sensitivity analyses:

The sensitivity of the relevant profit or loss item is the effect of the assumed changes in respective market risks. This is based on the financial assets and financial liabilities held at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's long-term debt and short term debt obligations with floating interest rates. If the interest rates had been 1% higher / lower and all other variables held constant, impact on the Company's profit for the year ended March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 will not be significant.

Foreign Currency Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in a foreign currency).

The Company uses forward exchange contracts to hedge its currency risk, most with a maturity of less than one year from the reporting date. The Company uses forward exchange contracts to hedge the currency exposure and is therefore not exposed to significant currency risk at the respective reporting dates.

When a derivative is entered into for the purpose of being a hedge, the Company negotiates the terms of those derivatives to match the terms of the hedged exposure. For hedges of forecast transactions the derivatives cover the period of exposure from the point the cash flows of the transactions are forecasted up to the point of settlement of the resulting receivable or payable that is denominated in the foreign currency.

Foreign currency sensitivity

The following table details the Company's sensitivity to a 5% appreciation and depreciation in the ₹ against the relevant foreign currencies net of hedge accounting impact.

The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year-end for a 5% change in foreign currency rates, with all other variables held constant. A positive number below indicates an increase in profit or equity where ₹ strengthens by 5% against the relevant currency. For a 5% weakening of ₹ against the relevant currency, there would be a comparable impact on profit or equity, and the balances below would be negative.

NOTE : 39. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (CONTD.)

Price risk

The Company does not have much exposure to price risk due to annual contracts and pass through mechanism for imports.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions, foreign exchange transactions and other financial instruments. The entity continuously monitors defaults of customers and other counterparties and incorporates this information into its credit risk controls.

None of the financial instruments of the Company result in material concentrations of credit risk. The company's objective is to seek continual revenue growth while minimising losses incurred due to increased credit risk exposure.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the entity will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset.

The entity's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due. Management monitors rolling forecasts of the entity's liquidity position and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows. The entity takes into account the liquidity of the market in which the entity operated.

As described in Note 20, the Company also participates in a supplier finance arrangement with the principal purpose of facilitating efficient payment processing of supplier invoices and providing the willing suppliers early payment terms compared with the related invoice payment due date. The arrangement allows the Company to centralise payments of trade payables to the bank rather than paying each supplier individually. From the Company's perspective, the arrangement does not significantly extend payment terms beyond the normal terms agreed with other suppliers that are not participating.

The company has given bank guarantees against the loans and credit facilities of subsidiaries. These amounts will be payable on default by the concerned entity. As of the reporting date, the subsidiary have not defaulted and hence, the company does not have any present obligation to third parties in relation to such guarantees.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments.

To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares. The Company monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is net debt divided by total capital plus net debt. The Company includes within net debt, interest bearing loans and borrowings, trade and other payables, less cash and cash equivalents.

Independent Auditor's Report

To, The Members of Neogen Chemicals Limited

REPORT ON THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements of Neogen Chemicals Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company"), its subsidiaries (the Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as "the Group") and its joint venture, which comprise the Consolidated Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2026, the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows, and the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements including a summary of the material accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the Consolidated Financial Statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, and based on the consideration of reports of the other auditors on separate financial statements of the subsidiaries and joint venture referred to in the Other Matters section below, the aforesaid Consolidated Financial Statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the consolidated state of affairs of the Group as at March 31, 2026, their consolidated profit including other comprehensive income, their consolidated cash flows and their consolidated changes in equity for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group, in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements under the provisions of the Act and Rules thereunder and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in Other Matters paragraph below is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period.

These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report :

Sr. Key Audit Matter No.	How our audit addressed the Key audit matter
1. Revenue Recognition Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer in accordance with Ind AS 115 – Revenue from Contracts with Customers. This requires assessing when control of the goods is transferred, which may vary depending on the specific terms of customer contracts. Revenue recognition involves significant judgment in: • Determining the timing of revenue recognition (i.e., whether control transfers at a point in time or over time). • The identification of performance obligations in customer contracts. There is also a presumed fraud risk in revenue recognition, particularly around the risk of overstating revenue through early recognition or fictitious sales, especially around the year-end. Given the materiality of revenue, the significant judgments and estimates involved in applying Ind AS 115 and the inherent fraud risk, we considered this area to be a key audit matter in our audit.	Our audit procedures included the following: - Obtained an understanding of the Company's revenue recognition policies and assessed their compliance with Ind AS 115 - Evaluated the design and tested the implementation and operating effectiveness of relevant controls over revenue recognition. - Examined a sample of customer contracts and invoices to assess the identification of performance obligations, allocation of transaction price, and the timing of revenue recognition based on transfer of control. - Performed cut-off procedures near the year-end to verify that revenue was recognised in the correct accounting period. - Tested journal entries related to revenue to identify any unusual or potentially fraudulent transactions. - Assessed adequacy of revenue related disclosures in the financial statements.
2. Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress The auditors of Neogen Ionics Limited ('NIL'), a wholly owned subsidiary have reported 'Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress' as a key audit matter as the said subsidiary company is presently in the process of setting up the Speciality Chemicals Plants at Dahej and Pakhajan, Gujarat and since these projects take a substantial period of time to get ready for intended use and due to their materiality in the context of the Balance Sheet of the Company, this is considered to be an area with significant effect on the overall audit strategy and allocation of resources in planning and completion of their audit. With regard to above capital projects, management has identified specific expenditure including employee costs and other overheads relating to each of the assets in the above capital projects and has applied judgement to assess if the costs incurred in relation to these assets meet the recognition criteria of Property, Plant and Equipment in accordance with Ind AS 16. Accordingly, the auditors of the said subsidiary have determined this as a key audit matter due to the significance of the capital expenditure during the year and the risk that the elements of costs that are eligible for capitalization are not appropriately capitalised in accordance with the recognition criteria provided in Ind AS 16.	In respect of the key audit matter reported by the said subsidiary auditors, the audit procedures performed by them included the following : - Performed an understanding and evaluation of the system of internal control process over the projects and those included in capital work in progress, with reference to identification and testing of key controls. - Assessed the progress of the project and the intention and ability of the management to carry forward and bring the asset to its state of intended use. - Review of Board minutes relating to approvals of the projects and changes in estimates thereof. - Understood, evaluated, and tested the design and operating effectiveness of key controls relating to capitalization of various costs incurred. - Tested the direct and indirect costs capitalized, on a sample basis, with the underlying supporting documents to ascertain nature of costs and basis for allocation, where applicable, and evaluated whether they meet the recognition criteria provided in the Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 16, Property, Plant and Equipment; - Ensured adequacy of disclosures in the financial statements on the management judgements in such cases.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 33 of the consolidated financial statements with regard to incident of Fire at Dahej SEZ Plant of the Group on March 5, 2025. This incident led to damage of certain property, plant and equipment, inventory and it also interrupted business. The Company intimated insurance company about the fire incident and submitted loss estimate to the Insurance Company in terms of the insurance policy. The Company had appointed Independent Surveyor for ascertaining the loss caused by fire and the claim that the Group is entitled from the Insurance Company vis-a-vis its insurance policy. The Company simultaneously appointed Independent Chartered Accountant Firm seeking opinion on accounting treatment for the Loss caused and the Claim made to the Insurance Company. Based on the Independent Surveyor's Report and Independent Chartered Accountant Firm's opinion:

- (i) the Group had recognised loss caused by fire as ₹ 362.90 crores and Insurance Claim receivable from Insurance Company as ₹ 348.82 crores during the previous year ended March 31, 2025; and
- (ii) the aforementioned losses of ₹ 362.90 crores and corresponding insurance claim credit of ₹ 348.82 crores has been presented on net basis of ₹ 14.08 crores under "Exceptional Items" in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2025.

The assessment of the loss claim submitted to the insurance company is in process. However, the Group has received ₹ 140.00 crores during the current year as on account payment from the insurance company and realized ₹ 7.05 crores from sale of scrap. Further, the Group has also incurred and claimed additional expenses of ₹ 1.41 crores during the current year towards the said incident. After considering the above, the balance insurance claim receivable outstanding as on March 31, 2026 is ₹ 203.18 crores. In the opinion of the management, the aforesaid balance of claim is fully recoverable. "Our opinion is not modified in respect this matter"

Information Other than the Consolidated Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon ("Other Information")

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the Consolidated Financial Statements, Standalone Financial Statements and our auditor's report thereon. The annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in terms of the requirements of the Act that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance (including other comprehensive income), consolidated changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Group in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including Ind AS specified under section 133 of the Act, read with relevant rules issued thereunder. The respective Management and Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; the selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Management and Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for assessing the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless respective Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of each Company.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company, its subsidiaries, which are companies incorporated in India, have adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group and a joint venture to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion. Our responsibilities in this regard are further described in the section titled 'Other Matters' in this audit report.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure ‘B’ to the Independent Auditor’s Report

[Referred to in paragraph 2(f) under ‘Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements’ in the Independent Auditor’s Report of even date to the members of Neogen Chemicals Limited on the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026]

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated Financial Statements under clause (i) of sub-section 3 of section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Neogen Chemicals Limited (“the Holding Company”) as of and for the year ended March 31, 2026, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, as of that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the Holding Company and its subsidiary companies which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control with reference to consolidated financial statements criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“ICAI”). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of Holding Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the ‘Guidance Note’) issued by ICAI and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

A company’s internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of consolidated financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Holding Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026, based on the internal control with reference to consolidated financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

Other Matters

Our aforesaid report under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements insofar as it relates to two Subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, is based solely on the corresponding report of the auditors of such companies incorporated in India.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of the above matter.

2. SUMMARY OF BASIS OF COMPLIANCE, BASIS OF PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION, KEY ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES, ASSUMPTIONS AND MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

I. Basis of compliance

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as notified by Ministry of Corporate Affairs pursuant to Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('Act') read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended from time to time and presentation and disclosures requirement of Division II of revised Schedule III of the Companies Act 2013, (Ind AS Compliant Schedule III), as applicable to consolidated financial statement. The accounting policies are applied consistently to all the years presented in the consolidated financial statements.

The consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended March 31, 2026 were authorized for issue in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors on May 16, 2026.

II. Basis of preparation and presentation

Current versus non-current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as per the Group's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of the products and the time taken between acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents, the Group has ascertained its operating cycle as twelve months for the purpose of the classification of assets and liabilities into current and non-current.

Basis of measurement

The Consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following:

- certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) that is measured at fair value;
- defined benefit plans – plan assets measured at fair value less present value of defined benefit obligation;

Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Consolidated Financial Statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the 'Functional Currency'). The Consolidated Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupees (₹), which is the Group's presentation currency. All amounts have been rounded off to the nearest Crore, unless otherwise indicated.

III. Basis of Consolidation

The Consolidated Financial Statements (CFS) comprises the Financial Statements of Neogen Chemicals Limited ("the Holding Company") and its Subsidiaries (herein after referred together as "the Group"), Associates. The CFS of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards on "Consolidated Financial Statements" (Ind AS 110), "Joint Arrangements" (Ind AS 111), "Disclosure of Interest in Other Entities" (Ind AS 112), "Investment in Associates and Joint Ventures" (Ind AS 28) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013

a) Subsidiaries:

Subsidiaries includes all the entities over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns through its involvement in the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the relevant activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are Consolidated from the date control commences until the date control ceases. When the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognizes the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, and any related NCI and other components of equity. Any interest retained in the former subsidiary is measured at fair value at the date the control is lost. Any resulting gain or loss is recognized in the Statement of Profit or Loss.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

The Financial Statements of the Company and its subsidiary companies have been Consolidated on a line by- line basis by adding together of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after fully eliminating intra-group balances and intra-group transactions and resulting unrealised profit or losses, unless cost cannot be recovered, as per the applicable Accounting Standard. Accounting policies of the respective subsidiaries are aligned wherever necessary, so as to ensure consistency with the accounting policies that are adopted by the Group under Ind AS.

b) Equity Method

Under the equity method of accounting, the investments are initially recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize the Group's share of the post-acquisition profits or losses of the investee in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, and the Group's share of movements in OCI of the investee in OCI. Dividends received or receivable from joint ventures and an associate are recognised as a reduction in the carrying amount of the investment.

IV. Key estimates and assumptions

While preparing financial statements in conformity with Ind AS, the management has made certain estimates and assumptions that require subjective and complex judgments. These judgments affect the reported amount of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, disclosure of contingent liabilities at the balance sheet date and the reported amount of income and expenses for the reporting period. Future events rarely develop exactly as forecasted and the best estimates require adjustments, as actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized prospectively. Judgement, estimates and assumptions are required in particular for:

a) Determination of the estimated useful lives

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment are based on the life prescribed in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. In cases, where the useful lives are different from that prescribed in Schedule II and in case of intangible assets, they are based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers' warranties and maintenance support.

b) Recognition and measurement of defined benefit obligations

The obligation arising from defined benefit plan is determined on the basis of actuarial assumptions. Key actuarial assumptions include discount rate, trends in salary escalation, actuarial rates and life expectancy. The discount rate is determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds. The period to maturity of the underlying bonds correspond to the probable maturity of the post-employment benefit obligations. Due to complexities involved in the valuation and its long term nature, defined benefit obligation is sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting period.

c) Recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against the deductible temporary differences.

d) Discounting of long-term financial assets / liabilities

All financial assets / liabilities are required to be measured at fair value on initial recognition. In case of financial liabilities/assets which are required to subsequently be measured at amortised cost, interest is accrued using the effective interest method.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

e) Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

Ind AS 116 requires lessee to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Group makes an assessment on the expected lease term on a lease-by-lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. In evaluating the lease term, the Group considers factors such as any significant leasehold improvements undertaken over the lease term, costs relating to the termination of the lease and the importance of the underlying asset taking into account the location of the underlying asset and the availability of suitable alternatives. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances. After considering current and future economic conditions, the Group has concluded that no changes are required to lease period relating to the existing lease contracts.

f) Fair value of financial instruments

Derivatives are carried at fair value. Derivatives includes foreign currency forward contracts. Fair value of foreign currency forward contracts are determined using the fair value reports provided by respective bankers.

g) Impairment of financial assets

The Group's management reviews periodically items classified as receivables to assess whether a provision for impairment should be recorded in the Consolidated statement of profit and loss. Management estimates the amount and timing of future cash flows when determining the level of provisions required. Such estimates are necessarily based on assumptions about several factors involving varying degrees of judgement and uncertainty.

The Group reviews its carrying value of investments annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is accounted for.

h) Provisions and contingent liabilities and assets

A provision is recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) because of past event and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made.

In the normal course of business, contingent liabilities exists when there is a possible but not probable obligation, or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources, whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Group or a present obligation whose amount cannot be estimated reliably. Contingent liabilities do not warrant provisions but are disclosed unless the possibility of outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent assets are not recognised but only disclosed where an inflow of economic benefits is probable. However, when the realisation of income is virtually certain, then the related asset is not a contingent asset and its recognition is appropriate.

Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date by the Group.

Measurement of fair values:

The Group's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values for, both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities. The Group has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. The management regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information, such as broker quotes or pricing services, is used to measure fair values, then the management assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that such valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which such valuations should be classified.

When measuring the fair value of a financial asset or a financial liability, the Group uses observable

for the year ended March 31, 2026

market data as far as possible. Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Group recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

v) Material accounting policies

A. Revenue recognition and Other income:

(i) Sale of goods

Revenue from operations comprises of sales of goods after deduction of discounts, goods and service tax and estimated returns. Discounts given by the Group includes trade discounts, volume rebates and other incentive given to the customers. Revenue is only recognized to the extent that it is highly probable a significant reversal will not occur.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and in excess of billing is recognised as a Contract Asset. Revenue from the sale of goods are recognized when control of the goods has transferred to our customer and when there are no longer any unfulfilled obligations to the customer. This is generally when the goods are delivered to the customer depending on individual customer terms, which can be at the time of dispatch or delivery. This is considered the appropriate point where the performance obligations in our contracts are satisfied as the Group no longer have control over the inventory.

Export Incentive

Export benefits arising from Duty Drawback scheme, Remission of Duties and Taxes on Export Products (RoDTEP) and other eligible export incentives are recognised on post export basis at the rate at which the entitlements accrue and is included in the 'Other Operating Income' (Revenue from operation).

(ii) Interest income

For all financial instruments measured at amortised cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR), which is the rate that discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instruments or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial assets. Interest income is included in other income in the Consolidated statement of profit and loss.

(iii) Government grant:

Grants and subsidies from the government are recognised when there is reasonable assurance that (i) the Group will comply with the condition attached to them and (ii) the grant /subsidy will be received. Government grants are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a systematic basis over the years in which the Group recognises the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate or when performance obligations are made. Where the grant relates to an asset, it is recognized as deferred income and credited to income in equal amounts over the expected useful life of the related asset.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

B. Foreign currency translation:

Transaction and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the respective functional currencies of the Group at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions or an average rate if the average rate approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction. At each balance sheet date, foreign currency monetary items are reported using the closing exchange rate. Exchange differences that arise on settlement of monetary items or on reporting at each balance sheet date of the Group's monetary items at the closing rate are recognized as income and expenses in the period in which they arise.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of transactions. Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency shall be translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured.

Exchange differences are generally recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Foreign Operations

Assets and liabilities of entities with functional currencies other than presentation currency have been translated to the presentation currency using exchange rates prevailing on the Consolidated Balance Sheet date. The Statement of Profit and Loss has been translated using the average exchange rates. The net impact of such translation are recognised in OCI and held in foreign currency translation reserve ('FCTR'), a component of Equity.

When a foreign operation is disposed of in its entirety or partially such that control, significant influence or joint control is lost, the cumulative amount of exchange differences related to that foreign operation recognised in OCI is reclassified to profit or loss as part of the gain or loss on disposal. If the Group disposes of part of its interest in a subsidiary but retains control, then the relevant portion of the cumulative amount is re-allocated to NCI. When the Group disposes of only a part of its interest in a joint venture while retaining significant influence or joint control, the relevant proportion of cumulative amount is reclassified to profit or loss.

C. Employment Benefits

(i) Short-term obligations

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering services are classified as short-term employee benefits. Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid if the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably. Short-term benefits such as salaries, wages, short-term compensation absences, etc., are determined on an undiscounted basis and recognized in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations

Liability toward Long-term Compensated Absences is provided for on the basis of an actuarial valuation, using the Projected Unit Credit Method, as at the date of the Balance Sheet. Actuarial gains / losses comprising of experience adjustments and the effects of changes in actuarial assumptions are immediately recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the balance sheet if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(iii) Post-employment obligations

The Group operates the following post-employment schemes:

- (a) defined benefit plans such as gratuity, and
- (b) defined contribution plans such as provident fund.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

(a) Defined benefit plans: The following post – employment benefit plans are covered under the defined benefit plans:

Gratuity: The Group's net obligation in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in the current and prior periods, discounting that amount and deducting the fair value of any plan assets.

The calculation of defined benefit obligations is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. When the calculation results in a potential asset for the Group, the recognised asset is limited to the present value of economic benefits available in the form of any future refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet. Net interest expense (income) on the net defined liability (assets) is computed by applying the discount rate, used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period to the then-net defined liability (asset) after taking into account any changes as a result of contribution and benefit payments during the year. Net interest expense and other expenses related to gratuity benefit scheme are recognised in Consolidated statement of profit and loss.

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The Group recognises gains and losses on the settlement of a defined benefit plan when the settlement occurs.

(b) Defined contribution plans

Group's contribution for the year paid/ payable to defined contribution retirement benefit schemes are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss in period in which the related service is provided by the employee. The Group's contribution towards provident fund are considered to be defined contribution plan for which the Group makes contribution on monthly basis. The Group pays provident fund contributions to publicly administered provident funds as per local regulations. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid.

D. Income-tax

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognised directly in equity or in the OCI.

(i) Current tax

Current tax is the amount of tax payable (recoverable) in respect of the taxable profit / (tax loss) for the year determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income-Tax Act, 1961. Current income tax for current and prior periods is recognized at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the tax authorities, using tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax assets and liabilities are offset only if, the Group:

- a) has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts; and
- b) it is intended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

(ii) Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is not recognised for:

- temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss;
- temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries and associates to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised; such reductions are reversed when the probability of future taxable profits improves. Unrecognized deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only if:

- a) the entity has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities; and
- b) the deferred tax assets and the deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity.

E. Inventories

Inventories are carried in the balance sheet as follows:

- (a) Raw materials, Packing materials, Stock in Trade and Stores & Spares: Cost of raw materials, packing materials, components, stores and spares includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition and are carried at lower of cost, on moving weighted average basis and net realisable value. However, raw materials and packing materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost, if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Stores and spares which do not meet the definition of property, plant and equipment are accounted as inventory.
- (b) Work-in-progress / project in progress and Finished goods -: Cost includes direct materials and direct labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity and other cost bringing the inventories at their present condition and location.

for the year ended March 31, 2026

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The cost of inventories have been computed to include all cost of purchases, cost of conversion and other related costs incurred in bringing the inventories to the present location and condition. Slow and non-moving material, obsolescence, defective inventories are duly provided for and valued at net realizable value. Goods and materials in transit are valued at actual cost incurred upto the date of balance sheet. Materials and supplies held for use in the production of inventories are not written down if the finished products in which they will be used are expected to be sold at or above cost.

F. Property, plant and equipment (including Capital work in progress)

i. Recognition and initial measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost, which includes capitalised borrowing costs, less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses, if any. Freehold land is carried at historical cost and is not depreciated. Capital work-in-progress is stated at cost.

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment shall be recognised as an asset if, and only if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises:

- a) its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates.
- b) any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

- c) the initial estimate of the costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located, the obligation for which an entity incurs either when the item is acquired or as a consequence of having used the item during a particular period for purposes other than to produce inventories during that period.
- d) Items of property, plant and equipment (including capital-work-in progress) are measured at cost, which includes capitalised borrowing costs, less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Income and expenses related to the incidental operations, not necessary to bring the item to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management, are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

If significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, then they are accounted and depreciated for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Projects which are not yet ready for their intended use are carried as capital work in progress at cost determined as aforesaid.

ii. De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognized is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the consolidated statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

for the year ended March 31, 2026

iii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

iv. Depreciation/ Amortizations

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful lives specified in schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except for the following items. The management believes that these estimated useful lives are realistic fair approximation of the period over which the assets are likely to be used.

- (a) Building – 30 years
- (b) Office Premises- 60 years
- (c) Plant and Machinery- 20 years
- (d) M.S. Structure & FRP Gratings- 20 years
- (e) Effluent Treatment Plant- 20 years
- (f) Safety Equipment's- 20 years
- (g) Quality Control Instruments 10 years
- (h) Office equipment's- 5 years
- (i) I T Equipment's- 3 years
- (j) Furniture and fixtures- 10 years
- (k) Vehicles- 8 years
- (l) R & D Equipment's - 10 years
- (m) Leasehold land – over the term of lease agreement

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in profit or loss within other gains/ (losses).

G. Intangible assets:

i. Recognition and initial measurement

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The cost of an intangible asset comprises of its purchase price, including any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the taxing authorities), and any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

ii. Useful life and amortisation

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over the useful lives of the asset from the date of capitalisation as below:

a. Computer software 3-5 years

The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting year, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination viz. Goodwill, Patents, Copyrights and Brands do not have definite useful life and thus, are not amortised. However, these assets are tested for impairment on an annual basis. These are further tested for impairment upon any indication of impairment subsequent to annual testing.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

iii. De recognition:

Intangible assets are derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

H. Impairment of non- financial assets

At the end of each reporting year, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its non-financial assets (other than inventories and deferred tax assets) to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Where a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Goodwill and intangible assets that do not have definite useful life are not amortised and are tested at least annually for impairment. If events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired, they are tested for impairment once again.

I. Investments.

The investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are carried in these financial statements at historical 'cost', except when the investment or a portion thereof, is classified as held for sale, in which case it is accounted for as Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations. Where the carrying amount of an investment is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is written down immediately to its recoverable amount and the difference is transferred to the Statement of Profit and Loss. On disposal of investment, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount is charged or credited to Profit and Loss.

J. Borrowing costs:

General and specific borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised during the period of time that is required to complete and prepare the asset for its intended use or sale. Qualifying assets are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale. Other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange difference to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

K. Segment Reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") of the Group. The CODM, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments, has been identified as

for the year ended March 31, 2026

the Board of directors. The Group has identified only one segment as reporting segment based on the information reviewed by CODM. The Group operates in one reportable business segment i.e. "Speciality Chemicals".

L. Financial Instruments

A. Recognition initial measurement

Trade receivables and debt securities are initially recognised when they originate. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

B. Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial Assets

Financial Assets: Classification

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at:

- amortised cost or
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets. A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and

- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets: Business model assessment:

The Group makes an assessment of the objective of the business model in which a financial asset is held at a portfolio level because this best reflects the way the business is managed and information is provided to management. The information considered includes:

- The stated policies and objectives for the portfolio and the operation of those policies in practice. These include whether management's strategy focuses on earning contractual interest income, maintaining a particular interest rate profile, matching the duration of the financial assets to the duration of any related liabilities or expected cash outflows or realising cash flows through the sale of the assets;
- how the performance of the portfolio is evaluated and reported to the Group's management.
- the risks that affect the performance of the business model (and the financial assets held within that business model) and how those risks are managed
- how managers of the business are compensated -e.g. whether compensation is based on the fair value of the assets managed or the contractual cash flows collected; and
- the frequency, volume and timing of sales of financial assets in prior periods, the reasons for such sales and expectations about future sales activity.

for the year ended March 31, 2026

Transfers of financial assets to third parties in transactions that do not qualify for derecognition are not considered sales for this purpose, consistent with the Group's continuing recognition of the assets. Financial assets that are held for trading or are managed and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis are measured at FVTPL. The Group recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

Financial assets: Assessment whether contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest:

For the purposes of this assessment, 'principal' is defined as the fair value of the financial asset on initial recognition. 'Interest' is defined as consideration for the time value of money and for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs (e.g. liquidity risk and administrative costs), as well as a profit margin.

In assessing whether the contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest, the Group considers the contractual terms of the instrument. This includes assessing whether the financial asset contains a contractual term that could change the timing or amount of contractual cash flows that it would not meet this condition. In making this assessment, the Group considers:

- contingent events that would change the amount or timing of cash flows;
- terms that may adjust the contractual coupon rate, including variable interest rate features;
- prepayment and extension features; and

- terms that limit the Group's claim to cash flows from specified assets (e.g. non-recourse features).

A prepayment feature is consistent with the solely payments of principal and interest criterion if the prepayment amount substantially represents unpaid amounts of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding, which may include reasonable additional compensation for early termination of the contract. Additionally, for a financial asset acquired at a significant discount or premium to its contractual par amount, a feature that permits or requires prepayment at an amount that substantially represents the contractual par amount plus accrued (but unpaid) contractual interest (which may also include reasonable additional compensation for early termination) is treated as consistent with this criterion if the fair value of the prepayment feature is insignificant at initial recognition.

Financial assets: subsequent measurement and gains and losses:

Financial assets at FVTPL: These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortised cost: These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities: Classification, subsequent measurement and gains and losses:

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as

for the year ended March 31, 2026

held for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses including any interest expense, are recognised in profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss. Any gains or loss on derecognition is also recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

C. Derecognition:

Financial assets

The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership but does not retain control of the financial asset. If the Group enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognized on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognized.

Financial liabilities

The Group derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expired. The Group also derecognises a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flow under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognised in the Consolidated statement of profit and loss.

D. Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the Group currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

E. Equity instruments

Equity instruments issued by the Group are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of an equity instrument. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities and includes no obligation to deliver cash or other financial assets.

F. Financial assets impairment and write off

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether financial assets carried at amortised cost, are credit impaired. A financial asset is 'credit-impaired' when the events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

The Group assessed the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost based on the Group's past history of recovery, credit worthiness of the counter party and existing and future market conditions.

For all financial assets other than trade receivables, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month expected credit loss (ECL) unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. For trade receivables, the Group has applied the simplified approach for recognition of impairment allowance as provided in Ind AS 109 which requires the expected lifetime losses from initial recognition of the receivables.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off when the Group has no reasonable expectations of recovering the financial asset in its entirety or a portion thereof. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event.

M. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized when there is a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expenses relating to a provision is presented in the Statement of Profit and Loss net of any reimbursement. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as finance cost. A provision for onerous contracts is measured at the present value of the lower of the expected cost of terminating the contract and the expected net cost of continuing with the contract. Before a provision is established, the Group recognises any impairment loss on the assets associated with that contract.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but will probably not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation of a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision disclosure is made. A contingent asset is not recognised but disclosed in the financial statements where an inflow of economic benefit is probable.

Commitments includes the amount of purchase order (net of advance) issued to parties for completion of assets. Provisions, contingent assets, contingent liabilities and commitments are reviewed at each balance sheet date.

N. Leases

Group as a lessee

The Group's lease asset classes primarily consist of leases for land. The Group assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Group assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the Group has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and (iii) the Group has the right to direct the use of the asset.

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Group recognizes a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. For these short-term and low value leases, the Group recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Certain lease arrangements includes the options to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. ROU assets and lease liabilities includes these options when it is reasonably certain that they will be exercised.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognized at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset. Right of use assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable.

The lease liability is initially measured at amortized cost at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates in the country of domicile of these leases. Lease liabilities are remeasured with a corresponding adjustment to the related right of use asset if the Group changes its assessment if whether it will exercise an extension or a termination option.

Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

Group as a lessor

Leases under which the Group is a lessor are classified as a finance or operating lease. Lease contracts where all the risks and rewards are substantially transferred to the lessee are classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating lease.

For leases under which the Group is an intermediate lessor, the Group accounts for the head-lease and the sub-lease as two separate contracts. The sub-lease is further classified either as a finance lease or an operating lease by reference to the RoU asset arising from the head-lease.

O. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

P. Earnings per share

i. Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- the profit attributable to owners of the Group

- by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year and excluding treasury shares.

ii. Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares, and
- the weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Q. Business combination

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree if any. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred. At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed if any are recognised at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. However, the following assets and liabilities acquired in a business combination are measured at the basis indicated below:

Deferred tax assets or liabilities, and the assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements, are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Tax and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively. When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognised for noncontrolling interests, and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred (bargain purchase), the Group re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all the assets acquired and all the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognises the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

Business combinations arising from transfers of interests in entities that are under common control are accounted using pooling of interest method. The difference between consideration given and the aggregate historical carrying amounts of assets and liabilities of the acquired entity are recorded in equity.

R. Research and Development expenditure

Expenditure on research is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Expenditure on development which does not meet the criteria for recognition as an intangible asset is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Items of Property, Plant and Equipment and acquired Intangible assets are used for research and development are capitalised and depreciated in accordance with the policies stated for Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible assets.

S. Recent Pronouncements

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs vide notification dated 7 May 2025 and 13 August 2025 notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2025 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025, respectively, which amended certain accounting standards (see below), and are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2025:

- (a) Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements
Clarifications on classification of liabilities as current or non-current, including the impact of loan covenants and rights to defer settlement.
- (b) Supplier Finance Arrangements – Amendments to Ind AS 7 and Ind AS 107
The amendment in Ind AS 7 requires to inform users of financial statements of the existence of supplier finance arrangements and explain the nature of the arrangements, the carrying amount of liabilities and the range of payment due dates. Ind AS 107 has been amended to add supplier finance arrangements as a factor that may cause concentration of liquidity risk. The Company provided new disclosures for liabilities under supplier finance arrangements in note 22.
- (c) International Tax Reform – Pillar Two Model Rules – Amendments to Ind AS 12
The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified amendments to Ind AS 12, Income Taxes, to incorporate the OECD Pillar Two Model Rules. These amendments introduce specific disclosure requirements for entities that may be subject to Pillar Two income tax. Pillar Two legislation has not yet been enacted in India, where the Group is headquartered. Accordingly, no adjustments have been made to these financial statements in respect of

for the year ended March 31, 2026

Pillar Two income taxes. The Group will continue to monitor developments in India and other jurisdictions in which it operates, and will evaluate the impact of such legislation as and when it becomes applicable.

- (d) Lack of Exchangeability – Amendments to Ind AS 21 The amended Ind AS 21 have added requirements to help entities to determine whether a currency is exchangeable into another currency, and the spot exchange rate to use where it is not.

These amendments did not have any material impact on the amounts recognised in prior periods and are not expected to significantly affect the current or future periods.

T. New and amended standards not yet adopted

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time.

Ind AS 1– Presentation of Financial Statements Clarifications on classification of liabilities as current or non-current, basis the timing of waiver granted by the lender on breach of a material provision. Once effective, the Group does not expect this amendment to have a material impact on its operations or financial statements.

The group offsets tax assets and liabilities if and only if it has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority.

Significant management judgement is required in determining provision for income tax, deferred income tax assets and liabilities and recoverability of deferred income tax assets. The recoverability of deferred income tax assets is based on estimates of taxable income by each jurisdiction in which the relevant entity operates and the period over which deferred income tax assets will be recovered.

Given that the Group does not have any intention to dispose investments in subsidiaries in the foreseeable future, deferred tax asset on indexation benefit in relation to such investments has not been recognised.

The Group participates in supplier finance arrangements under which certain suppliers may, at their discretion, receive early payment of amounts due from a finance provider in respect of invoices issued to the Group.

Under these arrangements:

suppliers may elect to receive payment from the finance provider before the original invoice due date;

the finance provider settles the amount due to participating suppliers; and the Group settles the obligation with the finance provider on the agreed due date.

The supplier finance arrangements are entered into to facilitate efficient working capital management and provide suppliers with optional early payment facilities.

The obligations under these arrangements continue to be recognised as trade payables since the nature of the liabilities remains consistent with liabilities arising from the purchase of goods and services.

On November 21, 2025, the Government of India notified four Labour Codes, effective immediately, replacing the existing 29 labour laws. In accordance with Ind AS 19 - Employee benefits, changes to employee benefit plans arising from legislative amendments are treated as plan amendments, requiring immediate recognition of past service cost in the Statement of Profit and Loss. This approach is consistent with the guidance issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. The implementation of the Labour Codes has resulted in an increase of ₹ 0.10 Crore in the provision for defined benefit obligation, which has been recognised as an employee benefit expense in the year ended March 31, 2026. The Group continues to monitor the finalisation of Central and State Rules, as well as Government clarifications on other aspects of the Labour Codes and will incorporate appropriate accounting treatment based on these developments as required.

The Group has formulated Employee Share-based Payment Schemes (ESOP) named “Neogen Chemicals Employee Stock Option Scheme, 2024” during the year ended 2025, as approved by the Board of Directors of the Group dated April 1, 2025 for issuance of stock options to its employees.

Level 2 — Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).;

NOTE 40 : ACCOUNTING CLASSIFICATION AND FAIR VALUES (CONTD.)

- d) The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

The fair value of quoted equity investment and mutual funds are based on price quotations at the reporting date. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments with various counterparties, principally with banks. Foreign exchange forward contracts are valued using valuation techniques, which employs the use of market observable inputs. The model incorporates various inputs including the credit quality of counter parties, foreign exchange spot and forward rates.

Mutual Funds: The fair values of investments in mutual fund units is based on the net asset value ('NAV') as stated by the issuers of these mutual fund units in the published statements as at Balance Sheet date. NAV represents the price at which the issuer will issue further units of mutual fund and the price at which issuers will redeem such units from the investors.

Derivative assets and liabilities: The Company enters into a variety of derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to foreign exchange rate risks, including foreign exchange forward contracts and cross currency swaps. Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting year.

- e) There were no transfers between level 1 and 2 during the year.

NOTE 41 : FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's principal financial liabilities, other than derivatives, comprise loans and borrowings, trade and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Group's operations and to provide guarantees to support its operations. The Group's principal financial assets include loans, trade and other receivables, and cash and cash equivalents that derive directly from its operations. The Group also enters into derivative transactions.

The Group is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's senior management oversees the management of these risks. The Group's senior management is supported by a risk management committee that advises on financial risks and the appropriate financial risk governance framework for the Group. The risk management committee provides assurance to the Group's senior management that the Group's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Group's policies and risk objectives. All derivative activities for risk management purposes are carried out by specialist teams that have the appropriate skills, experience and supervision. It is the Group's policy that no trading in derivatives for speculative purposes may be undertaken. The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, investments and derivative financial instruments.

The sensitivity analyses in the following sections relate to the position as at March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2026.

The analysis excludes the impact of movements in market variables on the carrying values of gratuity and other post-retirement obligations and provisions.

Accompanying notes to Consolidated financial statements

for the year ended March 31, 2026

(₹ in Crore unless otherwise stated)

NOTE 41 : FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (CONTD.)

The following assumptions have been made in calculating the sensitivity analyses:

The sensitivity of the relevant profit or loss item is the effect of the assumed changes in respective market risks. This is based on the financial assets and financial liabilities held at March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's long-term debt and short term debt obligations with floating interest rates.

If the interest rates had been 1% higher / lower and all other variables held constant, impact on the Company's profit for the year ended March 31, 2026 and 31st March, 2025 will not be significant.

Foreign Currency Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in a foreign currency).

The Company uses forward exchange contracts to hedge its currency risk, most with a maturity of less than one year from the reporting date. The Company uses forward exchange contracts to hedge the currency exposure and is therefore not exposed to significant currency risk at the respective reporting dates.

When a derivative is entered into for the purpose of being a hedge, the Company negotiates the terms of those derivatives to match the terms of the hedged exposure. For hedges of forecast transactions the derivatives cover the period of exposure from the point the cash flows of the transactions are forecasted up to the point of settlement of the resulting receivable or payable that is denominated in the foreign currency.

Foreign currency sensitivity

The following table details the Company's sensitivity to a 5% appreciation and depreciation in the ₹ against the relevant foreign currencies net of hedge accounting impact.

The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year-end for a 5% change in foreign currency rates, with all other variables held constant. A positive number below indicates an increase in profit or equity where ₹ strengthens 5% against the relevant currency. For a 5% weakening of ₹ against the relevant currency, there would be a comparable impact on profit or equity, and the balances below would be negative.

NOTE 41 : FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIESES (CONTD.)

Price risk

The Company does not have much exposure to price risk due to annual contracts and pass through mechanism for imports.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions, foreign exchange transactions and other financial instruments.

The entity continuously monitors defaults of customers and other counterparties and incorporates this information into its credit risk controls.

None of the financial instruments of the Company result in material concentrations of credit risk. The company's objective is to seek continual revenue growth while minimising losses incurred due to increased credit risk exposure.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the entity will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset.

The entity's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due. Management monitors rolling forecasts of the entity's liquidity position and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows. The entity takes into account the liquidity of the market in which the entity operated."

As described in Note 22, the Group also participates in a supplier finance arrangement with the principal purpose of facilitating efficient payment processing of supplier invoices and providing the willing suppliers early payment terms compared with the related invoice payment due date. The arrangement allows the Group to centralise payments of trade payables to the bank rather than paying each supplier individually. From the Group's perspective, the arrangement does not significantly extend payment terms beyond the normal terms agreed with other suppliers that are not participating.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT PURSUANT TO SECTION 102 OF THE COMPANIES ACT, 2013:

In accordance with Section 102 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with the rules made thereunder, Secretarial Standards on General Meetings (SS-2) and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "SEBI Listing Regulations").

The following explanatory statement sets out all material facts in respect of Item no. 4 to 5 of the accompanying notice:

ITEM NO. 4: TO AUTHORISE ISSUANCE OF SECURITIES THROUGH PERMISSIBLE MODES OF FUND-RAISING

The Company has been exploring opportunities for its growth, this would require sufficient resources including funds to be available and to be allocated, from time to time. The generation of internal funds may not always be adequate to meet all the requirements of the Company's growth plans. It would be therefore, prudent for the Company to have the requisite enabling approvals in place for meeting the fund requirements for funding the long term growth and expansion of its existing businesses, financing capital expenditure & working capital requirements; repayment of debt; investment in subsidiaries; general corporate purposes; and all such other purposes as may be permitted under the applicable laws. This would also help the Company to take quick and effective action to capitalize on the opportunities as and when available.

The requirement of funds is proposed to be met from both equity and debt from the issuance of appropriate securities as defined in the resolutions and from both domestic and international markets. Prudence would require the funding to be structured with an appropriate mix of equity and debt to meet the objective of optimization of the cost as well as conservative financial management.

The Board of Directors, accordingly, at their meeting held on July 24, 2026 has recommended to the shareholders to give their consent through special resolution to the Board of Directors or any Committee of the Board including the Fund Raising Committee to raise funds and to create, offer, issue and allot such number of equity shares, and/or other securities, or any combination thereof, as permitted under applicable law (all of which are hereinafter referred to as "Securities") by way of qualified institutions placement(s) ("QIP") at a price to be determined as per the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirement) Regulations, as amended (the "SEBI ICDR Regulations") or as per other applicable rules and regulations, for raising of the funds aggregating up to ₹600 crores (Rupees Six Hundred crore only) or its equivalent in any other currency(ies) under section 62 read with section 179 of the Companies Act, 2013, as amended or other applicable laws. While no specific instrument or instruments of Securities has been identified at this stage, the Board may opt for the any combination of the Securities to be issued, issue price, timing and detailed terms and conditions of issuance etc. shall be finalized by the Board, in consultation with lead managers, merchant bankers, advisors and such other authorities and intermediaries, as may be required to be consulted by the Company in due considerations of prevailing market conditions and other relevant factors and in the best interest of the Company. Such issue shall be subject to the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, as amended and rules made there under from time to time, the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company, SEBI ICDR Regulations, SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable laws.

The enabling resolution is proposed to be passed as a special resolution pursuant to Sections 42 and 62(1)(c) of the Companies Act, 2013 which, read with Regulation 41(4) of the SEBI Listing Regulations. The said resolution, if passed, shall have the effect of allowing the Board on behalf of the Company to issue and allot the Securities on pro-rata basis to the existing shareholders or otherwise.

The Resolution further seeks to empower the Board of Directors to undertake a QIP as prescribed by SEBI ICDR Regulations. The Board of Directors may, in their discretion, adopt this mechanism as prescribed under Chapter VI of the SEBI ICDR Regulations for raising funds for the Company, without seeking fresh approval from the shareholders.

The objects of the Issue of Securities

It is proposed to take enabling resolution for issuance of Securities through permissible modes of fund-raising to meet the following objects:

The fund to be used for general corporate purposes, if any, shall not exceed 25% of the funds to be raised through the qualified institutions placement. If the net proceeds are not completely utilized for the purposes stated hereinabove due to factors such as (i) economic and business conditions; (ii) increased competition; (iii) delay in procuring and operationalizing assets; (iv) receiving the necessary approvals; and (v) other commercial considerations, the same would be utilized (in part or full) as may be decided by our Board (including any duly authorized committee thereof), in accordance with applicable law. Pending utilization of the proceeds from the Issue, the Company shall invest such proceeds in money market instruments including money market mutual funds, deposits in scheduled commercial banks or any other investment as permitted under the applicable laws.

In case, it is difficult to quantify the exact amount of fund to be used from the proceeds of the Issue, a broad range of amount may be provided by the Company in the offer document provided that the broad range shall be a realistic estimation and range gap shall not exceed +/- 10% of the amount specified for that object of the Issue in terms of NSE notice No. NSE/CML/2022/56 and BSE notice No. 20221213-47 each dated December 13, 2022, as the objects are based on management estimates and other commercial and technical factors. Accordingly, the same is dependent on a variety of factors such as financial, market and sectoral conditions, business performance and strategy, competition and other external factors, which may not be within the control of the Company and may result in modifications to the proposed schedule for utilisation of the Net Proceeds at the discretion of the Board and/or Committee thereof, subject to compliance with applicable laws.

The proceeds of the Issue will enable the Company to strengthen its balance sheet, support its growth initiatives and improve financial flexibility. The exact amount to be utilized towards each of the aforesaid purposes will be determined by the Board of Directors of the Company or committee (the "Board") in accordance with the applicable laws and based on the business requirements of the Company from time to time.
